WELCOME BACK

• For the first time since 1956, Carolina's head coach is a former letterwinner. John Bunting, a ferocious linebacker who earned All-ACC and honorable mention All-America honors in 1971, played 11 years in the NFL and was an NFL assistant coach for eight years. He was named Carolina's 32nd head coach on December 11, 2000.

THE SPICE OF LIFE

• All-America Julius Peppers and record-setting quarterback Ronald Curry will spice things up this fall for the Tar Heels. Peppers, the nation's sack leader in 2000, is a preseason candidate for the Lombardi and Nagurski Awards. Curry, who established the single-season school record for total offense last year, is on pace to shatter several Carolina career records.

TOP COMPETITION

- Carolina plays one of the most challenging schedules in the nation this season with non-conference games against Oklahoma, Texas, East Carolina and SMU.
- In future years, the Tar Heels face top competition with games against Notre Dame, Colorado, Wisconsin, Texas, Virginia Tech, Syracuse, Michigan and Louisville.

LINEBACKER LEGACY

• Over the past 32 seasons, Carolina linebackers have been selected all-conference 32 different times. Head Coach John Bunting (1971) was one of those selections. This year, seniors Merceda Perry and Quincy Monk look to continue the Tar Heels' linebacker legacy.

ALL-AMERICAS

- Carolina has produced at least one first-team All-America every year since 1995, including 2000 selection Julius Peppers.
- Peppers is a preseason first-team All-America in 2001.
- Dre' Bly, Carolina's all-time interception leader, is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. He was a consensus All-America in 1996 and 1997.

WINNING SEASONS

• Carolina has posted a winning record in 10 of the last 11 seasons. Last year, Carolina became just one of 21 schools in NCAA history to win 600 games. Carolina's all-time record is 600-425-54.

NFL AND CAROLINA

- Carolina is the only ACC school to have at least one player selected in every NFL Draft since 1971.
- A total of 35 former Tar Heels are currently in the NFL (as of July 1, 2001); 71 percent of Tar Heel players on NFL rosters have graduated from UNC (compared to the NFL average of 47 percent).

MEDIA INFORMATION

ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

Football media services are coordinated by Kevin Best, Assistant Communications Director, and David Tinson, Assistant Communications Director. Please direct interview, information and photo requests to either Best or Tinson.

The University of North Carolina Athletic Communications Office is located on the main level of the Dean E. Smith Center, less than one mile from Kenan Stadium. Parking is available in the lot behind Koury Natatorium; enter off Skipper Bowles Drive. The office is on Level 2 directly across from the men's basketball office.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for working press credentials at Carolina home football games should be made in writing on station/newspaper/magazine letterhead to Director of Communications Steve Kirschner. The mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515. Requests may be sent via fax (919-962-0612) or e-mail (skirschner@unca.unc.edu), but all requests should be sent so they reach the Athletic Communications Office at least one week prior to the game.

Because of the demand for credentials, media agencies that cover Carolina and the visiting school on a regular basis will receive top priority. Other credentials will be issued on the basis of circulation and the availability of space.

The University of North Carolina reserves the right to deny credential requests to any agency for reasons deemed not to be in the school's best interests. The University does not discriminate based on age, gender, orientation, race or religion.

Credentials will be mailed if possible. Otherwise, they may be picked up before 5 p.m. on Friday at the Athletic Communications Office. Those credentials not picked up by 5 p.m. on Friday will be left for Saturday pickup at Kenan Stadium Will Call at Gate Six (6), directly beneath the press box. Will Call opens two hours prior to kickoff.

INTERVIEWS WITH HEAD COACH
JOHN BUNTING

John Bunting will meet with the media at 11 a.m. each Tuesday prior to a game. Bunting will meet with the print media for approximately 30-40 minutes and then meet with the TV media for approximately 15 minutes. Out-of-town media may access the print portion of the press conference by phone. You can listen and ask questions, time permitting, by using this service. Contact Kevin Best for the phone number.

Bunting will conduct TV interviews inside the Stadium Club on the second floor of the Football Center. The print media portion of the press conference will be in the John Swofford Auditorium on the second floor of the Football Center.

Interviews with Bunting at other times during the week can be set up by contacting Kevin Best or Maria Smith, Bunting's secretary in the football office. If he is unavailable at the time of your call, he will make every effort to return the call as soon as possible. Staff meetings are conducted during the morning. Smith's number is (919) 962-9144.

Bunting is also available on the weekly ACC Teleconference on Wednesdays at 11:50 a.m. Contact Brian Morrison at the ACC or Best for the phone number.

Bunting will also be available via teleconference for 15 minutes on Sundays (day after games only) at 5 p.m. Contact Best for the number.

Bunting will also be available after practice on the field on Wednesday and Thursday for 10 minutes.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews should be arranged through Best or Tinson. Players have been instructed not to grant an interview request unless they have been set up in this manner. The interviews will generally be conducted at the conclusion of practice at the practice field or Football Center. All interviews are to be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Each week at least one player will be made available at the Tuesday press conference.

Telephone interviews are conducted at the player's convenience. Usually they are handled by players returning calls immediately after practice (between approximately 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.). No home numbers for players will be given out and players have been told not to accept calls from anyone asking football-related questions.

We ask, for the safety of others, that equipment is not left unattended on the sidelines. If you are shooting with a tripod, please keep a safe distance from the playing field.

GAMEDAY PARKING

Press parking at Kenan Stadium is available on an extremely limited basis. Requests for parking passes should be made well in advance to Steve Kirschner.

Parking is located in the lot on the corner of Gravelly Drive and Manning Drive or the parking deck diagonally across the street from that lot. Either location is a five-minute walk from the press box and there are occasional shuttles.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following a brief cooling-off period, requested UNC players will head directly to the interview area in the Frank H. Kenan Football Center Hall of Honor (first floor, adjacent to weight room) for a 20-25 minute interview period. The Tar Heels' locker room is closed. Representatives from the Communications Office will walk through the press box midway through the fourth quarter to take player requests from the media.

Head coach John Bunting will conduct a short interview with Woody Durham for the Tar Heel Sports Network's live broadcast while the players are in the interview area. Approximately 15 minutes after the players have begun their interview period, Bunting will begin his postgame press conference in the Hall of Honor.

After night games, Bunting and the players will be available simultaneously due to deadline demands. Quotes will be gathered from both Bunting and several players for distribution in the press box. Away game procedures will vary, depending on available facilities.

Please note: Bunting is contractually obligated to do a short postgame interview with the Tar Heel Sports Radio Network. After night games, great care will be taken to get Bunting to the general media as quickly as possible. We understand everyone has deadline pressures after late games and will do our best to provide access to Bunting as quickly as possible.

PHONES

The Department of Athletics furnishes approximately 10 telephones along press row for writers to file stories. All long distance calls must be by credit card, collect or billed to a third number. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Southern Bell at least two weeks prior to the game. If you are calling from within the 919 area code, dial 780-2800. However, if you are calling from outside the 919 area code, then you must dial 1-800-919-2800.

Note: The on-campus building number for the press box at Kenan Stadium, for which you will be asked, is #519. List Steve Kirschner as the stadium contact for placing the phone.

We have two fax machines available for media use. Media should make a representative of the Athletic Communications Office aware of their fax needs prior to the end of the game.

2001 CAROLINA FOOTBALL

Please do not show up and wait for players unannounced on campus, at players' housing or the Football Center. The players have been instructed to politely decline the request and refer the person to the Communications Office.

Players may do taped radio interviews but will not be available for live call-in radio shows.

Note: Due to the overwhelming number of all-sports radio talk stations, players will generally not be available to appear on these shows. Hometown stations, stations in that week's opponent's market or national shows may be accommodated. Internet sites requesting interviews must be legitimate media sites and interviews will be granted at the discretion of the Communications Office.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

Subject to change, Carolina will practice each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 4 p.m. on the practice fields located directly across the street from the baseball stadium and adjacent to the UNC School of Law.

Except for the final 30 minutes, Tuesday practices are open to the media.

On Wednesdays and Thursdays, please wait outside the practice field until the gate is opened before entering the fields. Players and coaches are available to meet with the media after practice on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Once the team goes into pads in the fall, photographers (still and video) will be allowed to shoot warm-ups, stretching and the first 30 minutes of work. Team meetings after practice are private and are not to be taped.

Once the school year starts, practice generally begins with stretching exercises at 3:45 p.m. and the first period of drills at approximately 4 p.m. The team, in general, does only light running and stretching on Sunday and does not practice on Monday, except after an open date.

The newsletter, the only publication on the market dealing exclusively with Carolina football, will be published 16 times during the 2001-02 subscription cycle and is available by paid subscription or at no charge on the Internet. Individual issues will follow each of 12 regular-season games. In addition, there will be preseason, postseason, recruiting and spring practice issues.

Subscriptions are $30 each and are available by sending check or money order to Extra Points Publishing, 101-A Aberdeen St., Chapel Hill, NC 27516, or calling 919-933-2082. The newsletter is available each Monday during football season at www.TarHeelBlue.com.

Pace is also the author of an informative series of biographical features on new Tar Heel Coach John Bunting, which appeared during the spring of 2001 on TarHeelBlue.com. The contents are part of a new book published in August entitled, "Born and Bred: John Bunting Takes Dead Aim On His Dream Job At Carolina."

Follow NC-54 West for approximately three miles. Exit right onto Route 15-501 South/54 West and follow for one mile. Turn right at the traffic light onto Manning Drive. Go up the hill, stay straight through the intersection. The next traffic light will be at the intersection of Manning Drive and Gravelly Drive. Press parking is either in the Craige Deck on the left-hand side of the street just before the light or in the lot at the corner of Manning and Gravelly.

• From North of Chapel Hill: Take I-85 South to Durham. I-85 will split at exit 174. The right-hand lane takes you to I-40 and Greensboro. Stay in the left-hand lane and take exit 174 (a left-hand exit) for 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass until you turn right onto Manning Drive. See above.

• From Charlotte and West of Chapel Hill: Take I-85 North to I-40 East. 85 and 40 split in Hillsborough, just west of Chapel Hill. Take I-40 to exit 270 and exit onto Route 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass when it splits into 15-501 and Franklin Street. Follow 15-501 to Manning Drive and turn right. See above.

• From South of Chapel Hill: Take I-77 North to I-85 and then follow the same directions as from Charlotte. Or take I-95 North to I-40 West. 95 and 40 converge just north of Benson, N.C. Then take I-40 all the way to Chapel Hill and follow the directions from the airport. See above.

DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS STATEMENT ON GAMBLING

The mission of the Department of Athletics is to sponsor a broad-based athletic program that provides educational and athletic opportunities for young men and women to grow and develop. In keeping with the Department's mission and the University's commitment to educational interests, competitive athletic programs, and integrity in all areas, the Department of Athletics strongly condemns the influence of gambling on intercollegiate athletics.

Student gambling is a significant issue on college campuses. Student-athlete involvement in gambling has produced many tragic situations, both for student-athletes and the universities they represent. Student-athletes often compete in contests that generate interest from those involved in gambling and, possibly, organized crime. If given the opportunity, those interests will not hesitate to exploit the position student-athletes hold on college campuses. As such, the University of North Carolina is firmly opposed to all forms of gambling and bribery related to intercollegiate athletics.

To fulfill its educational obligation, the Department provides a gambling education program to all its student-athletes and departmental staff members. This statement and the educational program are reflections of the Department's commitment to keeping intercollegiate athletics free from the influences of gambling and its related activities.

The Department requires its staff members and student-athletes to adhere to NCAA, state and federal laws regarding gambling. In the interest of fair competition and the growth and development of student-athletes, the Department strongly urges its friends and supporters to refrain from gambling/betting on contests involving collegiate competition and to abide by state and federal laws.

PREVIEWING THE TAR HEELS

Intensity (n.) – Intense work or thought that requires a lot of effort. If a person is intense, they are very forceful and have strong emotions and opinions.

In a poll of football players at North Carolina, new head coach John Bunting was almost universally described by one word – “intense.” Other phrases that were commonly mentioned included, “winning attitude,” “energetic,” and “determined.” In just a few short weeks on the job, Bunting, a former Tar Heel letterwinner and all-conference linebacker in 1971, quickly captured the attention of his players. The following are just a sample of the responses.

“This man is serious about winning. He’s not talking about five years from now, he means right now.”

– Kory Bailey, Sr., WR

“He screams intensity just by his presence.”

– Richard Moore, Jr., TE

“He’s straight to the point.”

– Ronald Curry, Sr., QB

“The first thing I thought when I met him was that he is going to bring intensity back to North Carolina.”

– Quincy Monk, Sr., LB

“He’s an intense man who is going to get this team motivated.”

– David McIntosh, Jr., FS

“He is very intense, very passionate and a very good choice for our program.”

– Isaac Morford, Jr., C

The “intensity” factor Bunting brings to Carolina may not translate into more victories during the 2001 season, but it is a characteristic the Tar Heels have lacked in the last few years, according to many critics.

Since putting together back-to-back 10-win seasons in 1996 and 1997, the Tar Heels have been to just one bowl game. They have missed out on post-season play the past two seasons and have failed to produce at least eight wins since 1997. To reverse those trends, Bunting and the Tar Heels will have to conquer a daunting schedule that includes road games at Oklahoma, Texas, Clemson and Georgia Tech – teams all ranked in the preseason Top 25.

“We know we have a challenge ahead, but that’s what life is about, facing challenges,” says Bunting. “To be the best we can be, we have to face the best teams in the country. I jumped at the chance to play Oklahoma because they are the best. They are the defending national champions and I want our guys to know what it is like to play the best.”

Bunting is not going into battle this fall without some weapons, however. Anchoring a defense that recorded a school-record 53 sacks in 2000 is Julius Peppers, a 6-6, 270-pound defensive end who was also a key contributor to the Tar Heel basketball team over the past two years. Peppers is a preseason All-America by nearly every publication and should contend for the Lombardi (Best Interior Lineman) and Nagurski (Best Overall Defensive Player) Awards.

Carolina returns five of its top seven wide receivers, including Sam Aiken (above), who had 29 receptions for 410 yards and three touchdowns last year.

In addition to Peppers, Carolina returns five other starters on defense, including under-rated senior defensive tackle Ryan Sims, fifth-year linebacker Quincy Monk, free safety DeFonte Coleman and cornerbacks Michael Waddell and Errol Hood.

On offense, Carolina also returns six starters, including record-setting quarterback Ronald Curry, tailback Brandon Russell, offensive linemen Adam Metts and Isaac Morford, and wide receivers Bosley Allen and Kory Bailey. Curry, another two-sport standout at Carolina, could have a breakout season after participating in nearly all of the team’s spring football workouts for the first time in his career.

Jeff Reed, a second-team All-ACC place-kicker in 2000, and Allen, one of the league’s best punt return men, are special teams standouts. The Tar Heels are still searching for consistency on kick returns and at punting, where Blake Ferguson and John Lafferty shared the role last season.

That said, the most attention this season will fall on the sidelines where Bunting will stroll for the first time since he helped lead Carolina to an ACC championship as a linebacker in 1971.

“I don’t know how many games we are going to win this season,” says Bunting. “But we will play hard, we will be intense and we will play for 60 minutes. I want Carolina fans to be proud of this team.”

QUARTERBACK

Ronald Curry, a senior, is one of the most electrifying athletes to ever grace Kenan Stadium. He has the unique ability to escape pass rushers, dash-and-dart for 60-yards in the open field or fling the football over 70 yards in the air. For the last three years, Carolina opponents and fans have marveled at his talents. Now, in his final season, Curry has the chance to lift Carolina back up among the ACC’s elite programs after finally finishing a full season as the Tar Heels’ top signal-caller.

Last year, Curry scrambled, ran and threw his way to a single-season school-record 2,676 total yards of offense, including 2,325 passing yards, the third-best effort in UNC history. He enters the 2001 campaign needing 520 total offense yards and 702 passing yards to move past school career record-holder Jason Stanicek, who is first in both categories.

“I think Ronald is going to have a tremendous year,” says Bunting. “I think he’s got tremendous ability, but we have to define it better for him. We’re going to try to utilize all of his talents, including running, not just scrambling.”

To reach those numbers – and for Carolina to achieve any degree of success – Curry must receive better protection from the offensive line and the Tar Heels must develop a consistent running game.

“The first question I asked every offensive coordinator before I hired Gary Tranquill was ‘How are you going to protect the quarterback,’” says Bunting. “I think last year Ronald was in some situations that weren’t fair to him. There are a number of reasons that he was getting hit so many times. We’ve got to protect the quarterback better and that comes from a combination of better blocking, better running and better decision-making.”

Junior Luke Huard has the most experience of the remaining Tar Heel quarterbacks, playing seven games and starting four in 1999. That season, Huard passed for 256 yards passing and one touchdown.

Darian Durant and Aaron Leak, two redshirt freshmen who spent last season learning the position, are Carolina’s next two options.

The Tar Heels signed two quarterbacks in 2001 – Matt Baker of Michigan and Terrance Highsmith of New Jersey. Harry Lewis, a freshman from Maysville, Ky., is expected to contribute at wide receiver, but could also see time at quarterback.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Carolina’s offensive line is anchored by All-ACC candidate Adam Metts, a 6-4, 275-pound center who started every game last year. Although considered undersized by many observers, Metts makes the most of his ability and is described by Bunting as one of the toughest members of the team. Last year, he earned the UNC coaches’ offensive lineman of the week award on three different occasions.

Surrounding Metts will be a quartet of new starters. Isaac Morford, who started every game last season at right guard, has moved to center behind Metts. Flanking Metts will be Jupiter Wilson at left guard and either David Stevenson or Marcus Wilson at right guard. Wilson saw extensive playing time last year at Virginia, but Stevenson and Wilson are inexperienced. Wilson moved to guard from the center position this spring.

At right tackle, Jeb Terry, a converted defensive lineman who is coming off a redshirt season, should be the starter. He will be pushed by Skip Seagraves and Justin Barton, both redshirt freshmen. Greg Woofert will man the left tackle position, guarding Curry's blind side. Woofert received substantial playing time last year and has worked hard in the offseason to build up his size. Willie McNeill, another redshirt freshman, will back-up Woofert.

"The offensive line is an area of concern," says Bunting. "We don't have much experience at all, but Adam Metts is a good center and could be one of our best leaders on offense."

RUNNING BACKS

Another key element in protecting Curry is Carolina's running game. For the past three years, a true freshman has led the team in rushing. That streak is not likely to continue this season as the Tar Heels return their top three tailbacks in sophomores Willie Parker, Andre' Williams and Brandon Russell.

Parker, slated to start last year's opener against Tulsa, suffered a back injury during the preseason and did not regain the starting position until the ninth game of the year. Parker ran well late in the season, however, including a 158-yard rushing effort in a 13-10 win over Maryland.

While Parker is a smaller, speedier and more elusive back, Williams is a bigger, bruising back, who still has good speed. Williams played in all 11 games last year and finished with 165 yards on 39 carries, an average of 4.2 yards per carry. Williams had an outstanding spring and should challenge for the starting position in the opener against Oklahoma.

Russell, Carolina's leading ground gainer last year with 508 yards, did not participate in spring drills because he also plays for the Carolina baseball team. Last year, Russell became the first Tar Heel freshman to start the season at tailback since Charlie Justice in 1946.

Jacque Lewis, a highly-regarded tailback from Elizabeth City, N.C., was the only running back signed by the Tar Heels for the 2001 season.

"We've got some guys that run the ball, but they've got to learn the system," says Bunting. "I thought both Parker and Williams did a good job in the spring and both showed the ability to break open long plays. I want guys who run hard and for the most part, both accomplished that."

At fullback, Carolina must replace Anthony Saunders, a 10-game starter who was fourth on the team in rushing a year ago, but was deemed medically unable to play for the 2001 season because of a shoulder injury. James Faison, a walk-on from Clinton, N.C., and the former high school backfield mate of Parker, is Carolina's only returning fullback with any experience. Faison started last year against Pittsburgh and saw extensive playing time at Virginia. He enters fall camp as the starter, but will be pushed by red-shirt freshman Madison Hedgecock and converted linebacker Kitwana Jones.

Jones could eventually become a dominating force out of the backfield. An explosive blocker, Jones played mostly on special teams last season. He must improve his ability to catch the ball out of the backfield.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Carolina has one of the best collections of wide receivers in the ACC. Led by senior Kory Bailey and junior Bosley Allen, the Tar Heel wideouts have the ability to make big plays all over the field.

Bailey, who is ninth all-time at Carolina in receiving, needs just five catches to reach 100 for his career, a mark reached just eight times in Carolina history. Bailey has caught a pass in 32 of 33 career regular-season games and has 95 career receptions for 1,331 yards and eight touchdowns. Last season, he had 32 receptions for 550 yards and two touchdowns, including a 129-yard performance against Clemson.

Allen, one of the ACC's most dazzling players, led Carolina last year with 40 catches for 634 yards and four touchdowns. He averaged 57.6 yards per game 15.9 yards per catch and had five catches over 40 yards.

Junior Sam Aiken, who had 29 catches for 400 yards and three touchdowns last season, is the Tar Heels' most reliable threat over the middle.

Those three receivers – Allen, Bailey and Aiken combined to catch 101 passes for 1,584 yards and nine touchdowns last year.

Sophomore Isaiah Robinson and junior Chesley Borders provide excellent depth and have been used in the past in key situations.

"With the talent we have at quarterback and wide receiver, we've got to utilize that as much as possible," says Bunting. "Allen can turnaround a game in a hurry both as a receiver and a return man."

TIGHT END

Unquestionably, the biggest hole to fill this year is at tight end, where the Tar Heels lost seniors Alge Crumpler and Dauntae' Finger to the NFL Draft.

Filling the void are senior Doug Brown and junior Zach Hilton, neither of whom has a college reception. Both were impressive in spring camp and Brown is perhaps the better blocker. Carolina signed Brian Chacos in 2001 and he is expected to compete for the job in fall camp. Another potential tight end candidate is Kentucky transfer Bobby Blizzard. Blizzard's status was not available at press time.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Julius Peppers, a first-team All-America as a sophomore, returns to anchor a defensive line that includes veterans Ryan Sims and Joey Evans. Last year, that trio combined to make 29 sacks, more than three other ACC teams had in 2000. Peppers led the nation with 15 sacks, while Evans was seventh in the ACC with eight and Sims was second among ACC defensive tackles with six. Peppers, who also established a single-season school record with 24 tackles for loss, did some of his best work on the road, recording 13 of his sacks in away games.

Sims, 6-4, 291-pound defensive tackle, has started every game the last two years and is vital to Carolina's ability to stop the run. Last season, he had 52 tackles, including nine tackles for loss.

Evans, a 6-5, 256-pound fifth-year senior, is blossoming as a standout player. He did not start as a junior, but finished with 38 tackles, including 11 tackles for loss. He came on strong at the end of last year with four sacks in the last three games.

Senior Anthony Perkins, who was slated to start alongside Sims at the other tackle position this season, suffered a knee injury in the spring and is expected to miss the entire regular season. Will Chapman, a 6-4, 271-pound sophomore, will take over the starting position. Chapman, a former walk-on, received a scholarship in the spring, and has made the most of his opportunity. He saw extensive playing time last year and had 31 tackles, eight tackles for loss and 2.5 sacks.

Junior Eric Davis and sophomore Issac Mooring are the Tar Heels' top backups at tackle and end, respectively. Redshirt freshmen Jernicus Banks and Jonas Seawright will also see time in backup roles.

"We have some players on the defensive line that have a lot of experience," Bunting says. "Now, we have to develop a little more depth and get our young guys ready to play."

LINEBACKERS

An area of concern for the Tar Heels is linebacker, where UNC must replace two-time All-ACC selection Brandon Spoon and three-year starter Sedrick Hodge. Both were selected in the NFL Draft last April. However, Carolina will be bolstered by the return of fifth-year senior Merceda Perry, who broke his ankle in the second game of the season a year ago and received a medical red-shirt. One of Carolina's standout linebackers in 1999, Perry was limited in practice time in the spring. However, he is expected to be at full strength this fall.

David Thornton, a 6-2, 222-pound senior from Goldsboro, N.C., will push Perry for playing time at outside linebacker.

When Perry went down, Quincy Monk stepped into the starting position at outside linebacker. Monk, now a fifth-year senior from Jacksonville, N.C., emerged as one of the best tacklers on the team, finishing fourth on the squad with 76 tackles.

Robert Harris enters fall camp as the starting middle linebacker. Harris, a former walk-on, is a physical player who will have an opportunity to make a name for himself this season.

Red-shirt freshmen Clarence Gaddy and Devllen Bullard will compete for playing time as backups, along with senior walk-on Sean Williams.

SECONDARY

Three of Carolina's starters return in the secondary and a fourth player with extensive experience.

Carolina has two of the most experienced cornerbacks in the ACC in senior Errol Hood and junior Michael Waddell. They tied for the team lead last season with 12 pass break ups.

Hood has started every game over the last two years and had 54 tackles and two interceptions in 2000.

Waddell is one of the fastest players on the team and should be improved after starting every game last season.

At strong safety, Billy-Dee Greenwood had an outstanding spring and regained a starting position that he had lost last year. Greenwood registered 118 tackles as a sophomore in 1999 – the most ever by a UNC defensive back – and started the first three games of the 2000 season before giving way to DeFonte Coleman.

Coleman, a 6-1, 193-pound junior from Kinston, N.C., will battle for playing time behind Reid at free safety. Coleman was injured much of spring practice and did not compete at full speed.

Dexter Reid, one of the hardest-hitting players on the team, has the talent to be an outstanding safety.

Kevin Knight and Derrick Johnson should back up the cornerback positions.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Jeff Reed, a second-team All-ACC performer last season, is back to handle the place-kicking duties. A former walk-on, Reed seized the starting position last fall and never relinquished it, booting 16 field goals in 20 attempts and converting 30 consecutive extra point attempts.

Blake Ferguson and John Lafferty split the punting duties last season, but Ferguson enters the fall as the starter. Last season, Ferguson punted 40 times for a 35.9-yard average and Lafferty punted 20 times for a 35.4 average.

Returning punts and kickoffs this season will be Bosley Allen, who ranked as the ACC's No. 2 punt return specialist last season. He finished 2000 with a school record 421 punt return yards and tied the ACC record with two punt returns for touchdowns.

Kevin Knight, Sam Aiken and Kory Bailey will also return kicks.

"We must have success on special teams," says Bunting, who made that a key element in spring practice. "It is such an integral part of the game because so many games are decided by special team execution."

NOTING THE TAR HEELS

SCHEDULE TO TEST TAR HEELS

Carolina opens with three consecutive road games for the first time since 1893 and will open the year against the defending national champion for the first time ever. In 1893, the Tar Heels opened with a 44-0 rout of Washington & Lee, followed by consecutive losses at VMI and Trinity.

Over 100 years later, 109 to be exact, Carolina faces defending national champion Oklahoma in Norman in the Hispanic College Fund Classic on August 25, a game John Bunting added to the schedule after he was hired.

The following week, Carolina will open its ACC schedule at Maryland and then travel a week later to Austin to face Texas, coached by former Tar Heel coach Mack Brown.

In addition to those first three road games, the Tar Heels also make trips to Clemson and Georgia Tech, both ranked in most preseason Top 25 polls, and archrival NC State.

Carolina will not return home to Kenan Stadium until Sept. 8 against SMU. The Tar Heels' home schedule also includes Florida State, East Carolina, Virginia, Wake Forest and Duke.

This is the first time since 1981 and just the ninth time overall that Carolina has played East Carolina.

Eight of the first 10 Carolina opponents were in bowl games last year, including Oklahoma (Orange), Texas (Holliday), Florida State (Orange), NC State (Micronp.com), East Carolina (GalleryFurniture.com), Virginia (Oahu), Clemson (Gator) and Georgia Tech (Peach). Carolina plays more games against teams that were in bowls last season than any other ACC school.

WINNING STREAK

Carolina enters the 2001 season with the ACC's longest winning streak at three games. The Tar Heels closed out the 2000 season with wins over Pittsburgh, Maryland and Duke. In the 2001 season opener, Carolina faces an Oklahoma squad that has the nation's longest winning streak of 13 games.

THURSDAY GAMES

Carolina will play its fourth-ever ESPN Thursday night game this season on Nov. 1 at Georgia Tech at 7:30 p.m. Carolina is undefeated (3-0) in ESPN Thursday night games. In 1995, UNC won at Louisville, 17-10. In 1997, Carolina won at Georgia Tech, 16-13. In 1998, Carolina defeated NC State in Charlotte, 10-6.

BACK IN TAR HEEL HANDS

For the first time since 1956, Carolina will be coached by a former letterwinner. John Bunting, a 1972 North Carolina graduate, was named the Tar Heels' 32nd head coach on December 11, 2000. He brings nearly 20 years of NFL experience both as a player and an assistant coach to the Tar Heel sideline. In addition to his NFL background, Bunting was the head coach at Rowan University in Glassboro, N.J., for five years before moving on to the professional ranks. The last Tar Heel letterwinner to be head football coach was Jim Tatum in 1956.

Carolina was one of 25 Division I-A schools to make a coaching change in the offseason. Four ACC schools, including Wake Forest, Virginia and Maryland hired a new head coach for 2001.

UNC & FIRST-YEAR HEAD COACHES

John Bunting is only the fifth North Carolina head football coach since 1967. Bill Dooley, Bunting's coach at Carolina, led the Tar Heels from 1967-77; Dick Crum guided the team from 1978-87; Mack Brown held the top position from 1988-97; and Carl Torbush was head coach from 1998-2000.

The best first-year record for any coach at North Carolina was Carl Snavely's 7-1-1 campaign in 1934. Since Carolina has been a member of the ACC (since 1953), no Carolina coach has won more than seven games in his first year and only one (Carl Torbush) had a winning record. The three winningest coaches in UNC history (Dooley, Crum and Brown) all started with losing seasons. Dooley was 2-8 in 1967, Crum was 5-6 in 1978 and Brown was 1-10 in 1988.

SACK ATTACK - PART II

A year after leading the ACC with 53 sacks, Carolina is poised to repeat as the conference's sack champions. Julius Peppers (15 sacks), Joey Evans (8) and Ryan Sims (6) all return to anchor the defensive line. Evans will start this season at defensive end after playing a backup role a year ago. Last year's other starting defensive tackle, Athony Perkins, suffered a knee injury in spring practice and is expected to miss the entire regular season. Will Chapman, a reserve last year who had 2.5 sacks, will step into the starting role.

UNC SACK RECORD UNDER ATTACK

Junior defensive end Julius Peppers has 21 career sacks and needs 12 to break the Carolina career record of 32.5 held by Greg Ellis (1994-97). Marcus Jones (1993-96) is second all-time at Carolina with 24 sacks and William Fuller is third with 20. Peppers, who ranks fourth all-time at UNC, had six sacks as a freshman and 15 as a sophomore.

ASSISTANT COACHES WITH TAR HEEL TIES

Three members of the Tar Heel staff are graduates of the University of North Carolina. In addition to head coach John Bunting (UNC '72), assistant head coach James Webster (UNC '72) and assistant coach Rod Broadway (UNC '77) also graduated from Carolina. The last time at least three members of the coaching staff were Carolina graduates was in 1966. That year, Emmett Cheek (UNC '48), Fred Mueller (UNC '52), George Barclay (UNC '34), George Boutselis (UNC '65) and Chris Carpenter (UNC '52) were all a part of Jim Hickey's staff.

TAR HEELS RETURN TOP PERFORMERS

Carolina returns four of its top five rushers from last season, the three top receivers (and five of the top seven), seven of the top nine tacklers and 10 players who scored all but 24 of UNC's 269 points a year ago.

Six starters return on each side of the ball. On defense, Carolina returns linemen Julius Peppers and Ryan Sims, linebacker Quincy Monk and defensive backs Errol Hood, Michael Waddell and DeFonte Coleman. In addition, Merceda Perry, a starter in 1999, is back after missing the 2000 season with a broken ankle. On offense, Carolina returns quarterback Ronald Curry, tailback Brandon Russell, offensive linemen Adam Metts and Isaac Morford and wide receivers Kory Bailey and Bosley Allen.

CURRY CLOSES IN ON CAROLINA CAREER MARKS

Ronald Curry, who established a single-season school record last year with 2,676 total yards of offense, is on pace to break several career marks. Among the records he is closing in on include:

Career Record	Curry's Rank	Record Holder
Total Offense	2nd, 4978 yards	Jason Stanicek, 5497 yards
Pass Completions	6th, 283 comp.	Jason Stanicek, 372 comp.
Passing Yards	3rd, 3982 yards	Jason Stanicek, 4683 yards
Touchdown Passes	8th, 20 TDs	Chris Keldorf, 35 TDs
Rush Yards by QB	3rd, 996 yards	Jim Lalanne, 1160 yards
Rush TDs by QB	2nd, 10 TDs	Ray Farris, Danny Talbott, 12 TDs

KENAN STADIUM NOW IN ITS 75TH SEASON

The 2001 campaign marks the 75th season of Kenan Stadium, which opened in 1927. The Sporting News ranks Kenan Stadium as the third-best college venue in the ACC behind Clemson's Memorial Stadium and Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd Stadium. Carolina's all-time record at Kenan Stadium is 235-141-16 (.620).

BAILEY MOVES UP THE CHARTS

Senior wide receiver Kory Bailey is ninth all-time at Carolina with 95 receptions and needs just five catches to become the eighth player in UNC history to attain 100 career catches. Bailey set a UNC freshman record with 38 receptions in 1998 and has made at least one catch in 32 of 33 regular-season games. He has a chance to become only the third player in UNC history to record four seasons with at least 25 catches.

Bailey ranks 12th at Carolina with 1,331 career receiving yards. Na Brown is the school record-holder with 2,086 yards.

Jeff Reed • PK

LOU GROZA CANDIDATE JEFF REED

Jeff Reed, a former walk-on, enters the 2001 season as a strong candidate for the Lou Groza Award, which is given annually to the best collegiate kicker. Last season, Reed led the ACC in field goals (16) and field goal percentage (.800), earned second-team All-ACC honors and was one of 20 semifinalists for the Groza Award. He also made 30 consecutive extra points last season and led the Tar Heels in scoring with 78 points.

Reed has not missed a field goal inside 47 yards and his 48-yarder last season against Marshall equaled the 11th-longest field goal in UNC history.

IN THE PRESEASON RANKINGS

While several Carolina players are deserving of recognition, some have already received notice from many of the preseason football publications. Julius Peppers has been named a preseason All-America by Playboy, Lindy's, The Sporting News and Athlon. Lindy's ranks Peppers as the country's No. 1 defensive end, while The Sporting News ranks Peppers No. 2.

The Sporting News ranks Jeff Reed as the nation's eighth-best place-kicker, Ryan Sims as the 18th-best defensive tackle and Errol Hood as the 19th-best cornerback.

Bosley Allen is ranked as the 10th-best all-purpose player by Lindy's.

30-YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF 1971 ACC TITLE TEAM

Thirty years ago, John Bunting helped lead North Carolina to an ACC title, compiling a 9-3 record and advancing to face Georgia in the 1971 Gator Bowl. Thirty years later, Bunting will try to lead the Tar Heels to an ACC title as head coach. Assistant head coach James Webster was also a member of that 1971 squad.

Bunting and Webster were featured on the 1971 North Carolina media guide along with Lewis Jolley, Paul Miller and head coach Bill Dooley.

The Bill Dooley Era will be honored in a special ceremony at the East Carolina game on October 6.

MCCAULEY INDUCTED INTO COLLEGE HALL OF FAME

Don McCauley, the sensational single-wing tailback who sparked Carolina to three major bowl appearances in the post-World War II era, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame on April 19, 2001.

McCauley, a letterwinner for the Tar Heels from 1968-70, shattered the Carolina and Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns. His 1,720 yards were an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. That record stood in the ACC for 19 years until 1999 when Thomas Jones rushed for 1,798 yards. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season.

McCauley is the seventh person with North Carolina ties elected to the Hall of Fame. The others are Carl Snively, Jim Tatum, Hunter Carpenter, Charlie Justice, Bernie Poole and Art Weiner.

WALK-ONS RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

Former walk-ons Will Chapman, Robert Harris and David Thornton were awarded scholarships for the 2001 season by head coach John Bunting following the conclusion of spring practice. All three emerged from spring workouts as starters. Chapman should start at defensive tackle and Harris and Thornton should compete for two of the starting linebacker positions. Chapman's father, Bill, lettered three years at Carolina (1970-72) and was a teammate of head coach John Bunting.

LOOKING TO CREATE TURNOVERS

After finishing 103rd in turnover margin (-1.09) and causing just 14 turnovers in 11 games (seven fumbles, seven interceptions), the Tar Heels will focus on causing more turnovers in 2001. Carolina did not intercept at pass last season until the fifth game of the season and had seven INTs overall, the fewest since 1971 when UNC had six.

THE RETURNS ARE ALLEN

One of the best punt return men in the country is Bosley Allen, a junior from Bradenton, Fla., who is fortunate just to be playing football after suffering a near career-ending knee injury in 1998. Allen, who redshirted in 1999 to recover from the injury, finished the 2000 season with a school-record 421 punt return yards and had two punt returns for touchdowns. He scored on a 78-yard punt return at Wake Forest and on a 63-yard punt return at Duke. The 78-yarder against the Demon Deacons was selected as one of the "College Plays of the Year." Allen finished the season ranked second in the ACC and 14th in the country, averaging 15.0 yards per return.

Allen also led the Tar Heels in receiving with 40 receptions for 634 yards and three touchdowns.

Bosley Allen • WR

TAR HEELS ENTER SEASON WITH 600 ALL-TIME WINS

Carolina is one of just 21 schools with 600 all-time victories. Last year, Carolina won its 600th game with a 59-21 victory over Duke. Carolina and Georgia Tech are tied for the most wins among ACC schools.

CAROLINA GREATS HONORED DURING THE SEASON

The Charlie Justice Era will be honored at Carolina's home opener against SMU on Sept. 15. Justice, a member of the College Football Hall of Fame, played at UNC from 1946-49 and helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowl games. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's No. 1 college football team. The Tar Heels ended the year rated third, the best finish in school history.

At the East Carolina game on Oct. 6, Carolina will honor the Bill Dooley Era and recognize Don McCauley for his recent induction into the College Football Hall of Fame. Dooley had the longest tenure of any Carolina football coach (11 years) and is tied with Mack Brown as the second winningest coach (69 wins) in Carolina history. Current head coach John Bunting was recruited and coached by Bill Dooley.

McCauley played tailback for Dooley from 1968-1970 and broke the ACC single-season rushing record with 1,720 yards in 1970. He was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in April, 2001.

INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

The Eddie Smith Indoor Practice Facility, scheduled for completion prior to the start of the 2001 season, will include an indoor football field with 80-yards of retractable "magic carpet" artificial turf and a 200-meter, six-lane track.

AGAINST IN-STATE OPPONENTS

Carolina has won 28 of its last 33 games against in-state rivals Wake Forest, Duke and NC State. The Tar Heels have an 11-game winning streak over the Blue Devils, have won 10 of the last 11 matchups against the Deacons and have won seven of the last 11 against the Wolfpack.

Carolina is 224-94-17 all-time against in-state opponents, including a 6-1-1 record against East Carolina, who is playing UNC this year for the first time since 1981.

KENAN MEMORIAL STADIUM

Carolina football plays its home games at Kenan Memorial Stadium, one of the most picturesque athletic venues in America. Kenan Stadium has been the home of the Tar Heels since 1927 and the thrill of playing in or attending a game there is as exhilarating now as it was when it was first constructed.

The stadium's beauty, charm and simple elegance have not been diminished with the expansion project that added nearly 8,000 seats, a state-of-the-art football facility, chancellor's box and preferred seating box. The renovation and expansion project was financed through a combination of private contributions through the Educational Foundation and bonded indebtedness from the athletic department through the sale of revenue-generating bonds. The Educational Foundation and its members have committed more than $50 million to the project.

Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, many observers say Kenan Stadium is the most beautiful football facility in the country. One national sports magazine rated Kenan one of the five best places in America to watch a college football game. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it cannot be surpassed.

The stadium has been expanded several times since its completion in 1927. In each instance, though, great care was taken to keep its fundamental beauty intact. The addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the North Side Stadium Preferred Seating Box have further enhanced the stadium's status as a campus landmark.

"Kenan Stadium brings back so many memories," says Head Coach John Bunting. "So many players have given so much of themselves on that field. I had some great times as a player in Kenan Stadium and as head coach, I want to help produce many more memories for our fans. In my opinion, it is the best place to experience college football."

The Kenan Football Center houses the Carolina football program, including the locker rooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs and study areas, academic coordinator's office, 100-plus seat auditorium, coaches' offices, theater and Hall of Honor.

The Hall of Honor, located on the ground floor, is a multi-media history of Carolina football. Photographs, awards, trophies and artifacts detailing the rich and storied history of the sport in Chapel Hill are on display. The 18 Carolina players who have been honored by placing their names and numbers on display in the stadium are also featured in the Hall of Honor. Special plaques, flags and an audio-visual presentation on each player are highlighted.

The James A. Heavner Theater was made possible by a special gift by the former executive producer of the Tar Heels Sports Network and president of Vilcom. The theater is a 30-person mini-theater equipped with surround sound and seven dramatic videos presenting the history of UNC football.

A number of rooms in the Kenan Football Center have been dedicated in the honor or memory of Carolina's benefactors, fans and athletic personalities. They include the Brinkley Lounge, the fourth floor reception area named for Harvey M. Brinkley Jr.; the Don McCauley/Paul Miller Head Coach's Suite; the Norman M. (Buddy) Black Jr. Lounge, the fourth floor hospitality area; the Oscar Davenport/Chris Keldorf Quarterback Meeting Room as given by Bob Biggerstaff; the Jo Allison Clary Smith Weight Room; the Carolina Football Players' Locker Room, named in behalf of the more than 400 former Tar Heels who donated more than $2 million to the project; Koury Box North, box seating on the north side of the stadium named for Maurice J. Koury; the John W. Pope Academic Support Facility; the John W. Pope Stadium Box, a stadium box on the north side; the John W. Swofford Auditorium and the Jimmy W. Garrell coaches meeting room.

The expansion project, in which great care was taken to ensure that the surrounding environment would be altered as little as possible, ties the north and south concourses to either end of the lower deck via the third level of the Kenan Center, making fan movement around the stadium much easier.

The football center is named in honor of the late Frank H. Kenan, one of the school's most generous benefactors. Kenan was a Durham resident and chief executive officer of Kenan Transport Company in Chapel Hill. He passed away at age 83 in 1996.

Kenan, a 1935 Carolina graduate, was the great-great-grandson of General James Kenan, a member of the University's founding board of trustees. An Atlanta native, Kenan had a tremendous impact on the growth of the University. He served on many campus boards, including the Board of Visitors and the Educational Foundation Board of Directors.

In recent years the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, of which he was a trustee, has donated more than $100 million to schools in the state's consolidated university system, including Carolina, NC State and the N.C. School of the Arts. Among other things, the trust funds 92 William R. Kenan Jr. Professorships at 56 colleges and universities nationwide.

He served on the steering committee of Carolina's Bicentennial Campaign, the University's largest fund-raising effort. Gifts by him, his family and the trust during the campaign exceeded $31 million. The largest portion of that was targeted for the business school. In 1991 the school was renamed the Kenan-Flagler Business School after a $10 million gift.

The preferred seating box that rises above the second deck of the grandstand on the north side of the stadium has outdoor seating for almost 1,200 spectators. That includes the Chancellor's Box on the second level of the box 45 feet above the ground. The fourth level, 68 feet high, has outdoor seating for more than 1,000, plus concessions and a 7500 square foot lounge. There is a smaller lounge and food prep areas on the third floor.

Dan Sears

The Kenan Football Center and preferred seating box are the predominant changes in a multi-year renovation plan that began in 1995. A new playing field was installed that spring. The new turf includes an improved drainage system beneath the field that drains through the field itself rather than off the sides of the field as in the past. Prior to the 1996 season the restrooms and concession stands were expanded and renovated and the bleachers in the end zone nearest the Bell Tower were removed in order to prepare for construction of the new Football Center.

Another significant stadium expansion took place prior to 1988 and involved adding 2,000 choice seats between the 40-yard lines where the press box and chancellor's box formerly stood. A new press box was constructed on top of the upper deck on the stadium's south side. It is a one-level elongated structure, running from 10-yard line to 10-yard line.

Also part of the 1987-88 project were a permanent lighting system, a chancellor's lounge on the north side of the field and a football lettermen's lounge on the south side. The lights are part of a General Electric low-mount system which minimizes the height of the light-poles. Cost of the entire project was $7 million. It was funded by private gifts and bonds.

William Rand Kenan Jr. deserves the credit for originally making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and graduated from Carolina in 1894. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry. During his business career he was president of The Florida East Coast Railroad, The Florida East Coast Hotel Company, The West Palm Beach Water Company and the Florida East Coast Car Ferry Company.

He was a director of Florida Power and Light Company and built the first power plant in Miami in the early 1900s.

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

Originally, the stadium was to be built through funds raised by alumni donations and by June 1926, a group of nearly 40 alumni had contributed $27,926. At this time, however, a copy of the prospectus and plan of financing the stadium came into the hands of Mr. Kenan who expressed an interest in the proposal. Kenan was considering establishing a memorial to his parents and the pressing need for a stadium and the possibilities of the beauty, dignity and permanence it presented, suggested to him that the benefaction he contemplated may well take the form of a memorial stadium. The Stadium Committee immediately endorsed his proposal and on the very day in November 1926 on which Kenan visited the planned site, he announced his financial gift to build the stadium.

Mr. Kenan remained very interested in Kenan Stadium throughout his lifetime. In the 1950s he gave a $1,000,000 contribution to construct a second deck on the stadium. After Mr. Kenan's death in 1965 the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, which was established by his will, donated $1,000,000 to enlarge and modernize Kenan Fieldhouse.

In 1988 the Kenan Trust made another $1,000,000 gift to complete the new chancellor's box on the North Side. Another lasting memory of William R. Kenan Jr. is the Kenan Athletic Scholarship Endowment valued at over $1,000,000. Each year a student athlete is awarded a full scholarship from this fund.

Besides giving the stadium to the University, Mr. Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by his alma mater in 1944.

In the first game played there, Carolina defeated Davidson, 27-0, on November 12, 1927.

Carolina's all-time record at Kenan Stadium is 235-141-16. The most points scored by the Tar Heels in Kenan came in the third game played there as

2001 PREVIEW

Carolina whipped Wake Forest, 65-0, in the 1928 season opener.

The Tar Heels have a 43-17 mark at Kenan Stadium in the last 10 seasons.

As originally built, the stadium seated 24,000. However, in 1963 the benefactor added portable stands and then an upper deck to the permanent stands, which increased capacity to 48,000. That was expanded to 50,000 in 1979, 52,000 in 1988, 57,500 in 1997 and 60,000 in 1998.

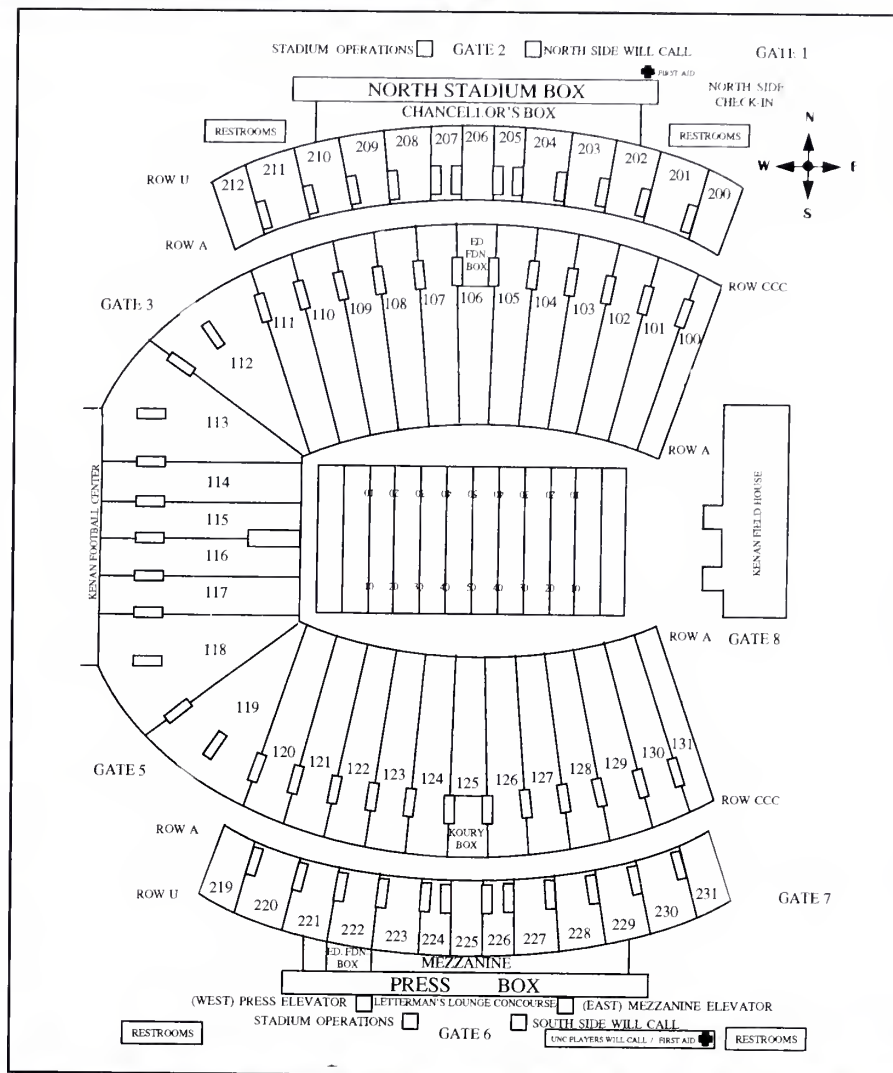

After the 1976 season, Kenan Fieldhouse underwent a massive renovation. The building was expanded to 30,000 square feet of dressing rooms, coaches' offices, lounges, meeting rooms, weight-training quarters and other facilities. The players' lockerroom was renovated again in 1988.

The Student-Athlete Development Center was added to the fieldhouse in 1986. A 20,000 square foot building, it is a one-of-a-kind facility. For study purposes, it contains a language lab, video room, computer lab, theatre-style lecture hall, several reading rooms and numerous tutorial rooms. Carolina's academic counseling staff has the advantage of using the most modern techniques in helping student-athletes with their studies.

Capacity crowds have come to be expected at Kenan. In 1997, the Tar Heels played in front of a record-shattering crowd of 62,000 on Nov. 8, 1997, as fifth-ranked Carolina battled No. 2 Florida State. The largest crowd to watch a game prior to the most recent major expansion was 54,300 as Carolina defeated N.C. State, 31-17, in 1994.

The 1983 season saw another first in the stadium — a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the Atlantic Coast Conference area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset. Portable lights were also used in the 1987 Clemson game which was televised nationally by ESPN.

The 1991 season opener versus Cincinnati and the Clemson game, which was televised nationally by ESPN, were the first true night games ever played at Kenan Stadium.

TAR HEEL SPORTS NETWORK

Learfield Communications begins its second full year as the official media rights holder for the University of North Carolina athletic teams, primarily football and basketball.

Based in Jefferson City, Missouri, Learfield purchased Tar Heel Sports Marketing in October 1999, adding the UNC property to 13 other schools under the Learfield umbrella. Among those for which Learfield also owns the rights are Alabama, Syracuse, Oklahoma, Indiana and Missouri.

"Our goal is to continue and add to the tremendous tradition and fan following at Carolina," says Gary Sobba, the General Manager for Tar Heel Sports Marketing. Sobba moved to Chapel Hill from Dallas, where he worked in the Learfield national sales office.

"I have worked on various college campuses for the last 15 years," adds Sobba, "and if there is a better athletic program in the country than this one, I don't know where it is."

Formerly owned by Chapel Hill-based ViCom, Tar Heel Sports Marketing is in its ninth year as UNC's multimedia rights holder. All Carolina fans have heard of the Tar Heel Sports Network, which broadcasts the play-by-play of football and basketball games, but that is only one facet of the operation.

Tar Heel Sports Marketing is a full-service agency overseeing production and sales of all the University of North Carolina's football and basketball entities including television and print products.

THSM brings you a variety of ways to follow the Heels during the athletic season. Simply, listen to your radio on Thursday nights for the head coaches on their radio call-in shows or watch game highlights Sundays on "Inside Carolina Football and Basketball." When you are at Kenan Stadium pick-up the official game program.

The Tar Heel Sports Network continues to bring the great tradition of Carolina sports into your home.

Woody Durham is beginning his 31st year as the "Voice of the Tar Heels." A native of Mebane, N.C., Durham grew up in Albemarle, N.C., and began his broadcasting career with WZKY Radio at age 16. He graduated from UNC in 1963 with a degree in Radio, Television and Motion Pictures.

Durham and Head Coach John Bunting give fans an opportunity to phone in and talk with the Coach every Thursday evening during the football season on the "John Bunting Live" call in show.

Durham also will visit with Coach Bunting on "Inside Carolina Football", a daily five-minute program featuring conversations with the Tar Heels' Head Coach. Both of these shows are heard on stations throughout North Carolina and beyond.

"Inside Carolina Football with John Bunting," hosted by Durham, is a half-hour television program seen each week on a network of stations in North Carolina and on cable networks throughout much of the United States. The show features highlights of the previous game, interviews with current and former Tar Heel players and a preview of upcoming action.

In 1981, Durham was named vice president and executive sports director at Tar Heel Sports Marketing. Since taking over play-by-play duties in 1971, he has become a permanent fixture behind the microphone during Tar Heel football and basketball games. Durham has been named North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year 10 times.

Woody and his wife of 38 years, Jean, are parents of two sons, Wes and Taylor. Wes, 35, is in his seventh year of play-by-play duties for Georgia Tech. Taylor, 28, is a network recruitment manager with International Sports Properties of Winston-Salem.

"Kenan Stadium is the best place in America to play college football. The first day I was hired, I just had goose bumps every time I looked down at that field from my office. It's a special place to play. It will be a special place to coach."

— Head Coach John Bunting

Carolina has played host to a number of nationally and regionally televised contests at beautiful Kenan Stadium, including the 1999 Florida State contest, when NFL great Lynn Swann graced the Tar Heel sidelines.

THE FRANK H. KENAN FOOTBALL CENTER

"We are in an era when football facilities represent how committed a program is to being one of the best. At North Carolina, I expected the Smith Center to be one of the best for basketball — and it is. What surprised me was how outstanding the new football facility is. They certainly have a top-notch facility. When I walked away from Chapel Hill, I was totally impressed. Now I judge every other facility against Carolina's because I think they have the best in the country."

— ESPN's Kirk Herbstreit

THE FRANK H. KENAN FOOTBALL CENTER

A four-year, $50-million renovation of Kenan Stadium was completed in 1998, with the addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the John W. Pope Stadium Box. The state-of-the-art, 78,000-square foot football center houses the Carolina coaches' offices, lockerrooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs, study areas, a 100-seat auditorium, theater and the Hall of Honor, a multimedia history of Tar Heel football.

OUTSTANDING COACHING

Head Coach John Bunting won a Super Bowl with the St. Louis Rams

"A gusto for playing this great sport of football is what I want to give this team. I want this team to earn respect for the way it plays. It's a fun sport, but you can't have any fun if you're not playing hard."

— John Bunting

Carolina's coaching staff is one of the best in the nation. Combining 264 years of experience, the Tar Heel staff brings a diverse knowledge of the game from several schools, professional leagues and conferences around the country. In addition to its vast collegiate experience, the Tar Heel players benefit from the 19 years of NFL experience from head coach John Bunting. A winner at every stop in his coaching career, Bunting was an NFL assistant coach for Kansas City, St. Louis and New Orleans. He was the co-defensive coordinator for the Super Bowl champion Rams in 1999.

"I think an athlete has to be prepared to win mentally, physically and emotionally, so preparing an athlete to win encompasses a lot of areas of preparation. If an athlete is challenged in his training he develops the proper attitude and discipline, which I think definitely transfers to winning."

HEAD COACH

Head Coach

1st Year at Carolina • 17th Year Overall

- Coached eight years in the NFL before fulfilling a life-long dream of coaching at North Carolina
- Was the co-defensive coordinator for the Super Bowl Champion St. Louis Rams in 1999
- Head Coach at Rowan University (formerly Glassboro State) from 1988-92
- Played in the NFL for 11 years with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1972-82

On December 11, 2000, the day former Tar Heel letterwinner John Bunting was named North Carolina's 32nd football coach, a reporter asked him about the mass of gold that was wrapped around his right ring finger.

It was the Super Bowl championship ring Bunting won as the co-defensive coordinator for Dick Vermeil's St. Louis Rams in 2000.

"This ring is very important to me," Bunting said. "It represents a lot of hard work and a lot of good people sharing one common goal."

As he said those words, Bunting casually reached in his sports jacket coat pocket and pulled out a smaller piece of jewelry.

"This ring right here is just as important to me," Bunting said. "It's my 1971 ACC Championship ring that I won with a bunch of hard-working guys who had one common goal, and that's what we're going to get done here."

Few who heard Bunting say those words do not believe he will achieve that goal. Since that time, Bunting has been hard at work — re-connecting with the Carolina fan base, hiring an outstanding coaching staff, signing his first recruiting class, conducting his first spring practice session and establishing his beliefs and philosophy throughout the program.

"We need the entire Carolina family to be with us," says Bunting. "If we are going to do what we want to accomplish, then we need the support of every part of the athletic program, the University and the fans. It may take some time, but the time is right for Carolina to become a yearly contender for the conference championship."

An intense and tenacious linebacker who earned All-ACC honors as a Tar Heel and played 11 seasons in the NFL, Bunting brings a new enthusiasm to the Carolina program and a clear focus on capturing UNC's first ACC title since 1980.

"I'm tremendously pleased that we have found a coach in John Bunting who will lead this program, I'm convinced, to success based on Carolina's principles of doing it the right way," said Chancellor James Moeser.

Bunting is the first Carolina alum and first UNC football letterwinner to become the football coach since Jim Tatum in 1956. At Bunting's introductory press conference, several former players who had supported his candidacy were in attendance, including Ken Huff, Gayle Bomar, Johnny Cowell and Ted Elkin.

Among those who jumped on Bunting's bandwagon during the hiring process was former letterwinner and 23-year college coaching veteran James Webster. It was two years ago that Bunting and Webster, senior teammates on the 1971 squad, spent time together at the Rams' preseason camp. Webster, then an assistant coach at East Carolina, came to visit his old friend and learn a few things from the pro game. Friends since leaving the University, the two had not shared even a cup of coffee together since the early 70s because of coaching time restraints. But as they spoke that week in St. Louis, Webster and Bunting talked of how wonderful it would be to be back in Chapel Hill coaching the Tar Heels.

"This is my dream job and when Jimmy was at camp that season, I said 'Wouldn't it be great if we could both be back in Chapel Hill?' We never really thought it would happen, but I'm proof that good things can happen if you believe in your goals and your dreams."

Little did the two friends know the events that would unfold to make that dream a reality. After a three-week coaching search and several supportive phone calls from his former teammates, Bunting got the call from UNC Athletic Director Dick Baddour.

"John Bunting is a man of passion," said Baddour. "He's passionate about the University of North Carolina. I know that he understands the mission of this University and will do everything that he can to see that this program is operated in the values that are acceptable to this institution. And I also know he will motivate his players to go 110 percent every game and every practice."

Bunting, 51, is a native of Silver Spring, Md., where he grew up watching Carolina basketball and began a love for the University that eventually led him to Chapel Hill.

"I grew up watching Dean Smith's teams and I loved how they played like a team, how the players worked together. That really captured my attention," Bunting says. "When Coach (Bill) Dooley offered me a scholarship, there was no way I could turn it down."

As a Tar Heel linebacker, Bunting was a three-year starter who helped lead Carolina to back-to-back bowl games in 1970 and 1971. Dooley, who came to Carolina in 1967, was just starting to lay the foundation for a successful coaching career, but had not yet produced results that satisfied Tar Heel fans. However, in Dooley's third season, Bunting's sophomore class began the revival, producing a 5-5 campaign that would be followed up by an 8-4 season in 1970 and a berth in the Peach Bowl and a 9-3 championship season in 1971 and a spot opposite Georgia in the Gator Bowl.

As a senior, Bunting was spectacular, seemingly making big plays each week to help the Tar Heels to victory. Whether it was two pass interceptions, one returned for a touchdown, that broke open a 35-14 win over Maryland, or his amazing 20-tackle performance at Notre Dame, Bunting was always around the ball. In the season finale at Duke, Bunting led a defense that completely shut down the Blue Devils, 38-0, giving Carolina its first undisputed ACC crown.

After earning All-ACC and honorable-mention All-America honors in 1971, Bunting was drafted in the 10th round by the Philadelphia Eagles. The low selection did not affect Bunting's performance on the field as he started three games as a rookie and became a full-time starter in 1974.

He went on to start 119 of 133 career NFL games. In 1980, he helped the Eagles beat the Dallas Cowboys in the NFC Championship Game and play in Super Bowl XV against the Oakland Raiders. He played for Dick Vermeil in Philadelphia and was a teammate of NFL stars Ron Jaworski, Harold Carmichael, Wilbert Montgomery, Bill Bergey, Jerry Sisemore and Carl Hairston.

Bunting played two seasons in the USFL before hanging up the cleats and focusing his attention on coaching. He was almost sidetracked, however, opting initially for the broadcast booth as a radio analyst for Temple University and the Philadelphia Eagles. When Brown University asked Bunting to be an assistant coach, he objected at first.

"I told Brown I would coach, but I still wanted to do the games for the Eagles on the radio," he says. "Brown came up with the plan to fly me back to Philadelphia after games on Saturday, just in time for the NFL game on Sunday. It was a hectic schedule, but a fun schedule."

A year later, in 1987, Bunting became a full-time assistant coach at Division III Glassboro State University (now Rowan University) in Glassboro, N.J. There, he met his wife, Dawn, the women's basketball and softball coach, and began a new career as a college coach.

The following season, he was elevated to the head coaching position, where he served five years and led the Profs to the playoffs for the first time in school history. Rowan had never won more than seven games until Bunting led the Profs to back-to-back records of 9-2 and 12-1 in 1991 and 1992, respectively.

In Bunting's final season in 1992, Rowan went undefeated during the regular season (10-0), compiled a 12-1 overall record and advanced to the NCAA semifinals before falling to Washington & Jefferson. He was named the Division III Coach of the Year by the Metropolitan New York Football Writers Association, receiving the Stan Lomax/Irving Marsh Award.

Bunting earned his first shot as an assistant coach in the professional ranks with Kansas City in 1993. He coached linebackers for the Chiefs under head coach Marty Schottenheimer and helped lead Kansas City to the playoffs in 1993 and 1995. In 1995, the Chiefs had the No. 1-ranked scoring defense. Bunting also coached linebacker Derrick Thomas, regarded as one of the all-time bests at that position.

In 1997, Bunting was reunited with Vermeil as a member of the St. Louis Rams' coaching staff. After coaching linebackers for one season, Vermeil promoted Bunting to the co-defensive coordinator position. Bunting quickly earned a reputation as one of the game's brightest coordinators, designing a defense that finished 10th in the NFL in 1998 and sixth in 1999.

The highlight of Bunting's coaching career came during the 1999 season when the Rams, led by a high-powered offense and a stingy defense, defeated the Tennessee Titans, 23-16 in Super Bowl XXXIV. Mike Jones, one of Bunting's linebackers, made the game-saving tackle, stopping Tennessee wide receiver Kevin Dyson at the 1-yard line to preserve the win. Bunting also coached former Tar Heels

John & Dawn Bunting

Dre' Bly, Mike Morton and Nate Hobgood-Chittick in St. Louis.

After Vermeil retired, Bunting moved on to New Orleans as the linebackers coach. There, he was a member of Jim Haslett's coaching staff that turned around the slumping franchise. When he left the team during the season to come to Chapel Hill, the Saints were ranked fifth in the NFL in defense and were leading the league in sacks. The Saints advanced to the playoffs before losing in the second round.

"I hope this is the last stop for me," Bunting says. "I might have stayed in the NFL for many more years, but I love this University and I'm excited about what we can accomplish. I've come home!"

"John was a very intense player, a very dedicated player. He worked awfully hard from the moment he got there. We put a lot of demands on the position he played. He was the consummate overachiever, a dedicated student of the game. He was perfect for us."

— Former Carolina linebackers and defensive ends coach Ron DeMelfi

"John was so fierce. He would take or deliver the hardest hit you can imagine, then get right back up. His jaw would tighten, his eyes would burn with intensity. He wouldn't have to say anything. Just seeing him stare out from behind that facemask was all anyone else needed for motivation."

— Former Carolina teammate Flip Ray

"John had a fierce, fierce desire to be the best. He was one of the few guys you felt from the early days was going to be a great coach some day. You saw how much he loved the game. He had a tremendous appetite for learning. He worked harder in conditioning, worked harder at studying the game. He never took a day off. That was the way he played his whole career."

— Former Philadelphia newspaperman Ray Didingier

"John Bunting as a player knew more about our defense than [defensive coordinator] Marion Campbell, who was a defensive genius. More than once Marion was challenged by John, not in a threatening way, but in a, 'Why don't we do this ...' kind of way. Marion would always do it his way, because he didn't want to be shown up by a player. But afterward, you'd see them over to the side talking about it. Marion wanted to know what John thought."

— Former Eagle linebacker Bill Bergey

"Anyone who played for John, loved him. He could get more out of the kids than they believed they had in them."

— Former Rowan University Athletics Director Richard Wackar

"He's a wonderful man in dealing with college-age kids. He cares about the kids. He disciplines them, wants them to respect people. He really knows how to handle them."

— Rowan University Athletics Director Joy Reignn

"His word was gold. It was the essence of a team playing for a coach."

— Former Rowan University player Joe Low

GUNTER BREWER

Assistant Coach • Wide Receivers
2nd Year at Carolina • 16th Year Overall

- Coached 1997 Biletnikoff Award winner and NFL star Randy Moss at Marshall
- Played two years at Wake Forest
- Has coached in seven bowl games
- Son of former Mississippi Head Coach Billy Brewer

Gunter Brewer is in his second season as the Tar Heels' wide receivers coach, having joined the staff in February of 2000. Brewer came to Carolina after coaching at Marshall from 1996-99.

Under Brewer's tutelage, Bosley Allen, who missed all of the 1999 season because of a knee injury, became one of the ACC's top deep threats and led the Tar Heels in catches, yards receiving and touchdown receptions. In 2000, four of Carolina's receivers caught at least 15 passes and three of the four averaged over 15 yards per catch. Those four – Allen, Kory Bailey, Sam Aiken and Jamal Jones – combined to catch 116 passes for 1,871 yards and 10 touchdowns.

A year after having no pass plays longer than 45 yards, Carolina made 11 catches that went for longer than 45 yards, including a school-record-tying 78-yard touchdown catch by Kory Bailey. It was the longest reception ever by a Tar Heel in Kenan Stadium. Overall, Carolina had 40 pass plays of 20-or-more yards. Bailey later had 129 yards receiving vs. Clemson, the most by a Tar Heel since Na Brown had 142 yards in 1998.

At Marshall, Brewer coached 1997 Biletnikoff Award winner Randy Moss, who has gone on to become one of the brightest stars in the National Football League. In 1999, Marshall completed a perfect 13-0 season to earn a No. 10 final national ranking, and in Brewer's four seasons there the Thundering Herd had a 50-4 overall record. His responsibilities at Marshall were: running backs and recruiting coordinator, 1996; wide receivers and recruiting coordinator, 1997; associate offensive coordinator and wide receivers, 1998; special teams coordinator and wide receivers, 1999.

Brewer, 36, was a two-year letterwinner at wide receiver at Wake Forest, where he earned his degree in science and health sports in 1987. In 1989, he was awarded a master's in education with a specialization in exercise physiology from Mississippi.

Brewer's previous coaching stops include: wide receivers/strength and flexibility at Wake Forest, 1986-87; running backs at Mississippi, 1988-89; offensive coordinator for the Angles Bleus (Paris, France) of the European Football League, 1989; graduate assistant/administrative aid at Mississippi, 1989-90; running backs and recruiting coordinator at East Tennessee State, 1990-92; wide receivers and recruiting coordinator at ETSU, 1992-95; head coach at Northeast Community College in Booneville, Miss., 1995.

Jeff Connors, East Carolina's Director of Strength and Conditioning for the past 10 seasons, is in his first year as the Carolina's Coordinator of Student-Athlete Development. His primary focus is on the strength and conditioning football program.

Connors' conditioning program was one of the reasons for ECU's fourth-quarter success over the last 10 years. In 1996, the ECU defense did not allow a point in the fourth quarter until the seventh game of the season and in 1999, the Pirates outscored their opponents, 102-56, in the final period. Last year, ECU had a 94-57 advantage in the fourth quarter.

Several of Connors' former assistants are now strength and conditioning coaches at other universities, including: Tom Howley, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Cornell; Jay Butler, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Rutgers; Jennifer Jones, Assistant Coach of Strength & Conditioning for Women's Sports at Arkansas; Michele Clayton, Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach at Virginia Tech; Sonny Sano, Director of Strength & Conditioning at Ohio.

Connors was the featured speaker at the 1995 National Strength and Conditioning Association Conference in Phoenix, as well as the 1996 NSCA Conference in Atlanta. In 1996, he was the Regional Director of the Year and was nominated for National Strength Coach of the Year.

Connors is a competitive powerlifter and has won four state titles in powerlifting and has been ranked as high as fourth nationally. He holds Level I certification in Olympic Weight Lifting by the U.S. Weight Lifting Federation.

GARY TRANQUILL

Assistant Coach • Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks
1st Year at Carolina • 40th Year Overall

- Has 11 years of experience as an offensive coordinator at five different schools, five years as a Division I head coach and has also served as a defensive coordinator
- Coached All-ACC quarterbacks Scott Secules, Shawn Moore, Matt Blundin at Virginia
- Coached quarterbacks Bernie Kosar, Vinnie Testaverde and Mike Tomzack in the NFL
- Was the head coach at Navy from 1982-86
- Inducted into Wittenberg's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1986

A coaching veteran with 39 years of college and professional coaching experience, Gary Tranquill was named North Carolina's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach on January 12, 2000. Tranquill spent the previous two seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Virginia.

Tranquill has a diverse coaching background that includes 11 years of experience as an offensive coordinator at five different schools, three years as a defensive coordinator and five years as a Division I head coach. He has worked with some of the top quarterbacks in the Atlantic Coast Conference during two stints at Virginia, including All-ACC selections Scott Secules, Shawn Moore and Matt Blundin. In addition, he was the Cleveland Browns quarterbacks coach from 1991-93, where he worked with NFL standouts Bernie Kosar and Vinnie Testaverde.

Tranquill was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for Nick Saban's Michigan State Spartans from 1995-98. During those four seasons, Michigan State averaged 161.5 yards rushing, 220.9 yards passing and 27.6 points per game. The Spartans averaged nearly 30 points per game each of the last three seasons of Tranquill's tenure — it's top scoring averages of the decade.

As Virginia's quarterbacks coach from 1987-90, Tranquill helped develop some of the best passers in conference history. Secules led the conference in passing as a senior in 1987, while Moore became the school's all-time leader in passing yards, finished fourth in the 1990 Heisman Trophy balloting, was a first-team All-America and the 1990 ACC Player of the Year. Tranquill helped coach the Cavaliers to a No. 1 ranking during the 1990 season — Virginia's highest ever ranking.

Tranquill left Virginia for a three-year stint with the Cleveland Browns, then returned to college as Virginia Tech's offensive coordinator in 1994 before leaving for Michigan State in 1995.

A native of Avella, Pa., Tranquill began his coaching career at Wittenberg, his alma mater, where he coached from 1963-69. He was Ball State's secondary coach in 1970 before becoming the defensive coordinator for two seasons at Bowling Green State. In 1973, he served three years under George Welsh as Navy's quarterbacks and receivers coach. He would later return to Navy as Welsh's successor in 1982 as the head coach.

Tranquill also spent two years as an assistant coach at Ohio State (1977-78) under legendary coach Woody Hayes and was an assistant at West Virginia from 1979-81. At West Virginia, he spent one season as the defensive coordinator and two years as the offensive coordinator.

Tranquill, 60, is a 1962 graduate of Wittenberg, where he won four letters in football and baseball. He played on two Ohio Conference baseball championship teams and two NCAA regional winners in that sport. In 1960, he was the conference's top football player. He was inducted into Wittenberg's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1986.

Like Bunting, Webster came to North Carolina in 1968 and started at linebacker for three consecutive seasons. Although the two stayed in contact after leaving the University, Webster and Bunting did not actually see each other again until the summer of 1999 at the St. Louis Rams' preseason workouts where Bunting was serving as defensive coordinator. Webster spent the summer with Bunting and the Rams, watching and learning the NFL practice routine.

At East Carolina, Webster coached the Pirates' outside linebackers for five seasons from 1995-99 and this year was in charge of the defensive line. He was promoted to assistant head coach in 1999.

A 23-year college coaching veteran, Webster began his coaching career at North Carolina under former head coach Bill Dooley in 1973 working with the junior varsity program. He also has been a linebackers coach at Dartmouth (1994-95) and Wake Forest (1988-93) and worked with the defensive backs at Northwestern (1982-84). # CHANCELLOR JAMES MOESER

As its ninth chancellor, Dr. James Moeser leads the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's aspiration to enter a new golden age in which future success will be measured by high-quality academic, research and public service that sets the standard of excellence for U.S. public universities.

"We have before us the potential for Carolina to enter a new defining moment of being not only America's first public university, but being first among public universities in our nation," Moeser says. "When people around the world list the great American universities, we want to make sure that Carolina is on the short list. We have set our sights that high."

For Moeser, who started in August 2000, making new history at Carolina began with his efforts to help secure North Carolinians' approval of the $3.1 billion bond referendum for higher education last fall.

The referendum is fueling an unprecedented physical transformation of Carolina. The bonds will bring $500 million for renovations, repairs and new buildings. Also guided by a visionary master plan for future growth, Carolina plans to invest another $500 million from non-state sources for other buildings essential to continued excellence.

UNC is preparing to publicly launch a new private fund-raising campaign on University Day, October 12, 2001, that will be the largest in Carolina's history. "The bond bill was the key that opened the lock to Carolina's future," Moeser says. "My pledge to the people of North Carolina is to take that critical investment and triple it in private support to this university. The momentum from that vote will continue with a massive outpouring of support from our alumni and friends to support our aspiration to lead among the great public universities."

Planning strategically for UNC's future has been the hallmark of Moeser's administration. Under his leadership, Carolina launched an initiative committing at least $245 million over the next decade to the emerging field of genome sciences. The public-private partnership positions Carolina to be a national leader in determining how the genomics revolution will change the way we treat human diseases, design drugs and grow crops.

Such emphasis on science is balanced by an equal commitment to the arts and humanities. "The humanities and social sciences are our historical areas of strength," he says. "In addition, we have an obligation to provide our students and this region with the finest in the arts, and to preserve the incredible architectural archive of the historic campus. I subscribe to Thomas Jefferson's view that we teach with the built environments we create in buildings and landscapes."

Moeser moved quickly to fill key administrative posts, hiring Dr. Robert N. Shelton, a physicist, as the new provost and executive vice chancellor who will lead a campuswide effort to determine future academic priorities.

Nancy Sutenfield became vice chancellor for finance and administration. And Tony Waldrop, a Morehead Scholar and UNC track star, is the new vice chancellor for research and graduate studies. Moeser says those appointments complement an outstanding group of vice chancellors and deans that comprise one of American higher education's finest administrative teams.

Other focal points of Moeser's first year have included traveling to meet alumni, friends of the university and other civic and business leaders who can help support Carolina's goals. He led efforts to expand the university's international programs. The chancellor visited and spoke at the Monterrey Institute of Technology System's Mexico City campus. The institute is Mexico's top technology university and has close ties to UNC's business and journalism and mass communication schools. Other joint degree programs are under consideration.

On campus, Moeser has strongly supported efforts to strengthen the intellectual climate and enhance undergraduate education; advance the Carolina Computing Initiative; continue a longtime commitment to diversity; and advocate with UNC President Molly Broad for increased state budget flexibility to more effectively operate the university and retain and recruit faculty and staff.

Moeser was unanimously elected chancellor in April 2000 by the UNC Board of Governors and arrived after four years as chancellor of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

A concert organist, Moeser, 62, began his career in 1966 at the University of Kansas. He later was named Althaus Distinguished Professor of Organ, becoming the first academic dean at Kansas ever to hold an endowed chair. In 1986, Moeser joined The Pennsylvania State University as dean of the College of Arts and Architecture and executive director of University Arts Services. Six years later, he became vice president for academic affairs and provost of the University of South Carolina, a post he held until becoming chancellor of Nebraska in 1996.

Moeser serves on the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges and chairs the association's technology transfer committee. He also is on the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities and the North Carolina Symphony Society Board of Trustees. As a member of the Board of Governors of the Josephson Institute of Ethics, Moeser helped UNC partner with the institute and the North Carolina High School Athletic Association to bring hundreds of youth coaches from around the state to an ethics seminar in spring 2001.

A native of Colorado City, Texas, who grew up in Lubbock, Moeser received a bachelor's of music degree with honors in 1961 and a master's of music in musicology in 1964 from the University of Texas at Austin. He graduated with a doctorate in musical arts from the University of Michigan in 1967.

Moeser is married to Dr. Susan Dickerson Moeser, a fellow concert organist who joined UNC as a lecturer in music and university organist. He has two children from a prior marriage: a son, Chris, a law student at the University of Arizona, and a daughter, Carter, a doctoral candidate in physical therapy at the Arizona School of Health Sciences.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR DICK BADDOUR

Dick Baddour, a 1966 graduate of The University of North Carolina, was named Director of Athletics on June 25, 1997. In his four years as director, the Tar Heels have undergone a number of changes, yet remain one of the premier athletic programs in the Atlantic Coast Conference and across the nation. Baddour combines an easy-going, friendly and visionary style of management with a love and passion for the University he has served for more than three decades.

Baddour sets a high standard of integrity for the program he leads. High graduation rates, NCAA compliance, sound fiscal management, competitive success and national respect are cornerstones of his blueprint for the department's mission to the University.

This past year, he received a Distinguished Service Medal from the UNC General Alumni Association. The awards program noted: "If this sounds like a full plate, remember that he gave the National Guard 31 years, and retired a colonel. He co-chaired the bond drive to build the Chapel Hill Public Library. He was vice president of the Parks and Recreation Commission; chair of the Orange County Heart Association; Cub Scout master and Little League coach. Dick was volunteer of the year in the public school system in 1996, and successfully managed a Chapel Hill mayoral campaign. He is a model of town and gown."

The Goldsboro, N.C., native heads a program that with 28 varsity sports is the largest in the ACC. Carolina won seven ACC championships last year, equalling the top figure in the league for the 14th consecutive year, and 18 sports competed in NCAA postseason play. The women's soccer team won the national championship, field hockey was national runner-up and men's soccer earned a No. 1 national ranking and advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals. In addition, women's indoor track and women's swimming posted Top 10 NCAA finishes. The Tar Heels were once again the highest finishing ACC school in the final Sears Cup standings that measure a school's overall NCAA postseason success.

During the past school year, Baddour hired a new men's basketball coach and football coach. He was a member of the NCAA Championship Cabinet and NCAA Football Issues Committee, oversaw development of the indoor football and track facility and softball complex, and hired managing directors in the Educational Foundation and marketing office.

He tabbed former Tar Heel Matt Doherty to replace Bill Guthridge, who retired after three seasons as head coach. Baddour had hired Guthridge to follow the legendary Dean Smith after Smith stepped down just four months after Baddour became athletic director. Guthridge took two teams to the NCAA Final Four and was the winningest first-, second- and third-year coach in NCAA history. In his first season, Doherty led Carolina to 18 consecutive wins, a No. 1 national ranking and share of the ACC regular-season championship and was named the Associated Press National Coach of the Year. It was Doherty's second year as a college head coach.

Baddour hired former UNC linebacker John Bunting to direct the football program in December 2000. Bunting starred at Carolina in the 1970s, and was a highly respected and successful coach in the NFL.

Baddour has hired new head coaches in six sports, including football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's tennis, baseball and men's lacrosse. Baddour hired Mike Fox, a former Tar Heel who played in the 1978 College World Series, as baseball coach; John Inman, 1984 NCAA men's golf champion and former PGA Tour golfer, as the men's golf coach; Roland Thornqvist, former National Indoor Singles Champion, as the women's tennis coach; and John Haus to rebuild the men's lacrosse program. Haus won NCAA championships in 1981 and 1982 as a Tar Heel defensive star and twice coached Johns Hopkins University to the national semifinals.

In addition to the many personnel and facility changes that Baddour has managed, fiscal responsibility has been a key directive in his tenure as athletic director. He has instituted a number of measures designed to keep UNC among the nation's most competitive athletic programs, while at the same time ensuring a sound financial future.

Early in his tenure, Baddour established a number of task forces to examine specific functions within the department and guide those administrative units as they prepare for the 21st century. Baddour formed committees to examine recruiting, admissions and academic progress of student-athletes; finances; student-athlete development; communications, and most recently, a long-term plan for Kenan Stadium.

Baddour continues to direct a vast facilities expansion project that stretches from Kenan Stadium to Finley Golf Course. The McCaskill Soccer Center and the Francis E. Henry Stadium (field hockey and lacrosse) were dedicated in 1998 and Finley Golf Course was totally redesigned to a spectacular championship-level in 1999.

Baddour, who has served on 12 ACC committees, is past chair of the ACC Athletic Directors, will serve as a member of ACC Committees on Football, Basketball and Television and has chaired the ACC Tennis Committee.

He is in his 35th year of continuous service to the University. Prior to his current position, he spent 11 years under John Swofford as the executive associate director of athletics.

After graduating from UNC, Baddour spent one year as a cost accountant for Burlington Industries. He then returned to UNC in 1967 as assistant dean of men. In 1971 he became assistant dean of undergraduate admissions. Coordinating freshman admissions took him into every high school in the state. In 1975, he was awarded a Master of Arts degree in education with a major in student personnel administration and a minor in business administration.

Baddour was then named Assistant Dean at the UNC School of Law from 1983 to 1986. He served as the school's director of admissions and scholarship programs, head of personnel and supervisor of career planning and placement. He was also in charge of minority recruitment.

He became associate athletic director in 1986, was promoted to senior associate director in 1990 and to executive associate in 1995.

A 1962 graduate of Goldsboro High School, Baddour and his wife, Lynda, have two sons and a daughter. Allen graduated from UNC and Carolina law school and practices law in Chapel Hill. He and his wife, Holly, have a two-year-old son, Henry. David is a UNC graduate and Certified Public Accountant. He is in his third year of law school at UNC and lives with his wife, Carey, in Carrboro. Jennifer is a graduate of UNC Greensboro and earned her master's from the UNC School of Social Work. She is employed as a social worker in Texas. Lynda taught kindergarten and first grade for 17 years.

EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

What is the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation is the oldest foundation on the UNC campus and holds a status comparable to the Business Foundation, the Medical Foundation and other fund-raising organizations working for the benefit of the University.

What is the purpose of the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation was established to offer financial aid to worthy student-athletes seeking an education at the University of North Carolina and to support the University's athletic program by providing services and funds for the construction of facilities or purchase of equipment.

How much support does the Educational Foundation actually provide? Since its founding in 1938, the Educational Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, to over 7,000 student-athletes. Nearly 400 student-athletes will be awarded scholarships during the 2001-02 school year at a cost of more than $6.5 million.

What are the different levels of giving to the Educational Foundation?

Little Ram ($100) — Contributions of any amount are welcome, however, individuals contributing $100 or more have the opportunity to purchase season football tickets, the location of which is subject to the point system; gain access to the Rams Room in Kenan Fieldhouse for home football games; participate in football ticket exchanges; qualify for mini-season basketball ticket packages; purchase group travel packages; receive the RamPage Newsletter, car window decals and invitations to annual Foundation functions which feature Carolina coaches as guest speakers.

Ram ($150) — In addition to that above, a Ram donor has the opportunity to receive football and basketball media guides and to participate in basketball ticket exchanges.

Rameses ($375) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Rameses donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of two season football tickets; additional tickets may be purchased, location subject to the point system.

Big Ram ($750) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Big Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of four season football tickets and to receive an assigned parking space.

Super Ram ($1,500) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Super Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of up to eight season football tickets and to receive an assigned parking space.

Can a donor contribute in ways other than through the annual giving program? Yes. Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program consists of $15,000 and $30,000 life memberships as well as $75,000 and $150,000 endowed scholarships which may be set up through various giving vehicles. Various facility projects are in progress as well to which donors may contribute.

Does the Foundation have chapters at the local level? There are currently 45 local Educational Foundation chapters which meet at least once a year. Many of the coaches attend these gatherings, giving donors an early opportunity to hear about recruiting, prospects for the upcoming season and schedules.

Who provides the leadership for the Educational Foundation? The Foundation's outside officers include a Chairman, three Vice-Chairmen, a Secretary, Treasurer, Counsel and Past Chairman. These officers, together with the at-large members, comprise the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee is the decision-making body of the Educational Foundation and reports its actions

Q&A WITH JOHN MONTGOMERY

John Montgomery
President

John Montgomery is in his first year as President of the Educational Foundation. He began his official duties on March 5, 2001. Montgomery came to North Carolina from SMU where he was the Associate Athletic Director for Development and External Affairs. Montgomery replaced Moyer Smith, who led the Foundation since December 1986.

At SMU, Montgomery was responsible for major gifts and annual fundraising for the athletic department from 1996-2001. He directed the capital campaign that resulted in $57 million of gifts and pledges for the construction of the Gerald J. Ford Stadium and the Paul B. Loyd Jr. All-Sports Center.

Since 1995-96, giving to annual programs at SMU increased from $1.3 to $2.3 million, and giving to capital projects and endow- ments grew from $294,000 to $6.1 million.

The 1981 Radford University graduate previously was Associate Athletic Director for Public Affairs at UNC Greensboro (1990-96) and Director of the Athletic Association at his alma mater (1984-90).

Q: What have you done to prepare yourself for this position?

A: Most recently, I was Associate Athletic Director for Development at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. During my four years at SMU, athletics was involved in a University capital campaign and the money was raised to build a new football stadium and an all-sports center. Overall, I have been working in college athletics for 17 years. I did work one year for the Baltimore Orioles. All of my positions have dealt with fund raising or have been sales focused. I received my master's degree in sport management from Western Illinois prior to my work with the Orioles.

Q: What are your goals for the Educational Foundation?

A: My initial goal was to work on a plan for the upcoming campaign while spending time with as many Foundation members as possible. By meeting with our members, I gained an understanding of our organization and it also helped me relate to the needs of our membership. This has helped me as I meet with our staff to work on a long-range plan for the Foundation. Also, we just completed our chapter meetings and I attended as many of those meetings as possible. That was a great experience.

Q: How do you intend to endow every scholarship at North Carolina?

A: Over time I do think we have the opportunity to fully endow our scholarship program. Outstanding work has been done over the years to grow the endowment and our focus on that will continue. In fact, the strength of the scholarship endowment is allowing us to focus on establishing operational endowments for all of our sports and this initiative is extremely important as we move into a new era for college athletics.

Q: In your opinion, what are the most pressing needs of the athletic department that the Foundation can help with?

A: Establishing the operational endowments and continuing to enhance our overall facility plan will be top priorities. The endowments will impact each sport in a number of ways but will basically give our coaches greater resources and flexibility as they operate their programs. Our facility plan is superb. It is second to none. Facilities are so important for every aspect of the program and we must continue to be a leader in this area.

Q: What made you decide to leave SMU and join the North Carolina Educational Foundation?

A: I view the Educational Foundation as the premier athletic fund raising organization, so it was an honor for me to be considered for the position. I was not looking to leave SMU but when this position opened I felt I had to pursue it strictly from a professional standpoint. Personally, it was a wonderful opportunity as my wife's parents live in Virginia Beach and my mother lives in Blacksburg. Needless to say, we are very excited about being here and being part of this great University.

Q: How have you been received at Foundation meetings throughout the state?

A: As I mentioned before, the Foundation meetings were very successful this past spring as attendance increased at almost every meeting. I thought the reception for everyone (we had a number of coaches who were also on the tour for the first time) was wonderful. We all talked about the loyalty and commitment of Carolina fans and how much we enjoyed being with everyone.

Q: Where do you see the Foundation 10 years from now?

A: I believe the upcoming campaign will position the Foundation well for the future particularly relative to endowments and facilities. Our membership will continue to grow and we will continue to put our programs in a position to compete for national championships. I do think the landscape will be ever-changing in college athletics and we will have our share of challenges and opportunities.

EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION OFFICE RELOCATED TO EUROPA CENTER

The Educational Foundation is temporarily relocating its offices to the Europa Center in Chapel Hill.

The Foundation has been housed in Koury Natatorium since the Dean E. Smith Center opened in 1986. The move is necessary as the Foundation is renovating part of the facility next to the swimming pool into a practice gymnasium for the men's basketball team. The practice facility will enable the program to have more flexibility in its practice schedules and pre-game preparations and will enable the Smith Center staff to schedule more non-basketball events in the Smith Center. The Foundation will also gain working space in the new location.

"The Educational Foundation is excited about the opportunity to assist the athletic department in the construction of this practice facility," says John Montgomery. "The addition of a practice facility will allow Coach (Matt) Doherty to maintain a normal practice routine, yet allows the Smith Center staff to schedule functions in the arena. The Foundation will continue to hold events in the practice gym on game days and the athletic department will be able to hold special events there, as well."

The Educational Foundation offices will move to the Europa Center, located off Highway 15-501, at 100 Europa Drive, Suite 371 beginning July 16.

The Foundation will maintain its current reception area in Koury Natatorium and will be open on football and basketball game days only. If members have any questions regarding the move, please contact the Foundation at (919) 945-2000.

How Can As Little As $100 Pay Big Returns?

When It's Invested In Carolina Student-Athletes Through Donations To The Educational Foundation

When you make a contribution to The Educational Foundation, you are not only supporting world-class athletics, but you are also ensuring the future contributions of our student-athletes to society. The far-reaching benefits of your annual donation - even as little as $100 - are impossible to measure in tangible criteria, but you can rest assured every donation pays big returns.

Because UNC ranks nationally in graduating its student-athletes, who go on to pursue professions in a wide variety of fields, your donations are not just going toward the athletic contributions a student might make while at UNC. Rather, your donations enhance the overall academic achievements of many gifted students while they represent our university at the top level of intercollegiate athletic competition.

The Educational Foundation, founded over 60 years ago, now supports 400 student-athletes in 25 varsity sports at UNC. Today's scholarship costs total over $6.5 million annually, and The Foundation is the only source of funds for these scholarships. If it weren't for the generous support of donors such as you, many gifted student-athletes would not receive the opportunity to obtain a superb education at one of the nation's great academic institutions. Consider your donation a wise investment!

You Also Receive Dividends As A Donor. Yearly donations to The Educational Foundation assist not only the men and women who receive athletic scholarships, but also the donors and their families. The following dividends are available at the Little Ram ($100-$149) level of giving:

- An opportunity to purchase season football tickets in Kenan Stadium.
- An opportunity to purchase mini-season basketball ticket packages.
- Access to the Ram's Room in Kenan Fieldhouse.
- Tickets to annual Super Saturday lunch featuring UNC's head basketball and football coaches.
- Invitations to other functions featuring Carolina coaches.
- Priority for tickets and group travel to away football games.
- Invitations to Foundation golf tournaments.
- Car decals, donor card, and the RamPage newsletter.

ANNUAL GIVING LEVELS:

Little Ram ($100-$149)

Ram ($150-$374)

Rameses ($375-$749)

Big Ram ($750-$1,499)

Super Ram ($1,500-or more)

Remember, each additional annual giving level offers even more tangible dividends.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Academic Support Program assists student-athletes in successfully reaching their academic goals. The program supports students in the process of exploring their interests and abilities and in developing a broad academic experience.

The mission of the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes is to provide programs and services integrated with the University community that will address the individual needs of a diverse group of students. These programs and services are designed to promote personal growth and responsibility, to inspire educational excellence and an appreciation for the academic experience, and to culminate in graduation and the fulfillment of life-long goals.

Located primarily in the Pope Academic Support Center, the program opened its doors in 1986. It is equipped with study facilities, a foreign language lab, tutorial rooms, a computer lab, a 128-seat auditorium, counselor's offices, and state-of-the-art video and computer equipment. Students meet with staff to discuss issues related to course selection, major and career exploration, academic progress and academic eligibility.

In the 2000-2001 academic year, 235 student-athletes made the ACC

Academic Honor Roll which requires at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA for the year. In the fall of 2000, 116 student-athletes made the Dean's List and 135 student-athletes did so during the spring 2000 semester.

"We have an athletic program with our priorities in line with the fundamental academic mission of the University," says Athletic Director Dick Baddour.

"Our young people are students first and athletes second and that will always be the case at the University. That is a credit to our coaches, administrators, support staff, but most of all, our student-athletes. Their accomplishments in the classroom are very impressive."

The staff consists of Interim Director Robert Mercer, Associate Directors Burgess

McSwain, Dr. Carl Carey, Susan Maloy; Assistant Director Dr. Kathy Parker; Academic Counselors Marisa Marucci and Heather Murphy; and Administrative Assistant Doug Roberts. They serve approximately 725 student-athletes, planning academic and life skill programming designed to help the student-athlete maximize his or her academic and extracurricular activities.

The Academic Support center is open from 8 a.m. to midnight five days a week and from 7:30 p.m. to midnight on Sundays. Visitors are welcome to tour the facility during after-noon hours.

Computers are also available for football players to use in the players' lounge, adjacent to the locker room in the Smith Center. The computers are equipped with new computers and laser printers complete with a variety of software packages, including word processing, spreadsheets, CD-ROM reference materials, tutorials, internet access and e-mail capability.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

HISTORY

- Carolina was the nation's first state university to open its doors and the only public university to award degrees in the 18th century.
- Authorized by the N.C. Constitution in 1776, the university was chartered by the N.C. General Assembly Dec. 11, 1789, the same year George Washington first was inaugurated as president.
- The cornerstone was laid for Old East, the nation's first state university building, Oct. 12, 1793. Hinton James, the first student, arrived from Wilmington, N.C., Feb. 12, 1795.

LOCATION

- The 729-acre central campus includes the two oldest state university buildings, Old East and Person Hall. Old East and Playmakers Theatre, an 1852 Greek-revival building are National Historic Landmarks.
- The American Society of Landscape Architects selected the Carolina campus as one of the most beautifully landscaped spots in the country. That list, released in 1999 timed to the society's centennial, represents just the latest affirmation of the charm of mighty oaks, majestic quadrangles, brick sidewalks and other landscaping synonymous with UNC.
- A campus master plan approved in spring 2000 by Carolina's trustees represents a visionary look forward, offering a striking view of how the campus should exist in the long-term future to meet the needs of students, faculty, staff and the surrounding community. The plan aims to capture the ambience of north campus in the Polk Place and McCorkle Place quadrangles and use it to transform the southern region of campus into an equally wonderful place in which to learn, teach, work and live.

RECENT RANKINGS

- In the U.S. News and World Report magazine's 2000 "Annual Guide to America's Best Colleges," UNC tied for third among the nation's top public universities and tied for 25th overall among both public and private campuses. Among undergraduate business programs, the Kenan-Flagler Business School tied for fifth nationwide in the same issue of the magazine.
- U.S. News also ranked 25 graduate degree programs and specialty areas at UNC among the top 25 nationwide, in March 2001. The magazine rated programs in the schools of business, education, law, medicine, public health, and master's and doctoral programs in the College of Arts and Sciences and other units. Several schools, degree programs and specialty areas were in the top 10.
- The Fiske Guide to Colleges called UNC one of the 19 public universities in the United States and Canada that were the "best college buys" for 2001. Such schools offer "remarkable educational opportunities at a relatively modest cost."
- The January 2001 issue of Black Enterprise magazine placed Carolina 14th in its "Black Enterprise-DayStar Top 50 Colleges and Universities for African Americans" list, up from 19th the previous year and the highest ranking among major public universities. DayStar, a research firm, gathered the data for the list, which is based on responses to questions about which schools were both a good academic and social fit for African-American students.

- Business Week magazine ranked the Kenan-Flagler Business School's master of business administration program 15th in its 2000 rankings of the "Best Business Schools" published in October. Making up the overall ranking were a graduate ranking of 11th and a corporate ranking of 16th. In special mentions, the school ranked fifth for "schools that are best responding to student concerns" and for "greatest rise in MBA satisfaction."
- In October 2000, Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine rated UNC first among a list of the 100 best buys in U.S. public colleges and universities because of its combination of top-quality academics and low cost. Kiplinger's called UNC "a place where high achievers are in good company."

KEY STATISTICS

- Now in its third century, UNC belongs to the select group of 61 campuses forming the Association of American Universities. UNC's academic offerings span more than 100 fields, including 84 bachelor's, 165 master's and 108 doctoral degrees as well as professional degrees in dentistry, medicine, pharmacy and law. Five health schools -- which, with UNC Hospitals, comprise one of the nation's most complete academic medical centers -- are integrated with liberal arts, basic sciences and high-tech academic programs.
- In fall 2000, Carolina enrolled 24,872 students from all 100 North Carolina counties, the other 49 states and nearly 100 other countries. Eighty-two percent of Carolina's 15,608 undergraduates were from North Carolina. Sixty-three percent of Carolina's students were undergraduates, 28 percent graduates and another 9 percent were professional degree-seekers.
- Those students learn from a faculty that totaled 2,782 in fall 2000. Many of those faculty members hold or have held major posts in virtually every national scholarly or professional organization and have earned election to the most prestigious academic groups.
- Carolina's 227,388 alumni live in all 50 states and around the world. Notable alumni include writers Thomas Wolfe, Shelby Foote and Jill McCorkle; athletes Michael Jordan, Vince Carter, Mia Hamm, Marion Jones and Davis Love III; and journalists Roger Mudd, Charles Kuralt, Stuart Scott and Tom Wicker. Others include former White House Chief of Staff Erskine Bowles; former White House Communications Director Don Baer; U.S. Sen. John Edwards; Bill Harrison, chief executive officer of Chase Manhattan Bank; Scott Livengood, Krispy Kreme Doughnut chairman, president and chief executive officer; U.S. President James Polk; geneticist Francis Collins; actors Jack Palance, George Grizzard and Andy Griffith, as well as actresses Louise Fletcher and Sharon Lawrence; editorial cartoonist Jeff MacNelly; corporate banker Hugh McColl; and fashion designer Alexander Julian.

STUDENTS

- Recent freshman classes at Carolina have set new standards of excellence as measured by the rigorous coursework students have taken, as well as their grades and SAT scores. The incoming freshmen of 2001 are continuing that trend. Besides setting a new record for high school preparation, the newest class will become the very best group of first-year students Carolina has ever admitted.

- UNC students have a long tradition of outstanding achievement. Thirty-five have been awarded the Rhodes Scholarship since it was created in 1902, including the first U.S. black woman recipient. Twelve UNC students have won the Rhodes since 1980.

- UNC students regularly win other prestigious merit awards in the United States and abroad. In 2001, for example, UNC produced its 22nd Luce Scholar, economics major Alex Mehfar, through a program funded by the Henry Luce Foundation. Julius Lucks, a chemistry major, earned a Churchill Scholarship, one of only 11 awarded nationwide, to study at the University of Cambridge in England. Lucks also received a prestigious Hertz Fellowship, one of 25 awarded by the Fannie and John Hertz Foundation, to support his graduate work.

LEARNING

- This fall's freshman class will be the second wave of Carolina students required to own laptop computers as part of the Carolina Computing Initiative. In 2000, 3,400 Chapel Hill freshmen became the largest class in the United States ever required to own laptops during the first year of the initiative's implementation. Students can access a world of knowledge at their fingertips and communicate with faculty and peers with just a few keystrokes.
- Carolina is making it easier for students and others with laptops to connect to the Internet, e-mail and the campus computer network – whether they are in classrooms, labs, libraries and nearby outdoor sites – thanks to new wireless technology. Wireless access points are being installed at key locations on campus, allowing students whose computers have adapter cards to connect to cyberspace without physically plugging into the campus network.
- On Oct. 12, 2001, Carolina will launch the largest fund-raising campaign in its history and build upon impressive recent progress in seeking the private support that will help determine the university's future excellence. Private gifts create scholarships and professorships, purchase library collections and benefit academic units campuswide.

FACULTY

- Two professors recently were elected to the National Academy of Sciences: Fred P. Brooks Jr., Kenan professor of computer science, and Maurice S. Brookhart, Kenan professor of chemistry. UNC-Chapel Hill now has 10 faculty members in the prestigious academy. Carolina also has five members of the National Academy of Engineering, 20 members of the Institute of Medicine and 23 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.
- Joe DeSimone, Kenan professor of chemistry, received the 2000 O. Max Gardner Award, the highest honor bestowed by the UNC Board of Governors, for his pioneering research that uses carbon dioxide as a replacement for water and solvents in a variety of synthetic and manufacturing processes. The award recognizes faculty who have "made the greatest contributions to the welfare of the human race."
- Jacquelyn Hall, founder of the Southern Oral History Project, won a 1999 National Humanities Medal for helping preserve access to resources in the humanities.

RESEARCH

- Carolina topped $375 million in contracts and grants for research, teaching and public service in fiscal 2000, a 9 percent hike over the previous year. Much of the increase resulted from a 20 percent jump in National Institutes of Health funding. UNC-Chapel Hill's $207 million from the NIH places the university 13th overall among private and public universities nationwide. Carolina also is the top public university in the South and one of only five Southern universities – public or private – among the NIH's top 20. NIH is the federal government's biomedical research arm.

- Carolina has committed at least $245 million over the next decade to the emerging field of genome sciences. The campuswide initiative, which represents public and private investments, will allow Carolina to be a driving force in determining how the genomics revolution will change the way we treat human diseases, design drugs and grow crops. This collaborative effort includes construction of four new buildings to house genomics research, more than $50 million in recurring funds for 40 new faculty positions and a $25 million anonymous gift to create the Michael Hooker Center for Proteomics to study a specialized area of genetics.

EDUCATIONAL AND CULTURAL RESOURCES

- UNC has broken ground for the new Sonja Haynes Stone Black Cultural Center building. The 44,500-square-foot, $9 million building – funded entirely by private donations – will house seminar rooms, classrooms, a 10,000-volume special library, a 400-seat theater, art gallery, dance studio, multipurpose room for performances, lectures and meetings, and offices for the Upward Bound program, the Institute of African American Research and the Stone Center. Construction is expected to be completed in 2003. Now based in the Frank Porter Graham Student Union, the center is one of the nation's leading centers for research, teaching, learning and public service related to black history and culture.
- From the Ackland Art Museum to the Morehead Planetarium to the North Carolina Botanical Garden, Carolina offers a vast array of educational and cultural opportunities. The Ackland exhibits from a permanent collection of more than 15,000 works of art, particularly rich in Old Master paintings and sculptures by artists including Degas, Rubens and Picasso; Indian miniatures; Japanese paintings; and North Carolina folk art. Astronomy enthusiasts and schoolchildren from across North Carolina enjoy the Morehead Planetarium. Besides its displays of native and unusual plants and its nature trails, the Botanical Garden offers art exhibits, nature walks and courses on topics ranging from home gardening to botanical illustration.

PUBLIC SERVICE

- UNC's public service programs reach every region of North Carolina, helping communities protect public health, improve schools and medical services, stimulate business, plan for growth, understand cultural heritage, and enrich the quality of people's daily lives. Launched in 1999, the Carolina Center for Public Service coordinates and catalyzes campus outreach activities around the state. Other mainstays of UNC's public service efforts include the Institute of Government, the nation's largest and most diversified university-based government training and research organization, and the N.C. Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Program, which is based at the School of Medicine and helps meet health-care needs statewide.
- Destiny, Carolina's traveling science laboratory, takes the latest technology and teaching tools to North Carolina schools. The 40-foot bus - dubbed "The Best Thing in Science Education to Hit the Road" - is full of state-of-the-art equipment for wet laboratory experiments, Internet exploration and carefully honed curriculum materials. The project, supported by a grant from GlaxoSmithKline and equipment from IBM, is among the first of its kind nationwide. Destiny's key goal is to increase student access to modern-day science and information-technology learning, especially in underserved and rural areas.

LOU GROZA CANDIDATE JEFF REED

Jeff Reed made 16 of 20 field goals in 2000 and all 30 point after attempts and was one of 20 semifinalists for the Lou Groza Award, annually presented to the nation's best place-kicker. A native of Charlotte, N.C., Reed began the year as a fourth-year walk-on, but was awarded a scholarship earlier that season and will return in 2001 for his final year of eligibility.

Reed kicked off 59 times and 24 went for touchbacks, a percentage of .408.

SCHOOL SACK RECORD FALLS

Carolina's defense posted a school-record 53 sacks in 2000, breaking the old mark of 45 set in 1990. Defensive end Julius Peppers led the Tar Heels with 15 sacks, defensive end Joey Evans had eight, defensive tackle Ryan Sims had six, linebacker Sedrick Hodge had seven and defensive end Ross McAllister had five. Carolina had just 20 sacks in 1999.

Carolina led the ACC with 53 sacks (4.8 per game) and had at least three sacks in every game.

98-YARD DRIVE VS. PITT

- Carolina's 98-yard fourth-quarter drive at Pittsburgh was the Tar Heels' longest drive since a 98-yard drive in the fourth quarter on Sept. 19, 1998 at Stanford. The last time Carolina had a drive longer than 98 yards was a 99-yard drive on Sept. 13, 1997 vs. Stanford in Kenan Stadium.

STANDOUT WIDE RECEIVERS

- Carolina had some outstanding play from its wide receivers in 2000. One of the top quartet of receivers in the country, Kory Bailey, Bosley Allen, Sam Aiken and Jamal Jones turned in some dazzling performances in 2000.

- Those four combined to catch 116 passes for 1,871 yards (16.1 average) and 10 touchdowns.

- Carolina receivers caught 40 passes of at least 20 yards, including nine plays of 50 or more yards.

Highlights include:

- Against Georgia Tech, Bailey caught a 78-yard touchdown pass from Ronald Curry that equaled the longest TD pass play in Kenan Stadium history. In that game, Carolina also connected on pass plays of 54 yards to Allen and 50 yards to Jones.

- In the fourth quarter at Wake Forest, Allen had a 60-yard touchdown catch that sealed the Tar Heel victory. Against the Deacons, Carolina also had catches of 51 yards to Allen and 46 yards to Aiken.

- Against Clemson, Curry connected with Jones and Aiken on two 57-yard pass plays, setting up UNC touchdowns.

- Bailey's 129 yards receiving vs. Clemson were the most by a Tar Heel since Na Brown, Brandon Spoon returned after missing the bulk of the 1999 season and led Carolina with 131 tackles.

now with the Philadelphia Eagles, had 142 yards vs. Maryland on Nov. 7, 1998. It was the second-most productive day for a UNC receiver vs. Clemson. L.C. Stevens had 169 yards vs. the Tigers in 1997.

TURNOVER TROUBLES

- Carolina has had difficulty in 2000 causing turnovers and taking advantage of opponents' mistakes. The Tar Heels finished 104th in the nation in turnover margin and caused just 14 turnovers in 11 games (seven fumbles, seven interceptions).

- Carolina forced 14 turnovers and converted seven into scores. UNC opponents forced 24 turnovers and converted 10 into scores.

TAR HEELS FAIL TO GET INTERCEPTIONS

- Carolina did not intercept a pass in 2000 until the fifth game of the season against Georgia Tech when Errol Hood picked off George Godsey in the third quarter. It was the opponents' 158th pass attempt of the season. Cornerback Michael Waddell picked up UNC's second interception of the season two possessions later and had a 16-yard return. The Tar Heels made just seven interceptions in 2000, the fewest since 1971 when UNC had six.

CAROLINA 30, TULSA 9

September 2, 2000
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Junior quarterback Ronald Curry had 261 yards of total offense, red-shirt freshmen Willie Parker and Jamal Jones combined to score three touchdowns and the Carolina defense allowed just 19 rushing yards as the Tar Heels opened the 2000 season with a 30-9 win over Tulsa.

The game was delayed at the start by 13 minutes due to possible lightning in the area. Rain fell throughout most of the contest.

Curry led Carolina with 69 yards rushing and completed 12 of 22 passes for another 192 yards. He broke open a 10-3 game early in the third quarter as he avoided a sack on a corner blitz, scrambled to his right and flicked a 55-yard scoring bomb to Jones, a red-shirt freshman wide receiver. It was the first reception of Jones' career and the second-longest touchdown strike by Curry.

The touchdown from Curry to Jones sparked a 17-point third quarter by the Tar Heels in which they extended their 10-3 halftime lead to 27-3.

Four different UNC receivers had at least three receptions, led by Kory Bailey, who had five catches for 49 yards. Jones had three for 85 yards, Sam Aiken had three for 68 yards, and Bosley Allen added three for 11 yards.

Brandon Russell was one of three rookie tailbacks to see action. Russell, who had 25 yards on 10 carries, became the first true freshman to start a season opener at tailback since Charlie Justice in 1946.

Parker, a red-shirt freshman, had 17 yards on 10 attempts, but scored a pair of touchdowns on short runs.

The game marked the return of

linebacker Brandon Spoon, who missed the last nine games of the 1999 season due to injury. Spoon led a UNC defense that allowed the Hurricane just 0.7 yards per rushing attempt. Tulsa amassed just 233 total offense yards, 78 of which came on a touchdown pass in the fourth quarter when a UNC defender slipped on the wet turf.

Safety Billy-Dee Greenwood and Spoon had 14 and 11 tackles, respectively, to lead the Tar Heels. Defensive tackle Ryan Sims had seven tackles, including two for losses, one of which was a quarterback sack. Ross McAllister and Sedrick Hodge also added sacks.

Tulsa opened the scoring on its first drive with a 41-yard field goal, but Carolina took the lead for good on its second drive of the game on an 11-play, 47-yard touchdown drive which was capped by a 1-yard run by Parker. The Tar Heels converted three third-down chances, including a 9-yard pass from Antwon Black to Parker which pushed the ball to the 4-yard line.

With UNC leading 17-3, Curry and Jones set up Parker's second score. Facing 3rd-and-16 at the Tulsa 31, Curry hit Jones, who danced down the sideline for 25 yards. Two plays later, Parker scored from three yards out.

Senior place-kickers Jeff Reed and Chris Bender combined to make three of four field goal attempts. The Tar Heels also averaged 14 yards on six punt returns.

The win was Carolina's first in a season opener since a 23-6 triumph over Indiana in 1997.

CAROLINA 35, WAKE FOREST 14

September 9, 2000
@ Groves Stadium
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Bosley Allen returned a punt 78 yards for a touchdown and caught a 60-yard scoring strike from Ronald Curry to lead the Tar Heels to a 35-14 win over Wake Forest. The win was Carolina's 10th in 11 games against Wake Forest and sixth in a row in Winston-Salem.

Allen compiled 264 all-purpose yards, including 153 on seven punt returns and caught two passes for 111 yards. The Bradenton, Fla., native broke open a six-point game in the fourth quarter when he caught a punt at the UNC 22-yard line, got a block from David Scott and sprinted down the right sideline. Allen eluded a number of tacklers and scored on an electrifying run. The 78-yard return was Carolina's first punt return for a score since 1996 and the longest by a Tar Heel since Marcus Wall's 82-yarder against Texas in the 1994 Sun Bowl.

Willie Parker rushed for a two-point conversion to increase UNC's lead to 28-14. Just over three minutes later, Curry rolled left and hit Allen behind the secondary for a 60-yard touchdown. It was Allen's first collegiate touchdown reception.

Wake Forest led 7-3 midway through the second quarter when Curry put the Tar Heels on top. Facing 3rd-and-12 from the Deacon 46, Curry hit Sam Aiken on a deep post for 46 yards and a score.

Wake Forest took the lead going into halftime, however, when defensive end Bryan Ray sacked Curry in the end zone, stripped the ball and fell on the fumble for a touchdown.

Julius Peppers's 12-yard fumble recovery for a third-quarter touchdown put Carolina ahead for good against the Demon Deacons.

Carolina returned the favor on the Deacons' first offensive series in the third quarter. Linebacker Sedrick Hodge forced a fumble which Julius Peppers picked up and returned 12 yards for a go-ahead touchdown. Carolina would not relinquish the lead.

Hodge's tackle was one of 16 negative-yardage stops by the Carolina defense. The Tar Heels sacked C.J. Leak 10 times, including two each for Peppers, Ryan Sims, Ross McAllister and Joey Evans.

Carolina held Wake Forest to minus two yards rushing (55 yards gained, minus 57 lost including sacks) and 2.2 yards per play. The Deacons compiled 162 total yards, punted 11 times and completed just 14 of 34 pass attempts. Wake Forest gained more than half its total yards - 88 yards - on its first quarter touchdown drive.

Wake Forest ran 42 second-half plays and gained only 48 total yards.

Curry completed six of 12 passes for 143 yards and two touchdowns, but was sacked five times for 51 yards.

Carolina averaged just 2.6 yards per rush overall. Excluding the quarterback sacks, the Tar Heels rushed 44 times for 180 yards, an average of 4.1 yards per attempt.

Freshman Andre Williams led UNC with 40 yards on five carries.

Tallahassee, Fla.

Florida State rode the arm of Chris Weinke, the running of Travis Minor and four Carolina turnovers to a 63-14 win over the Tar Heels at Doak Campbell Stadium in Tallahassee. FSU's 63 points were the most allowed by a UNC team since 1912 and the second-most overall.

Weinke completed 12 of 22 passes for 262 yards and four touchdowns, and Minor ran 16 times for 112 yards to pace the second-ranked Seminoles in front of 79,287 fans. Seven different FSU players made at least one reception, including Marvin Minnis, who caught five passes for 132 yards and two scores.

After surrendering two early touchdowns to the high-powered Seminole offense, Carolina battled back and trailed just 14-7 after one quarter. The Tar Heels failed to gain a first down until its fourth possession of the contest, but on that series Carolina marched 90 yards on 10 plays for its first touchdown of the game, an 11-yard run by Anthony Saunders.

Ronald Curry completed two third-down pass attempts to extend the drive – a 12-yarder to Sam Aiken and a 24-yarder to Bosley Allen.

Leading 14-7 at the end of the first 15 minutes, FSU exploded for three touchdowns and a field goal in a 5:45 stretch of the second quarter to push ahead 36-7 at the half. The Seminoles scored two of their three touchdowns after recovering UNC fumbles inside Carolina's 20-yard line.

Florida State continued to roll in the second half. Weinke connected with Minnis just 2:13 into the second half on a 35-yard TD strike for a 43-7 advantage. Carolina finally got back on the Quarterback Ronald Curry threw for 292 yards and two fourth-quarter touchdowns to lead the Tar Heels to an exciting 20-15 win over Marshall. The loss was just the Herd's sixth in the last five years.

Ronald Curry threw two fourth-quarter touchdowns to lead Carolina over Marshall.

Curry completed 24 of 39 passes for the second-highest passing yardage game of his career. He had career highs for pass attempts and completions.

Trailing 9-6 after three quarters, Carolina struck for a pair of touchdowns in the first 5:17 of the final quarter to take the lead.

Facing 3rd-and-10 from the Marshall 16-yard line, Curry scrambled and found Kory Bailey for a touchdown. That was the second time on the drive that Curry hit Bailey for a third-down conversion; Marshall was flagged for a substitution infraction on another 3rd-and-5 to extend the drive.

Leading 13-9, the Tar Heel defense forced a punt and three plays later, Curry hit Bosley Allen for a 49-yard touchdown.

With 7:50 to play, two banks of stadium lights went out causing a 14-minute delay. Upon returning to action, Marshall marched 49 yards in two plays and moved within 20-15 on a 12-yard touchdown run by Brandon Carey.

Carolina took over at its own 22-yard line with 7:09 to play. Thirteen plays, 70 yards and 7:09 later, the Tar Heels had run out the clock and the game was over. Freshmen Brandon Russell, who led all rushers with 79 yards, gained 34 yards on six carries and Andre Williams added 16 yards on three attempts during the drive.

This was the first time Carolina had rallied for a win when trailing after three periods since a 21-14 win over Clemson in 1998.

It marked the first time in Curry's career he passed for 200-plus yards in consecutive contests.

Jeff Reed, who was awarded a scholarship earlier in the week, converted both of his field goal attempts from 48 and 39 yards.

Bailey caught six passes for 101 yards, the first 100-yard receiving game of his career. It was the second straight week Bailey had posted a career high in receiving yards. He had 85 a week earlier at Florida State.

Tight end Alge Crumpler had just one reception in the first three games, but had five catches for 38 yards against Marshall.

The Tar Heel defense held Marshall to only three of 12 on third down conversions and held the Herd to 90 rushing yards. Marshall quarterback Byron Leftwich was sacked four times – by Will Chapman, Eric Davis and Joey Evans – and was knocked down and pressured a number of other times.

Carolina had 25 first downs, its highest total since having 29 in a win at Indiana in the second week of the 1999 season.

The 24 completions by Curry were the most in a game by the Tar Heels since Oscar Davenport had 26 in a 1997 win at Georgia Tech.

GEORGIA TECH 42, CAROLINA 28

September 30, 2000
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Joe Burns rushed for 123 yards and scored four touchdowns, including a pair of short runs in the final 4:02 to lead Georgia Tech to a 42-28 win over the Tar Heels.

Burns' heroics spoiled an outstanding effort by Carolina quarterback Ronald Curry, who threw for a career-high 388 yards and three touchdowns. Curry accounted for 400 total offense yards, the third-highest figure in Carolina history and the most ever by a Tar Heel at Kenan Stadium.

Burns became the first UNC opponent to score four touchdowns in a game since Priest Holmes of Texas did it in the 1994 Sun Bowl. Burns rushed for scores from 1, 1 and 2 yards out and caught an 11-yard scoring pass from George Godsey.

Curry's 388 passing yards are the highest figure by a Tar Heel in Kenan Stadium history and were the third-highest figure by any player in Kenan Stadium. He also posted the third-best passing yardage game in school history.

He connected with Kory Bailey on a 78-yard touchdown pass to tie the stadium record for longest TD pass.

Carolina led 7-0 after a 7-yard Curry to Sam Aiken touchdown on UNC's first drive. The Tar Heels had a chance to go ahead 14-0, but a Curry to Alge Crumpler touchdown was called back because of an ineligible man downfield. On the next play, Curry was picked off at the 4-yard line.

After the Yellow Jackets tied the game at 7-7, Crumpler did find the end zone after taking a pass from Curry along the left sideline and racing 59 yards for a touchdown.

Burns scored on a 1-yard run late in the first half to tie the game. The Yellow Jackets then scored twice in a span of 2:14 in the third quarter on a pair of botched UNC punts.

Alge Crumpler's 59-yard TD from Ronald Curry was UNC's third-longest pass play of the season.

First, Carolina punter Blake Ferguson dropped the snap and was tackled at the 12-yard line. Godsey capitalized on the mistake with an 11-yard scoring pass to Burns.

One series later, Chris Young raced around the corner and blocked Ferguson's punt. The ball rolled into the end zone where Tony Hollings recovered for a touchdown.

Curry quickly got the Tar Heels back into the game as he hit Bailey for the 78-yard touchdown. Bailey pulled his right hamstring going for the pass and limped across the goalline.

Curry tied the game at 28-28 with 9:27 to play in the fourth quarter on a dazzling, 46-yard run.

The Yellow Jackets then went on a 12-play, 68-yard march on which they converted two third downs and scored on a Burns run from the 1 on fourth down.

Carolina was then forced to punt. Burns got 51 yards on 3rd-and-1 to set up his final score from two yards out.

The Tar Heels amassed 477 total yards and had 20 first downs. Tech had 372 yards.

Curry was 17 for 31 and Godsey completed 21 of 30 for 238. Brandon Spoon had 18 tackles for Carolina.

NC STATE 38, CAROLINA 20

October 14, 2000
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Ray Robinson rushed for 110 yards and one touchdown and backup tailback Cotra Jackson came off the bench in the fourth quarter and ran for 94 yards and two scores to lead NC State to a 38-20 win over Carolina.

The win snapped a seven-game win streak by the Tar Heels over the Wolfpack.

Robinson sprained his foot early in the fourth quarter with State leading 24-20. Jackson scored on a 7-yard run moments after a Tar Heel fumble with 10:56 to play gave the Pack a 31-20 lead and added a 3-yard touchdown with 49 seconds to play for the final margin.

Carolina held freshman Philip Rivers to 13 completions for 202 yards and sacked him five times, but Robinson and Jackson combined for 204 rushing yards. The Tar Heels also held State receiver Koren Robinson to just two receptions.

Freshman Brandon Russell led the Tar Heels with 96 rushing yards on 28 attempts, both season highs. Russell scored on a 2-yard run in the first quarter.

Carolina quarterback Ronald Curry completed 11 of 24 passes for 114 yards, one game after throwing for 388 yards against Georgia Tech. Curry scored on a 6-yard run in the second quarter.

The Wolfpack led 10-7 in the second quarter when a fake punt attempt by the Tar Heels was thwarted and State took over at the Carolina 27-yard line. Three plays later, Rivers found Bryan Peterson alone for a 10-yard touchdown and a 17-7 lead.

Following a Carolina punt, Ray Robinson carried five straight plays and capped a 38-yard drive with a 2-yard run to give State a 24-7 lead with 9:41 to play in the first half.

Curry led Carolina on an 11-play, 84-yard drive to get back into the game. He scrambled for 19 yards and a first down on a 3rd-and-16 play deep in UNC territory, then hit Kory Bailey for 21 yards on 4th-and-5 later in the drive. Curry capped the drive by slashing through the left side of the Wolfpack defense for a touchdown.

A sack by Julius Peppers forced a Wolfpack punt that the Tar Heels converted into a 33-yard field goal by Jeff Reed just before the half to narrow the deficit to 24-17.

Curry found Alge Crumpler for 33 yards to start the third quarter as Carolina moved to 1st-and-goal at the 4, but the Pack held Reed to a short field goal to close within 24-20. The Tar Heels would get no closer.

Early in the fourth quarter, after holding State to four punts and a missed field goal in the second half, Carolina had the ball at its own 20-yard line trailing just 24-20. But on the first play of the series, defensive end Shane Riggs sacked Curry from the blind side and forced a fumble that Dantonio Burnette recovered. Moments later Jackson scored from 7 yards out to clinch the victory.

@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Carolina jumped out to an early 17-0 lead but the third-ranked Clemson Tigers roared back with 31 unanswered points en route to a 38-24 victory.

Heisman Trophy candidate Woodrow Dantzler was unable to put the Tigers on the scoreboard, and the Tar Heels forced him out of the game in the second quarter due to injury. Dantzler's replacement, red-shirt freshman Willie Simmons, led the Clemson comeback as he threw for a school-record-tying four touchdowns and 218 yards. Wide receiver Rod Gardner set a Tiger record with 182 receiving yards and equalled a school mark with three touchdown catches.

The Tar Heels built their 17-point advantage by 12:18 of the second quarter. Jeff Reed kicked a 26-yard field goal to open the scoring, capping a drive on which Ronald Curry converted third-down passes to Kory Bailey for 18 and 31 yards.

Curry then went deep to Jamal Jones for 57 yards and scrambled 13 yards to set up a 2-yard touchdown run by Brandon Russell.

Moments later, Curry hit Sam Aiken for 57 yards and scored on a 6-yard run to give the Tar Heels a 17-0 edge.

Midway through the first half, Dantzler ran for 29 yards, but was knocked out of the game with an ankle injury after being hit by safety DeFonte Coleman.

Simmons came off the bench, however, to lead the Tigers to the comeback win. On his first drive, he tossed a 29-yard touchdown pass to Jackie Robinson.

The Tigers forced a punt and five plays later Simmons and Gardner connected on a 20-yard touchdown.

On the next to last play of the first half, Curry was sandwiched between two defenders and an offensive lineman and suffered a sprained right knee. He was carried off the field, but did return to the game after missing just one series in the third

The Tar Heel defense forced Clemson to punt on the first drive of the second half, but Jamie Somiani's punt was ruled by the officials to have grazed Bosley Allen's hand. Allen did not cover the ball and the Tigers fell on it at the UNC 30-yard line. Eight plays later, Aaron Hunt kicked a 22-yard field goal to tie the game at 17.

The Tigers took the lead for the first time when Simmons and Gardner beat the Tar Heels deep for 43 yards and a score.

Simmons engineered another touchdown drive on Clemson's next series, which followed a missed 49-yard field goal try by Reed. Simmons passed for 21 yards to Travis Zachery, ran for 11 yards and then hit Gardner with a 25-yard touchdown pass.

The Tar Heels finally answered and got back within seven points. Curry found Bailey for 41 yards to set up a 1-yard TD plunge by full-back Anthony Saunders.

Carolina got the ball back with 3:39 to play, trailing 31-24, but Curry was intercepted by line-backer Keith Adams, who returned it to the 2-yardline.

Both teams gained more than 400 yards and the Tar Heels had 22 first downs to 19 for the Tigers. Clemson was penalized 15 times for 119 yards.

Curry was 18 for 34 for 314 yards. Bailey had seven catches for a career-high 129 yards.

VIRGINIA 17, CAROLINA 6

October 30, 2000
@ Scott Stadium
Charlottesville, Va.

The Tar Heels dominated the game statistically, but Virginia scored two touchdowns and kept Carolina from the end zone en route to a 17-6 win.

Carolina ran 40 more offensive plays (88 to 48), made 12 more first downs (23 to 11) and piled up 153 more total yards (380 to 227).

Alge Crumpler tied a career high with five catches against the Cavaliers.

A fumble, an interception in the end zone and two missed field goals limited the Tar Heels to just six points on the afternoon.

Carolina had possession of the ball for 37 minutes and 29 seconds, including 21:15 in the first two quarters.

Defensively, Carolina forced seven punts in 10 full possessions, sacked UVa quarterback Dan Ellis five times in 20 passing attempts, and limited the Cavaliers to only two third-down conversions in 11 attempts.

Defensive end Julius Peppers earned ACC Player of the Week honors for his performance. Peppers had nine solo tackles, including four quarterback sacks and two other tackles for losses. It was the second time in his career he registered four sacks in a game.

Carolina scored on the first series of the game when Jeff Reed capped a 16-play, 71-yard march with a 26-yard field goal. A roughing the punter penalty against Virginia near midfield and three third-down conversions by UNC kept the drive alive. The Tar Heels would only convert two third-down chances the rest of the game, however.

Virginia's initial two offensive series netted a combined minus six yards, but the Wahoos took the lead for good on their third series. Antwoine Womack rushed on four of the nine plays from scrimmage, including runs of 31 and 13 yards. The latter gave the Cavaliers a 7-3 lead with 10:34 to play in the first half.

The Tar Heels threatened to score on the ensuing possession.

Ronald Curry hit Kory Bailey for 19 yards and fullback James Faison rushed for 16 yards to get in UVa territory. At the 34-yard line, fullback Anthony Saunders fumbled and the Cavaliers recovered.

Moments later, Curry and Willie Parker had long runs to advance to the Virginia 34, but the drive stalled. Reed's 48-yard field goal attempt was no good.

Carolina drove to the Virginia 15-yard line early in the third quarter, but Curry was picked off in the end zone.

Reed did convert a 39-yard attempt in the third quarter to pull the Tar Heels within a point. Curry connected on a 27-yard pass to Bosley Allen and a 10-yarder to Alge Crumpler to set up the score.

Virginia answered, however, on its next possession. Tyree

Foreman carried on four of the first six plays. On the seventh play, Foreman took a handoff from Ellis, then lofted a 22-yard completion to Kevin Coffey. On the next play, Tavon Mason ran for 22 yards and a touchdown on a reverse.

The Tar Heels had two fourth-quarter drives end on downs in Virginia territory. Facing 4th-and-2 from the UVa 40, Curry was sacked for a 5-yard loss with 13:44 to play; with just over a minute remaining, the Tar Heels had a 14-play drive end at the Cavalier 14-yard line on an incomplete pass on 4th-and-7.

Curry was 22 for 39 for 223 yards. Crumpler, Aiken and Allen each had five catches. Parker had a season-high 71 rushing yards.

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Freshman tailback Willie Parker scored one touchdown and set up another with a pair of long runs to lead the Tar Heels to a 20-17, non-conference triumph at Pittsburgh.

The win snapped a four-game losing streak by the Tar Heels and assured Carolina of a perfect 3-0 mark against non-ACC foes in 2000.

Parker led the Tar Heels with 61 rushing yards on 16 carries. He scored on an 8-yard run off a trick play in the opening quarter and set up the Tar Heels' other touchdown in the fourth quarter with a 25-yard run and a 34-yard pass catch-and-run.

The Panthers passed for 344 yards, but advanced into the red zone (inside UNC's 20-yard line) on just one occasion and that did not come until late in the fourth quarter.

Carolina, however, made five trips into the red zone and came away with two touchdowns and two field goals.

Defensive end Julius Peppers dominated the line of scrimmage for the second consecutive week. Peppers had seven tackles, including three quarterback sacks for 25 yards. That gave him seven sacks in the last two games.

Overall, the Tar Heels had six sacks and limited the Panthers to 63 yards rushing.

Carolina recovered three Pittsburgh fumbles, and committed just two turnovers. It was the first time in nine games this season the Tar Heels forced more turnovers than the opposition.

The Panthers took a 3-0 lead on a 29-yard field goal by Nick Lotz.

Late in the first quarter, Ronald Curry scrambled for eight yards to pick up a key first down and then hit Bosley Allen for 24 yards to the Pittsburgh 8-yard line. On the next play, Curry took the snap, snuck the ball to Parker, and rolled out to his right. The defense followed Curry, while Parker dashed to the left for an 8-yard score.

In the second quarter, UNC safety Dexter Reid recovered a fumbled punt to set up a 33-yard field by Jeff Reed that gave the Tar Heels a 10-3 advantage.

Moments later, Panther quarterback John Turman connected on a 84-yard scoring pass to Antonio Bryant. The ball was underthrown, but a Tar Heel tipped the ball to Bryant, who finished the game with eight catches for 212 yards.

Late in the first half, Curry led the Tar Heels on a 10-play, 53-yard drive that resulted in a 32-yard field goal by Reed.

Reed kicked off five times and had five touchbacks. His performance was a key part of Pittsburgh having an average starting field position of its own 22-yard line. Conversely, the Tar Heels began on average at their own 40.

The Tar Heels began a drive at their own 2-yard line with 10:20 to play in the fourth quarter. On 2nd-and-8, Curry hit Allen for 12 yards. Parker then ripped off a 25-yard run and caught a screen pass from Curry and dashed 34 yards to the Panther 25. A defensive pass interference penalty put the ball at the 2-yard line, where Anthony Saunders scored to give Carolina a 20-10 lead with 5:52 remaining.

Pittsburgh scored and got the ball back with 2:00 left, but Peppers ended any threat with a sack.

CAROLINA 13, MARYLAND 10

November 11, 2000
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Freshman tailback Willie Parker rushed for 158 yards and quarterback Ronald Curry scored on a 25-yard run midway through the fourth quarter to lead the Tar Heels to a 13-10, come-from-behind win over the Maryland Terrapins.

The win was Carolina's seventh in a row over the Terps at Kenan Stadium. Maryland has not won in Chapel Hill since 1988.

The Tar Heels earned the victory despite not converting a third down opportunity until the fourth quarter. UNC converted twice on the drive in which Curry scored to give the Tar Heels the lead. Curry completed seven passes on the day for 42 yards, the fewest passing yards in a game by the Tar Heels since the 20-13 win over San Diego State in the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl. It was the fewest passing yards in a regular-season contest since a 1993 win over Ohio University.

Linebacker Brandon Spoon was spectacular in his final contest at Kenan Stadium. Spoon registered a career-high 23 tackles and had three tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

The Tar Heels limited Maryland tailback LaMont Jordan to 101 yards on 27 carries, an average of 3.7 yards per carry.

Jordan was out-distanced by Parker, who became the first UNC player to top 100 yards in a game since Anthony Saunders had 110 at Georgia Tech in 1999.

Parker rushed 21 times and had a 61-yard run. His 158-yard performance was the fifth-best rushing game by a Tar Heel against the Terps. The 61-yard run, a play on which he lost a fumble at the end of the play, was the longest run from scrimmage by a Tar Heel since Leon Johnson's 67-yard run against Clemson in the opening game of the 1996 season.

It was Carolina's first 100-yard game in 15 contests, the longest 100-yard drought since 1967.

Neither defense allowed a touchdown until the final quarter. Carolina got on the board first with a 42-yard field goal by Jeff Reed with 57 seconds left in the first half.

A 33-yard punt return by Bosley Allen set up another field goal by Reed, this one from 32 yards, to give UNC a 6-0 lead with 10:11 left in the third quarter.

Trailing 6-3 late in the third, Maryland turned to Jordan, who carried five consecutive plays for 30 yards. Shawn Hill then found Guilian Gary for seven yards and a touchdown to give the Terps a 10-6 advantage with 14:14 to play in the game.

Parker started Carolina's go-ahead drive with an 8-yard run for a first down. Curry then hit tight end Alge Crumpler for 16 yards to the Maryland 41.

Facing 3rd-and-2 at the 33, Curry ran for five yards and a first down. That was UNC's first third-down conversion of the game.

Moments later on 3rd-and-7 from the 25, Curry raced up the middle on a quarterback draw, darted to his left between defenders and bounced off Maryland cornerback Andrew Smith at the goal line for a touchdown.

The Terps had two more possessions, but Julius Peppers stopped Jordan for no gain on 3rd-and-1 to end one drive and Derrick Johnson picked off a Hill pass to end the contest.

Maryland ran 24 more plays from scrimmage and had the ball 15:24 more than the Tar Heels.

Ronald Curry rushed for two scores and threw for two more and the Tar Heels scored an ACC record 52 points in the first half en route to a decisive 59-21 win over Duke.

The win was Carolina's 11th straight over the Blue Devils, longest in series history.

Carolina scored a school-record 35 points in the second quarter and broke the ACC record for points in a half, which was 50 by Wake Forest versus Virginia in 1975.

Curry became only the third quarterback in UNC history, and the first since 1968, to rush for 100 yards and pass for 200 yards in the same game. Curry rushed for a career-high 105 yards and completed 18 of 24 passes for 218 yards and two touchdowns.

Bosley Allen scored three touchdowns, including a 63-yard punt return and 16- and 13-yard receptions.

Allen, who also returned a punt for a score at Wake Forest, became the first UNC player to return two punts for touchdowns in the same year since Charlie Justice in 1948.

Tied at 7-7, Carolina took the lead for good with 5:45 left in the first quarter on Curry's 43-yard dash up the middle. That ignited a 45-point run in less than 20 minutes by UNC.

A 37-yard field goal by Jeff Reed made it 17-7. Julius Peppers sacked D. Bryant, forcing a fumble that Joey Evans scooped up and returned 26 yards to the Duke 1. Moments later, Curry scored on a quarterback sneak for a 24-7 lead.

Carolina's defense, which held the Blue Devils to 247 yards, then forced a punt. Allen caught it at the Duke 37 and raced untouched to the end zone for a 31-7 lead with 12:46 left in the first half.

Later in the second quarter,

The Tar Heels ring the Victory Bell for the 11th straight year.

Carolina then stopped Duke on downs at the UNC 43. Curry scrambled 19 yards for a first down and freshman tailback Brandon Russell broke runs of 11 and 26 yards. The latter gave the Tar Heels a 45-7 lead with 4:20 remaining.

Curry and Allen capped the first-half scoring explosion with a 16-yard reception with 11 seconds to play.

Allen finished the day with six receptions for 101 yards. He added 68 yards on two punt returns and a 37-yard kickoff return, Carolina's longest of the season.

The Tar Heels intercepted Duke three times. Errol Hood, DeFonte Coleman and Peppers each had interceptions.

Peppers had two sacks. He set the single-season school record for tackles for losses and finished the season one sack shy of Lawrence Taylor's record of 16.

Carolina amassed 465 total yards, including a season-high 247 on the ground. Curry led with 105 and was followed by Russell, who had 74 yards.

The 59 points equalled the most ever by UNC in an ACC game.

Bill Dooley coached 11 years at North Carolina - more than any other head coach - and is tied for second all-time with 69 victories. Dooley revitalized the program in the early 1970s, capturing ACC titles in 1971 and 1972.

Carl Snavelly served two stints as Carolina's head coach - from 1934-35 and 1945-52. He led the Tar Heels to three New Year's Day bowl games, including the 1947 Sugar Bowl, 1949 Sugar Bowl and the 1950 Cotton Bowl. He compiled a record of 59-35-5 and coached the great Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice.

Dick Crum took over the UNC program when Bill Dooley left to be athletic director and head coach at Virginia Tech. Crum led the Tar Heels to an 11-1 record and an ACC championship in 1980. Carolina played in five consecutive bowl games from 1979-1983. Crum won a school-record 72 games in 10 years as head coach.

Mack Brown led the Tar Heels to 69 victories in 10 years as UNC's head coach. Under Brown, Carolina had eight consecutive winning seasons and went to six bowl games. In his last two seasons in Chapel Hill, Brown's teams were 10-2 in 1996 and 11-1 in 1997. The 1997 team was considered to be one of the best ever at North Carolina.

Did You Know?

• John Gray Johnson was the first Tar Heel to earn letters in four varsity sports. He won a football letter in 1912, and added three letters in basketball, two in track and one in baseball.

• In 1937, sportswriter Smith Barrier penned "On Carolina's Gridiron", a history of UNC football from 1888-1936. A six-man committee selected the following players as Carolina's All-Time Team to date: Fullback Roy Abernethy (1905), Guard George Barclay (1932-34), End Andy Bershak (1935-37), Halfback Johnny Branch (1929-31), Guard Ray Farris (1927-29), End Roy Homewood (1912-15), Halfback Red Johnston (1921-22), Quarterback Monk McDonald (1920-23), Tackle Graham Ramsey (1913-16), Tackle Romy Story (1904-06) and Center Yank Tandy (1913-16).

CAROLINA HISTORY

The University of North Carolina embarks on its 111th season of football competition in 2001. The Tar Heels do that with a history of gridiron greatness, including some of the top coaches in the game, a lineage of talented running backs and one of the most beautiful and historic facilities in college football.

Surprisingly, football is actually not the oldest varsity sport at UNC. Baseball holds that honor, having fielded its first varsity squad back in 1867. But while football started 21 years later in 1888, its history is replete with memories that have thrilled legions of Carolina fans as the decades have elapsed.

The first UNC team played but two games, losing both and being outscored 22-4. That inauspicious beginning belies the success of the program since then, but those football pioneers are nevertheless credited with starting football at Carolina.

In the fall of 1888, the sophomore class at UNC had formed a team and after vanquishing all the other classes at UNC, began to look around for stiffer opposition. The UNC team challenged the Wake Forest squad to a game which was scheduled during the State Fair in Raleigh on October 18, 1888. Wake won the game 6-4 in what came to be acknowledged as the first intercollegiate football game in the history of the state of North Carolina.

Later that same fall, Carolina challenged Trinity (now Duke) to a Thanksgiving Day contest in Raleigh that drew a crowd of 600 for a 16-0 Trinity triumph. One member of that 1888 UNC team was John Motley Morehead, who went on to great fame as the founder of Union Carbide and who endowed the Morehead Scholarship program and several buildings on the Carolina campus.

That first Carolina team's results may not have been what was expected, but the leaders of the '88 team did get the ball rolling. In Carolina's first 109

February 1889 and drilled the Tar Heel troops on the existing athletic field, located on the current site restored at UNC and the ban was lifted with the help of Professors Horace Williams, F.P. Venable and Eban Alexander. At this time, athletic control passed from the hands of students to the faculty, a situation that still exists today.

Football returned to UNC that fall with W.P. Graves as coach and UNC compiling an 0-2 record.

The following year, 1892, is considered by most to be the first year of real football at UNC with a representative six-game schedule being played. That squad also earned the distinction of being UNC's first good team. Mike Hoke acted as team captain and the entire squad consisted of just 15 players, with UNC using only one substitute the entire season. The team opened the year with a 40-0 rout of Richmond and after a loss to Virginia in the next game, it went on to win its last four. Carolina's 5-1 mark was the best record in the South that year.

That season also marked the first year in which University teams were referred to as "Carolina," with the appellations "University" and "Chapel Hill" being dropped from the popular vernacular.

A meeting in February 1893 signaled the start of the formation of what would become the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association in later years. Ten schools, including UNC, were involved in the meeting and Dr. Venable was voted temporary chairman of the group. Later that same year, on May 12, the UNC athletic association approved the awarding of varsity letters for the first time.

Although the 1893 team managed only a 3-4 record, it did have the distinction of being the first Southern team to play in New York City as Carolina lost a 34-0 decision to Lehigh on November 25, 1893. A year later, Carolina brought in Vernon K.

Johnny Branch was one of Carolina's early stars. His 96-yard punt return in 1930 is still the longest in school history.

seasons of football competition, the Tar Heels have compiled a record of 594-420-54, a winning percentage of .581. Carolina has played in 23 bowl games in its history and won five Southern Conference championships and five Atlantic Coast Conference titles.

Twenty-eight Tar Heel players have been honored as first-team All-Americans on 35 occasions. Carolina had 32 All-Southern Conference selections when it played in that league until 1952 and since joining the ACC in 1953, has had 164 first-team All-ACC choices.

Just a few months after the loss to Trinity in 1888, UNC acquired the services of Hector Cowan, former great tackle and captain at Princeton, to help teach the UNC players the fundamentals of the game. Cowan arrived in of Bynum Hall.

The 1889 team played two games in the spring and two in the fall. On March 1, 1889, Carolina earned its first win in football as it routed Wake Forest 33-0 before a crowd of 500 in Raleigh. UNC went on to post a 2-2 record that year and earn a share of the state championship with Trinity and Wake Forest.

After a Carolina player suffered a broken collarbone that fall, the University faculty voted to discontinue the sport of football in January 1890 and Carolina did not compete at all the following fall. That is one of only three years since the start of football in 1888 in which the Tar Heels have not fielded a team; play was also suspended during World War I in 1917 and 1918.

The following year, students petitioned to have football

Kenan Memorial Stadium opened in 1927. The Tar Heels have won 235 games under the pines.

Irvine from Princeton as coach and he led Carolina to a 6-3 mark, attesting to the fact that experienced coaching benefited the team's performance. That UNC team finished second in the South and won the state championship. It was also the first to be forced to stage closed practices because of problems with crowd control at open sessions.

In 1895, T.C. "Doggie" Trenchard came from Princeton to coach the Tar Heels and he led UNC to an outstanding 7-1-1 season marred only by a loss to Virginia. A crowd of 12,000 was on hand for the meeting between the Tar Heels and the Cavaliers in Richmond, which UVa won 6-0. Twice during the game spectators ran onto the field to block the path of Tar Heel runners who had broken into the clear on apparent touchdown runs.

Carolina began to gain some consistency in the sport of football with the arrival of Will A. Reynolds of Princeton as head coach in 1897. Reynolds produced four winning Carolina teams in his four-year tenure at Chapel Hill. His first squad finished at 7-3 and was followed in 1898 by what is still the only unbeaten, untied team in school history. That 1898 squad was a perfect 9-0 and outscored its opponents by an amazing 201-8. The team finished the season by beating Virginia for the first time in six years, 6-2, in Richmond.

Reynolds' final two teams also posted respectable records, going 7-3-1 in 1889 and 4-1-3 in 1900.

Reynolds yielded the coaching reins after the 1900 season to Charles Jenkins, who led UNC to seven straight wins prior to a pair of season-ending losses in 1901. Carolina beat all of its state opponents to win its seventh state championship since 1892. In 1901, letters began to be awarded by an advisory committee of the athletic association. Previously, anyone who played had lettered.

The next 11 seasons saw Carolina with nine different head coaches. The 1905 Carolina squad was coached by William Warner, the brother of the famed "Pop" Warner.

Trenchard returned as Carolina's coach in 1913 for a three-year run. His 1914 squad was outstanding. Sixty men reported for the team and UNC went on to win its first 10 before losing to Virginia 20-3 before a record crowd of 15,000 in Richmond. That UNC team outscored its opponents 359-52 and became the first team in the South to display players' numbers on their jerseys.

Trenchard's 1915 squad did not fare as well, finishing the campaign with a 4-3-1 mark. Seven regulars missed the VMI game and the reserves struggled, fumbling 16 times en route to a 3-3 tie. That same year, Trenchard started the first athletic training table at UNC in his home, feeding the 56 squad members on a daily basis.

The year 1916 found the Tar Heels in a new home as Carolina began to play its games at Emerson Stadium, the site of the current Davis Library. Freshmen were banned from varsity participation for the first time and the team went 5-4 and won its sixth successive state championship.

All of the members of the 1916 squad had entered the military service in World War I by the following fall and varsity football was dropped for the second time in UNC history, this time for a two-year hiatus.

Carolina made its full-fledged return to the gridiron in 1919, going 4-3-1 under Coach Thomas J. Coleman. Carolina twice broke its single game home attendance record that year as it won the state championship. The Tar Heels defeated N.C. State, 13-12, before a crowd of 7,500 and then topped that with 9,000 for a 6-0 win over Virginia. That game marked the first time the Cavaliers had ever played in Chapel Hill.

The 1920 campaign was a dismal one as UNC went 2-6 and scored only 16 points in eight games. But a more positive era in North Carolina football began a year later with the hiring of Bill and Bob Fetzer as co-head coaches. Their hiring also marked a change in athletic policy at UNC as the Fetzers were assured of long-term positions instead of the usual one-year contracts.

Carolina went 5-2-2 under the Fetzers in 1921 and 10,000 filled Emerson Field for Carolina's 7-3 win over Virginia.

That year also marked the first for UNC's participation in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, the official name for what has come to be known today simply as the Southern Conference. At a February 25, 1921 meeting in Atlanta, the SIC was formed with a 16-school membership. The conference agreed to bans on post-season play, freshman eligibility and athletic training tables, required eligibility forms for players and disallowed organized practice before September 10.

Carolina would go on to have great success in the Southern Conference, tying for the league crown in 1922 and winning it outright in 1934, 1937, 1946 and 1949.

The Fetzers' greatest team was probably the 1922 edition which posted an impressive 9-1 mark, won the South Atlantic championship and tied for the Southern Conference crown. That team lost only to Yale, 18-0, and had three touchdowns called back by penalties in the game. The squad was ranked 11th in the nation by I.B. Thomas in the January 1923 issue of Intercollegiate Athletics and played before a record 68,500 fans during the course of the campaign.

The 1923 team was ravaged by injuries but limped to a 5-3-1 record nevertheless and a state championship for a second straight year. A year later, the Tar Heels were only 4-5 but they did play before their largest crowd to that date, 25,000 at New Haven's Yale Bowl in a 27-0 loss to the Bulldogs.

The 1925 season would prove to be the Fetzers' last as co-coaches. The Tar Heels responded with an excellent season, going 7-1-1 and winning the state championship. The only loss came at the hands of Wake Forest. A crowd of 16,000 jammed Emerson Field (capacity 2,400) to see the Heels and Virginia play to a 3-3 tie in the season finale.

The following year began a new era in Carolina football as Chuck Collins came on the scene as head coach. He had the longest tenure (eight years) of the early Carolina coaches. Collins, who was one of the seven mules in the offensive line for Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen, served as Carolina's coach from 1926 through 1933.

The 1926 season also brought onto the scene the infamous Kay Kyser, later to be a renowned Big Band leader and radio and motion pictures personality, as head cheerleader and his Cheerios as the first major organized cheer

New stadium plans were also in the works in 1926. Carolina alumni in Durham and Chapel Hill met on May 24, 1926, to form the Durham Stadium Committee. On November 13 of that same year, William Rand Kenan, a New York City engineer and 1893 UNC football letterman, gave the University a gift of $275,000 to help build the stadium.

The first game was played in Kenan Stadium on November 12, 1927 with UNC beating Davidson 27-0 before a crowd of 9,000 fans. The following Saturday, UNC beat two-touchdown favorite Duke 18-0 in Durham. The stadium was officially dedicated on Thanksgiving Day 1927 with 28,000 attending as Carolina edged Virginia 14-13. John Sprunt Hill officially made the presentation of the stadium to Governor A.W. McLean who accepted on behalf of the University and state.

Carolina won its first state championship since 1925 during the 1928 season. Its 5-3-2 record that year included a 65-0 win over Wake Forest in the season opener. That still stands as the largest margin of victory in UNC history. President Calvin Coolidge attended the Carolina-Virginia game in Charlottesville that year and saw the Tar Heels pull out a 24-20 win. It was the first time a U.S. President had ever attended a game in the South.

Collins' first great team was the 1929 edition which went 9-1 and outscored its opponents 346-60. The only loss of the year came to Georgia and only Southern California scored more points during the course of the season. Ray Farris was the captain of that UNC team and was a unanimous All-Southern Conference choice at guard. Carolina was called the "Team of a Million Backs" and drew a record attendance of 139,500.

The 1931 team, coached by Collins, went 4-3-3 and won the state championship. The Carolina-Duke game went big time for the first time that year as a crowd of 20,000 in Durham watched the two teams play to their second straight scoreless tie. Johnny Branch, a great all-purpose runner, was the star of that squad.

The quiet Dutchman, Carl Snively, came to Chapel Hill in 1934 from Bucknell to take over the coaching reins of the Tar Heels. It would be the first of two tours of duty for Snively as head coach. The 1934 team went 7-1-1 and was led by George Barclay, UNC's first All-America in football, at guard. Carolina lost only to Tennessee and it tied N.C. State that season. The Carolina-Duke game drew state and Kenan record crowds as the Tar Heels eked out a 7-0 victory.

The 1935 team also proved to be a great one as Snively led his squad to an 8-1 record. Carolina won its first seven of the season and there was talk that the Tar Heels were headed to the Rose Bowl. But arch-rival Duke made sure that didn't happen on Saturday, November 16 in Durham as the Blue Devils played an errorless game, winning 25-0. That game drew a new Southern attendance record of 47,000 and in total 149,500 saw UNC play during the course of the year, another record. After losing to Duke, UNC came back to pummel Virginia 61-0 and ended up eighth in the final Associated Press rankings. Ace passer Don Jackson was named a second-team All-America.

Ray Wolf came to Carolina in 1936 to coach after Snively had gone on to Cornell. Wolf had six successful seasons at UNC, producing winning teams the first five. The 1936 team went 8-2 and lost only to Tulane and Duke. That squad was led by end Andy Bershak, who was a second-team All-America in 1936 and a first teamer a year later. Wolf's teams continued their success, going 7-1-1, 6-2-1, 8-1-1 and 6-4 in subsequent years. Some of Wolf's outstanding players were Jim Lalanne, Paul Severin and George Stirnweiss.

The World War II years were an unsettled time in Carolina athletic history. From 1942 through 1944, UNC had three different head coaches who put makeshift teams through the paces against adjusted schedules which included some military teams. Jim Tatum, an outstanding player at Carolina in the 1930s, coached the 1942 unit. He would return for another coaching tenure later.

Snively returned to Chapel Hill in 1945 and during the next five years produced some of the best teams in Carolina football history. His 1948 team finished third in the AP poll, the highest final ranking ever for the Tar Heels.

An Omaha, Neb. native, Snively was a 1915 alumnus of Lebanon Valley College. He had coached Carolina teams in 1934 and 1935 to a 15-2-1 record and returned in 1945 after nine years at Cornell. In fact, at Cornell in 1940, Snively was involved in an infamous contest which would be recounted repeatedly some 50 years after the fact. Snively was the coach who, upon learning it had taken a fifth down for his Big Red to defeat Dartmouth, wired the opposing coach Red Blaik and relinquished the victory.

His 1945 team did well, finishing 5-5 after winning only one game the previous season. Then the incomparable Charlie Justice arrived a year later, and with his compatriots, UNC went to three major bowl games and won two Southern Conference titles in the period from 1946-49.

Snively's 1946 team was 8-2-1, won the Southern Conference championship and lost to Georgia, 20-10, in the Sugar Bowl. The 1947 team was probably the best of the four. It finished 8-2, winning its last seven, but went uninvited in the post-season. The 1948 unit had only a regular-season tie with William & Mary to mar its record. It went on to lose to Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl. Finally, the 1949 team was unbeaten in the conference and finished 7-4 overall, losing to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Justice was not the only star of those Snively teams. Art Weiner and Ken Powell were tremendous ends on those teams and Hosea Rodgers was a great rugged full-back of the era.

But Justice was the main attraction. He ran and passed for over 4,000 yards in his four-year career and he averaged over 42 yards a punt. He had only two punts blocked in his career and both of those were in the first game of his freshman year. When he was done after the 1949 season, Justice had established NCAA records in total offense and punting and was considered the greatest punter of all time.

As a triple-threat All-America halfback, Justice captured the imagination and fancy of the football fan as no one else ever had. He was idolized and the attention he received from the fans and the media was almost unheard of in that time.

A native of Asheville, he had served in the Navy in World War II and was already 26 years old by the time of his senior year in 1949. He capped his amazing career by being named the Most Valuable Player in the 1950 College All-Star Game in Chicago.

The departure of Justice from campus coincided with a 20-year drought in UNC's football fortunes. Snively, despite all his earlier successes, could not produce a winning team after the Justice era. George Barclay, Carolina's first All-America player back in 1934, was brought in as head coach, but he encountered little success in his three years of running the program. That's when Carolina successfully lured Jim Tatum back to the fold. Tatum was a great UNC player in the 1930s and had coached the Tar Heels during World War II in 1942. He had since been at Maryland, where he led the Terrapins to the national championship in 1953.

Tatum's first season back in Chapel Hill, in 1956, was rather undistinguished. The Tar Heels went 2-7-1 with victories over Virginia and Maryland. In 1957, in Tatum's first return trip to College Park where he had enjoyed so much success, the Carolina-Maryland game was marked by the appearance of Queen Elizabeth II. The queen and her entourage watched the Terrapins beat the Tar Heels 21-7. But that 1957 team finished 6-4 as did the 1958 team under Tatum's steady leadership.

It appeared Carolina had the corner turned when Tatum died suddenly in the summer of 1959 from Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. He was replaced by assistant Jim Hickey whose teams did not meet with a great deal of success in his eight seasons as head coach. Hickey produced only one winning record, that in 1963 when the Tar Heels finished 9-2 and shared their first Atlantic Coast Conference title. That team went on to post the school's first win in a bowl game, a 35-0 decision over Air Force in the Gator Bowl. That 1963 squad was led by the running of Ken Willard, the passing of Junior Edge and Gary Black and the pass receiving of Bob Lacey. Linebacker Chris Hanburger was a stalwart on defense for the Tar Heels.

After Hickey resigned after a 2-8 season in 1966, UNC looked to Bill Dooley to revitalize its football fortunes. The choice proved to be a wise one. Dooley's teams won 69, lost 53 and tied two in his 11-year tenure. ACC championships were won under Dooley in 1971, 1972 and 1977. Bowl trips became a regular feature — six in all during the Dooley years.

After three rebuilding seasons, Dooley's first good team was in 1970. It finished 8-4 and went on to play Arizona State in the Peach Bowl. Tailback Don McCauley, who had gained 1,092 yards rushing in 1969, returned for a 1,720-yard season in 1970. He was the first of UNC's 23 1,000-yard rushers. The Garden City, N.Y.

native broke what was then O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA rushing standard.

Dooley's teams won back-to-back ACC titles in 1971 and 1972. The '71 team lost to Georgia 7-3 in the Gator Bowl in a matchup of coaching brothers, Vince Dooley being the head mentor of the Bulldogs. The 1972 team had an 11-1 record marred only by a loss at Ohio State. It won a thrilling 32-28 decision from Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl.

The mid-1970s brought more success as UNC made bowl appearances in 1974 (Sun), 1976 (Peach) and 1977 (Liberty). Sammy Johnson was a 1,000-yard rusher for Carolina in 1973, as was James Betterson in 1974. But the outstanding offensive player of this era was Mike Voight who gained over 1,000 yards in 1974, 1975 and 1976, including 1,407 yards in '76. Voight was named the ACC Player of the Year in both 1975 and '76 for his efforts.

The 1977 team would prove to be Dooley's last at UNC. It won the ACC title and earned a berth opposite Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. A rugged defense led by All-America tackle

Dee Hardison helped Carolina lead the nation in scoring defense that season. UNC allowed only 81 points in 11 regular-season games. The new offensive star was a freshman tailback named Amos Lawrence, who rushed for 1,211 yards and was named ACC Rookie of the Year.

Dooley resigned in January 1978 to accept the dual role of head football coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech. At that time, Carolina turned to the "Cradle of Coaches" at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, to find its new head coach, Dick Crum.

Crum had just completed an outstanding four-year run at Miami. His 10 years as head coach at UNC were equally brilliant. The winningest coach in Tar Heel history, he compiled a 72-41-3 ledger at the UNC helm. He took six of his 10 UNC teams to bowl games, winning on four occasions, and the 1980 squad won the ACC championship.

After a 5-6 record in 1978, Crum's teams from 1979 through 1983 went to five successive bowls and won 45 games. UNC posted four consecutive bowl wins over national football powers, beating Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl, Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl, Arkansas in the 1981 Gator Bowl and Texas again in the 1982 Sun Bowl.

In 1980 and 1981, UNC became the first team in league history to finish in the Top 10 of both wire service polls in successive years. The 1980 team was 11-1 and ranked ninth by United Press International and 10th by Associated Press. The 1981 unit was 10-2 and rated eighth by UPI and ninth by AP. Two more Carolina teams coached by Crum would later go to bowl games, the 1983 team to the Peach Bowl to face Florida State and the 1986 corps to the Aloha Bowl for a meeting with Arizona.

Bill Dooley directed UNC to six bowl games and three ACC titles and is tied for the second-most wins in Tar Heel history.

There was a plethora of outstanding players at Carolina during the Crum era and the Tar Heel football record book was being constantly updated. In 1980, linebacker Lawrence Taylor was named the ACC Player of the Year and he went on to All-Pro status with the New York Giants. That season, Taylor led what was one of the greatest defenses in ACC history. Other great defensive players at UNC included linebacker Buddy Curry, defensive tackle Donnell Thompson, linebacker Darrell Nicholson, defensive back Steve Streater, defensive tackle William Fuller and outside linebacker Mike Wilcher. All of those players were All-ACC selections and several went on to have distinguished pro careers. Fuller made four first-team All-America squads in 1983.

Although Crum's teams were known for their rugged defense, Carolina also excelled offensively, leading the ACC in total offense four times in the 1980s and ranking sixth nationally in 1986.

There were several reasons behind the offensive fireworks. First, there was a succession of outstanding running backs. Five different players gained 1,000 or more yards rushing in a season a total of 10 times under Crum's tutelage. After his brilliant freshman year, Lawrence went on to gain 1,000 yards three more times. He is one of only three players in college football history to gain 1,000 yards rushing in each of their four seasons. Kelvin Bryant overcame an injury-marred career to gain 1,000 yards on three occasions. Ethan Horton turned the trick twice in his career and Tyrone Anthony and Derrick Fenner had one 1,000-yard rushing season each.

A second reason behind UNC's offensive success was the presence of some outstanding linemen in the '80s, four of whom gained first-team All-America status — guard Ron Wooten in 1980, guard David Drechsler in 1981 and '82, tackle Brian Blados in 1983 and tackle Harris Barton in 1986.

Carolina's offense also became more diversified in the Crum era and the passing section of the Carolina record book was basically rewritten at that time by a string of accomplished starters at quarterback—Matt Kupec, Rod Elkins, Scott Stankavage, Kevin Anthony and Mark Maye.

At the conclusion of the 1987 season, Crum resigned to return home to his native Ohio and was replaced by Tulane head coach Mack Brown, whose first two teams struggled to 1-10 records. Center Jeff Garnica was a third-team All-America and the Jacobs Blocking Trophy recipient in 1988 as the best offensive lineman in the ACC. Offensive guard Pat Crowley became only the second offensive lineman in ACC history to be named All-ACC in three successive years when he accomplished that feat in 1989.

The blocking of those two players was instrumental in tailback Kennard Martin leading the ACC in rushing in 1988 with 1,146 yards.

The Tar Heels turned things around in 1990, however, and put together a solid 6-4-1 record and even returned to the Top 25 at one point in the season. Inside linebacker Dwight Hollier led the ACC in tackles for the second consecutive season and rookie tailback Natrone Means capped a stellar second half of the season with a 256-yard, three-touchdown effort vs. Duke. Along the way, Carolina tied Georgia Tech 13-13; the stalemate proved to be the only blemish on the Yellow Jackets' otherwise-perfect national championship ledger.

In 1991, Means became the 11th Tar Heel to rush for more than 1,000 yards for an NCAA-record 20th time. Means ran for 1,030 yards and topped the 1,000-yard plateau on an electrifying, 68-yard scamper in the Tar Heels' 47-14 rout over Duke. Means, inside linebacker Tommy Thigpen and offensive guard Brian Bollinger each were first-team All-ACC selections.

1992 was another filled with great players, spectacular plays and electrifying memories. The Tar Heels won nine games, including a 21-17 victory over Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl, and finished the season ranked in the Top 20 in both major polls.

Means rushed for 1,195 yards, the 21st 1,000-yard rushing season in Carolina history. He had a 249-yard day at Maryland and once again dramatically crashed the 1,000-yard club with a 76-yard touchdown run against the Terrapins.

The Tar Heels defeated Top 20 opposition on consecutive weekends in mid-season, the first time in the program's history the team accomplished that feat.

Mike Thomas set numerous single-season total offense and passing records, including most yards of total offense, most yards passing and most completions.

Carolina accepted a bid to play in the Peach Bowl and provided one of the year's most entertaining bowl games. Trailing Mississippi State by two touchdowns in the third quarter, UNC rallied for a 21-17 win. Means, a repeat first-team All-ACC selection, gained 128 yards and was named the game's Offensive MVP. Strong safety Bracey Walker tied the game when he blocked a punt, his second of the game, and returned it 41 yards for a score.

Walker, the game's Defensive MVP, set up the game-winning touchdown when he forced an interception with a jarring fourth-quarter hit. Cornerback Cliff Baskerville picked the loose ball out of the air and raced 44 yards for the winning touchdown.

The 1993 Tar Heels provided one of the most entertaining seasons in Carolina history. UNC won 10 games for the first time in a dozen years, finished second in the ACC, 19th in the Associated Press poll and played in a bowl game for a second consecutive season.

UNC set nearly 40 team and individual records, including most points, points per game and total offense. Walker was named first-team All-America by several organizations and was a first-team All-ACC selection along with tailback Curtis Johnson and offensive tackle Ethan Albright.

Johnson and red-shirt freshman tailback Leon Johnson each rushed for 1,000-plus yards. Curtis rushed for 1,034 yards and set a school record with a 90-yard score vs.

Maryland; Leon was named the ACC Rookie of the Year as he rushed for 1,012 yards and led the conference with 16 touchdowns and 100 points.

Quarterback Jason Stanicek set UNC single-season records for total offense (2,284 yards), total yards per game (190.3), completion percentage (64.1) and pass efficiency rating (145.79).

Corey Holliday concluded his brilliant career as Carolina's all-time leading pass receiver. Twice selected a captain by his teammates, Holliday finished his four years with 155 receptions for 2,447 yards and caught a pass in an ACC-record 45 consecutive games. He had nine receptions, a UNC postseason record, versus Alabama in Carolina's 24-10 loss in the Gator Bowl.

In 1994 Carolina went 8-4, losing to Texas, 35-31, in the Sun Bowl in an exhilarating contest. Stanicek concluded his career as the school's all-time total offense leader. Stanicek passed "Choo Choo" Justice's mark, which had stood since 1949, in the fifth game of the season and finished his standout career with 5,497 yards. Stanicek also set UNC career records for most pass completions (372), attempts (622), yards (4,683) and completion percentage (.598). He tied Matt Kupec's school mark for most wins by a starting quarterback with 24.

Marcus Wall set a Tar Heel record for most touchdown catches in a season with nine and added a touchdown catch in the Sun Bowl. He also returned a kickoff for a score against Duke, returned a punt for a touchdown against Texas and had a rushing touchdown against N.C. State.

Carolina beat Duke 41-40 in one of the most exciting games in the storied history of that rivalry. The Blue Devils scored a pair of quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter to go ahead, 38-34, with less than 3:00 to play. Mike Thomas quickly connected with freshman Octavus Barnes on a short crossing route and Barnes raced past the entire secondary for a 71-yard game-winning score.

Barnes established an ACC record for receiving yards in a season by a freshman with 609.

He had 165 yards on receptions, the third-highest single-game figure in Carolina history, in the regular-season finale at Duke and again in the Sun Bowl against Texas.

The 1995 Tar Heels rebounded from an 0-2 start to post a winning season for the sixth consecutive year and received an invitation to the Carquest Bowl in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Defensive tackle Marcus Jones was the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and became the first UNC player in nine years to be named consensus first-team All-America. Jones topped Lawrence Taylor's career UNC sack record as he concluded his four years with 24, three more than Taylor.

Mike Thomas set numerous single-season total offense and passing records, including most yards of total offense (2,489), most yards passing (2,436), most pass attempts (332) and most completions (185). He threw for more than 200 yards in each of the first six games and concluded his career with a school-record nine 200-yard outings.

Tailback Leon Johnson and split end Octavus Barnes each surpassed the previous school record for pass receptions in a season. Johnson led the team in rushing with 963 yards and added 54 receptions. Barnes had 53 catches for 970 yards.

Johnson rushed for 195 yards and a touchdown in the 20-10 win over Arkansas in the Carquest Bowl. That is the highest rushing total in Carolina postseason history. Barnes established a UNC record with four 100-yard receiving games. He caught three touchdown passes and totaled 211 yards receiving, the second-highest figure in school history, in a 62-0 rout of Ohio.

Marcus Jones was named first-team All-America by the Associated Press, the American Football Coaches Association, the Walter Camp Foundation and United Press International.

1996 was one of the finest seasons in Carolina history. The Tar Heels went 10-2, won the Gator Bowl and finished 10th in both national polls. Mack Brown was named the ACC Coach of the Year as he directed a new-look offense to record-setting heights.

Seven Tar Heels earned first-team All-ACC honors led by quarterback Chris Keldorf, a junior college transfer, who set UNC single-season passing records for completions (201), yards (2,347) and touchdowns (23).

Leon Johnson set all-time UNC records for scoring (306) and touchdowns (50) and established the all-time ACC mark with 5,828 all-purpose yards. He earned All-ACC honors as a kick returner.

The Tar Heel defense, coached by National Defensive Coordinator of the Year Carl Torbush, led the country in scoring and was second with 225.6 total yards per game. Red-shirt freshman cornerback Dre' Bly led the country in interceptions with an ACC-record 11 and was a consensus first-team All-America. Bly was just the fifth freshman in history and the first freshman defensive player to be named an AP All-America.

The year began with a 45-0 win over Clemson and included a 52-20 rout over N.C. State. Carolina went to Syracuse in the second week and beat the No. 9-ranked Orangemen, UNC's first road win over a Top 10 team since 1966.

The Tar Heels tied for second in the ACC. They played West Virginia in the Gator Bowl without Keldorf, who suffered a fracture dislocation of his left ankle in the last regular-season game. Oscar Davenport came off the bench to win MVP honors as he completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and passed and ran for scores.

The 1997 season may go down as the most memorable in Carolina football history. The Tar Heels went 11-1, won the Gator Bowl for the second year in a row and finished fourth in the final coaches' poll and sixth in the final Associated Press poll. UNC lived up to lofty preseason predictions and spent the entire year in the Top 10.

The Tar Heels were once again led by a stifling defense. UNC allowed just 209.3 yards per game, the second-lowest figure in the NCAA and the lowest total by an ACC team since 1963. It was the fewest yards allowed by Carolina since 1948. The defense featured three first-round draft picks (defensive end Greg Ellis, defensive tackle Vonnie Holliday and linebacker Brian Simmons), a Butkus Award finalist (linebacker Kivuusama Mays) and three first-team All-Americans (Ellis, Simmons and Bly).

Bly became the first UNC football player in history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in more than one season. He had five interceptions to lead a secondary that was third in the country in passing yards allowed.

Carolina was the only defense in the country to have finalists for the Lombardi (Ellis), Butkus (Mays) and Thorpe (Bly) Awards.

Davenport earned Team MVP honors by completing 62.8 percent of his passes and leading the Tar Heels to come-from-behind wins over Stanford, Virginia and Georgia Tech. His season ended in the ninth week when he suffered a broken ankle in the loss to Florida State. That game featured the second-ranked Seminoles and fifth-ranked Tar Heels and was played in front of 62,000 fans, the largest crowd ever at Kenan Stadium.

Keldorf began the fall as the reigning All-ACC quarterback, lost his starting job, and finally replaced an injured Davenport late in the season. He set a single-game UNC record at Texas Christian by throwing for 415 yards, set the school record for career passing touchdowns with 35 and finished his career with sensational performances in wins over Clemson, Duke and Virginia Tech. Keldorf engineered the Tar Heels' 17-10 win at Clemson, Carolina's first triumph in Death Valley since 1980. Keldorf wrapped his remarkable two-year career with an MVP performance in win over the Hokies in the Gator Bowl as threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns.

The 1997 season was the last for Mack Brown as head coach. He resigned on December 5th to become the head coach at Texas. Brown finished his 10-year career at Carolina with a 69-46-1 record. The 69 wins equal the second-most in UNC history.

Athletic director Dick Baddour promoted defensive coordinator Carl Torbush to head coach on December 8, 1997. Torbush, defensive coordinator since 1988, directed the Tar Heels to a 42-3 win over Virginia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

The 1998 season began with three straight defeats, but Torbush rallied the Tar Heels to six wins in the last eight regular-season games. That earned Carolina an invitation to the Las Vegas Bowl, where the Tar Heels beat San Diego State, 20-13.

Davenport was injured on the first series in the season opener. That injury forced the debut of freshman Ronald Curry, who would establish UNC single-season freshman records for passing yards (975), touchdown passes (six), completions (66) and total offense yards (1,394). Curry had a 48-yard touchdown run and was named Offensive MVP of the Las Vegas Bowl.

Na Brown tied his own school record with 55 receptions for 897 yards and became Carolina's all-time leading receiver with 165 catches. His most memorable grab was the game-winning touchdown pass from Davenport in overtime to beat NC State, 37-34. The game was played in Charlotte, N.C., before a record crowd of 68,797. It was the most people to ever see a college football game in North Carolina.

Ebenezer Ekuban set a single-season UNC record with 23 tackles for losses, earned the ACC's Top Senior Student-Athlete Award and was named first-team All-ACC. Ekuban was joined on the All-ACC squad by Bly, who set the conference career record for interceptions with 20.

Bly was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation and became the only player in ACC history to be named first-team All-America in three different seasons.

Carolina was beset by injuries early in the 1999 season but improved throughout the course of the year. The Tar Heels did not allow a touchdown in the final 10 quarters of the season. UNC defeated rivals Duke and NC State, with the win over the Wolfpack coming via a classic goalline tackle by Errol Hood and David Bomar that preserved a 10-6 win.

Brian Schmitz set an ACC and UNC record by averaging 47.8 yards per punt and was named a first-team All-America by The Sporting News. Schmitz's career punting average of 44.4 yards per kick is best in ACC history.

The 2000 season was full of ups and downs as the Tar Heels opened the season 3-1 only to lose four consecutive games before defeating Maryland and Duke to finish 6-5 overall.

The four-game losing streak was especially painful as three of those games came at Kenan Stadium and in all four Carolina had chances to win. Despite a winning record, Carolina did not receive a bowl invitation for the second straight year and Carl Torbush was dismissed as head coach. He was replaced by former letterwinner John Bunting on December 11, 2000. Bunting was an All-ACC linebacker at Carolina in 1971 and played on two bowl teams.

Individually, defensive end Julius Peppers led the nation with 15 sacks, just one shy of the UNC record, and was named a first-team All-America. Peppers did establish a school record with 24 tackles for losses, breaking the mark set by Ekuban in 1998.

Led by Peppers, Carolina's defense posted a school-record 53 sacks and had at least three sacks in every game.

Three-time All-America Dre' Bly led the country with an ACC record 11 interceptions as a red-shirt freshman in 1996.

DON McCAULEY ELECTED TO COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

South Bend, Ind. – Former University of North Carolina halfback Don McCauley was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in April.

McCauley, a letterwinner for the Tar Heels from 1968-70, shattered the Carolina and Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns. His 1,720 yards were an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. That record stood in the ACC for 19 years until 1999 when Thomas Jones rushed for 1,798 yards. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season.

"I realize that in the sector of college football, this is the highest honor and I am truly thankful," said McCauley. "I was fortunate to represent the University of North Carolina both on and off the field and it is an honor to represent Carolina in the College Hall of Fame.

McCauley finished his UNC career with 3,172 yards on 603 carries and scored 29 touchdowns. He was twice named the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fifth in career rushing at Carolina. He was a first-round draft choice in 1971 and played 11 seasons for the Baltimore Colts.

McCauley is the third Carolina player enshrined by the College Football Hall of Fame. The others are Art Weiner and Charlie Justice. Former UNC coaches Carl Snaveley and Jim Tatum are also members.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

GEORGE BARCLAY

Guard, 1934

Barclay was Carolina's first football All-America. The 5-11, 185-pound guard and linebacker was a three-year standout for Chuck Collins and Carl Snively. A fine blocker and an extraordinary tackler, Barclay lined up in the offensive interior next to tackle Jim Tatum. He was captain of the 1934 team which went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as head coach at Carolina for three seasons, from 1953 to 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK

End, 1937

A 185-pound end, Bershak was a two-way performer for the Tar Heels. He was a fine receiver, but was even better on defense. He played two years for Carl Snively and one for Ray Wolf. Bershak, an honor student, was also a basketball starter. He was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

STEVE MARONIC

Tackle, 1938

Maronic was a two-way tackle for the Tar Heels and team co-captain in 1938. He was an "iron man" playing almost 60 minutes in every game that season. He turned in two of his best performances in front of the New York media against NYU at Yankee Stadium and Fordham at the Polo Grounds. Those games solidified his All-America chances. Maronic also was a place-kicker and hit 13 straight PATs in his final season.

PAUL SEVERIN

End, 1939-40

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

CHARLIE JUSTICE

Halfback, 1948-49

Twice a runnerup for the Heisman Trophy, Justice is rated by many as the best all-around player in the history of Southern football. He was a true triple-threat performer, leading Carolina in rushing, passing and punting from 1946 to 1949. He sparked Tar Heel teams which appeared in the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. He was the school's all-time total offense leader with 4,883 yards for more than 40 years and also ranks as the Tar Heels' third-leading career scorer, eighth-leading rusher and 16th-leading passer. He had a career punting average of 42.6 and averaged 14.2 yards on punt returns and 26.6 yards on kickoff returns. Justice is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. In 1948 he received the national player of the year award from the Washington Touchdown Club and was recipient of the Walter Camp Memorial Trophy. (Justice's statistics may be found on page 252)

KEN POWELL

Defensive End, 1949

Powell teamed with Art Weiner to give UNC a formidable pass receiving threat in the post-Wold War II "Justice Era." He was outstanding the 1947 Sugar Bowl against Georgia. Earned first-team All-America honors at defensive end in 1949 by NEA. That organization named Powell to its All-America Team on defense, the first time it selected All-Americans on both offense and defense. He finished his career with 23 receptions for 324 yards and three touchdowns.

ART WEINER

End, 1948-49

A great all-around end, Weiner led the nation in receiving in 1949 with 52 catches. He had been seventh nationally in receiving the previous year with 31 catches. His 106 career catches are the sixth-most in school history and until 1997 he held the UNC career record with 18 touchdown receptions. Many remember him best for a game-saving defensive play on the last snap of the 1949 Duke game. Weiner was named the most outstanding lineman in the Senior Bowl. Weiner was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

IRV HOLDASH Center, 1950

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He perhaps sealed All-America honors in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

AL GOLDSTEIN End, 1958

Outstanding two-way end, Goldstein earned All-America honors in 1958 by making 24 catches for 490 yards, averaging an amazing 20.4 yards per reception. Adept at making the seemingly impossible catch, he had a 68-yard TD reception at Virginia. He also starred defensively and had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Maryland.

BOB LACEY End, 1963

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating the Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the seventh-best in school history.

DON MCCAULEY Halfback, 1970

Don McCauley shattered the Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns, setting marks which still stand. His 1,720 yards was an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season. He was twice the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fifth in career rushing at UNC. He had a lengthy professional career with the Baltimore Colts.

RON RUSNAK Offensive Guard, 1972

Rusnak was a unanimous All-America selection in 1972 as Carolina posted an 11-1 record. At 6-2 and 220 pounds, he did not have the size to play professional football, but Rusnak was a great college player. He was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice, starting on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. In 1972 he won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF Offensive Guard, 1974

Huff was a key man on one of the most explosive units in Carolina history. He was the leader of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels accumulate 4,691 yards in 1974, at the time a school record. The 6-4, 255-pound Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sparked in great part by his play up front, the Tar Heels had two backs rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. Huff was the third player selected in the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

CHARLES WADDELL Tight End, 1974

Waddell rates as one of the best all-around athletes in Carolina history. He won three football letters, two in basketball and one in track. Not only was he a fine receiver at tight end, but he was also a dynamic blocker. He set a school single-game record in 1974 with three touchdown catches against Clemson. He had 41 career catches for 518 yards and seven TDs. His professional career was cut short by a knee injury.

DEE HARDISON

Defensive Tackle, 1977

A two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, Hardison played on one of the top defensive teams in Carolina history. UNC led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total, rushing, passing and scoring defense. A big reason was the play of Hardison, a 6-3, 252-pound tackle who dominated the line of scrimmage all season. After leaving Carolina he began a lengthy NFL career with the Buffalo Bills.

RICKY BARDEN

Defensive Back, 1979

One of the top defensive backs in Carolina history, Barden was a repeat All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 1978 and 1979. Barden made nine career interceptions. He started at cornerback for two years and then was shifted to strong safety for his final year where he broke up nine passes and was the third-leading tackler on the team. His 156 yards on interception returns are the third-most in school history.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR

Outside Linebacker, 1980

From midway in his junior season until the end of his senior year in 1980, Taylor dominated the football field as few defensive players ever had. Now regarded as the finest outside linebacker in the history of the game, Taylor had a remarkable senior season which featured 16 quarterback sacks and six other tackles for losses. In Carolina's only close games in an 11-1 season, Taylor made the game-saving defensive plays against Texas Tech and Clemson. He was a runaway selection as ACC Player of the Year.

RON WOOTEN

Offensive Guard, 1980

Wooten won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1980 as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was the leading vote-getter in the offensive line on the All-ACC team. He was one of the leaders of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels lead the ACC in total offense and which also helped produce two 1,000-yard backs. He went on to become a starting guard with New England in the NFL.

DAVID DRECHSLER

Offensive Guard, 1981-82

Drechsler became Carolina's first two-time All-America since Charlie Justice and Art Weiner when he earned first-team honors in 1981 and 1982. He played every position in the offensive interior during his Carolina career, but settled in at guard. The 6-4, 253-pound Drechsler played on Tar Heel teams which were 37-10-1 and were unbeaten in four bowl games. He also was the winner of a post-graduate scholarship from the NCAA. Drechsler went on to become a starter with the Green Bay Packers until a back injury forced him to give up the game.

WILLIAM FULLER

Defensive Tackle, 1982-83

Fuller is one of just six Carolina players to win first-team All-America honors twice. Although powerfully built at 6-3 and 250 pounds, Fuller's greatest asset was his quickness. He used that quickness to make 13 tackles for losses and six sacks in 1982 and 17 tackles for losses with five sacks the following year. He was the only unanimous choice on the 1983 All-ACC team and is one of just three defensive linemen ever to make All-ACC for three straight years.

BRIAN BLADOS

Offensive Tackle, 1983

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

HARRIS BARTON

Offensive Tackle, 1986

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

HISTORY

PAT CROWLEY

Offensive Guard, 1989

Crowley was a standout offensive guard and a leader of the first of Mack Brown's teams. He won first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1987, 1988 and 1989 and became only the second offensive lineman in conference history to win three all-league honors (Virginia's Jim Dombrowski was the other). He started every game in his college career and helped open the way for a pair of 1,000-yard backs (Derrick Fenner in 1986 and Kennard Martin in 1988). He is one of three Tar Heels to be named first-team All-ACC in three seasons.

in the first half of the season by a knee sprain. Over the last five weeks, however, he averaged 10.8 tackles per game and had 16 tackles for losses for 65 yards, including six sacks for 41 yards, and pressured the quarterback 13 times.

Quite fittingly, Jones capped his career by sacking Arkansas quarterback Barry Lunnery on the Razorbacks' final offensive play in Carolina's 20-10 win in the 1995 Carquest Bowl.

Free Safety, 1993

The first Carolina defensive back to ever receive first-team All-America honors by a major organization, Walker burst onto the scene in 1992 when he was one of the stars of the Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State. Walker blocked two punts in that game, returned one of them for a tying touchdown and set up the game-winning interception with a jarring collision. He was the Defensive MVP of the Peach Bowl. In 1993 he led the Tar Heels with 100 tackles and was the co-leading vote-getter on the All-ACC first team defense. He also blocked four more punts, two of which were recovered in the end zone by Carolina, and was named the National Special Teams Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

MARCUS JONES

Defensive Tackle, 1995

Jones became the first Tar Heel to earn consensus first-team All-America honors since Harris Barton in 1986 and the first defensive lineman since William Fuller in 1982-83. Jones had 25 career sacks and finished with 222 tackles. That included 46 behind the line of scrimmage. He broke Lawrence Taylor's school record for sacks and held that mark until Greg Ellis broke the record in 1997. He was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1995 and earned first-team All-ACC honors for the second straight season. He became the first Tar Heel defender to repeat all-conference selections since Tim Goad in 1986-87. As a senior he had a career-high 94 tackles, despite facing constant double- and triple-team efforts. He registered an ACC-leading 19 tackles for losses for 74 yards, seven of which were quarterback sacks. He was hampered

DRE' BLY

Cornerback, 1996-97

The first freshman to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in ACC history, Bly became just the fifth freshman in NCAA history to be named to the Associated Press All-America first team. He was also a first-team All-America selection by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Football Writers Association of America, The Sporting News and Athlon Sports and a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award as the National Defensive Back of the Year.

He earned Atlantic Coast Conference first-team honors and was the league's Rookie of the Year. He is the only UNC freshman to earn first-team All-America honors. He made two second-half interceptions, broke up two passes and had seven tackles against West Virginia in the 1997 Gator Bowl. Bly led the nation in interceptions and interceptions per game. He set an ACC single-season interceptions record with 11, one more than Bob Sullivan of Maryland had in 10 games in 1965. The Chesapeake, Va. native had three multi-interception games, including three against Georgia Tech, two at Florida State and two at Virginia. In 1997, Bly became the first player in UNC history to repeat consensus first-team All-America honors. He had five interceptions, including one he returned for a touchdown in a comeback win over Virginia. Last year, he set the ACC all-time record with his 20th interception (not counting the two he had in the Gator Bowl). He was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors on three occasions.

He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards allowed in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only three players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team A.P. All-America as a junior. He was named a first-team All-America by CNN.com and was a second-team selection by The Walter Camp Football Foundation, The Associated Press and Football News. Of his 15 sacks, 13 came on the road, including four at Virginia, three at Pittsburgh and two each at Wake Forest, Florida State and Duke. He also scored two touchdowns in 2000, scooping up a fumble at Wake Forest and rumbling 12 yards for a score and returning an interception 27 yards at Duke. A forward on Carolina's basketball team, Peppers averaged 7.1 points and 4.0 rebounds to help the Tar Heels claim a share of the 2000 regular-season ACC championship.

CHARLIE "CHOO CHOO" JUSTICE

Charlie Justice was more than just a great football player. He was a bonafide superstar...a hero...a legend in his own time. He had an impact on his home state that no other athlete had ever had before or few have had since.

During his four years in Chapel Hill, from 1946 to 1949, Justice helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowls. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's No. 1 college football team. The Tar Heels ended that year rated third, the best finish in school history.

It is no wonder then he was held in great esteem by everyone in the state. Certainly, the time was right for a hero like Charlie Justice. World War II had just ended and people wanted to turn their attention to more pleasant things. They wanted someone to help them forget the trauma they had just suffered. So they looked for heroes and they found Charlie Justice.

In his book, They Made the Bell Tower Chime, Bob Quincy summed up Charlie Justice's college career quite succinctly. An excerpt is repeated here:

The Justice era of 1946-49 was the most exciting in Carolina's football history. Charlie was the ringleader of a circus of thrills. He set the pace, but his backing was superb.

The Tar Heels operated from the single wing with the kinds of variations that at times resembled the Harlem Globetrotters' pre-game ball-handling act. The four seasons netted 32 victories, seven losses and two deadlocks, plus three major bowl appearances.

The 170-pound Justice was one of the nation's most sought-after players when he enrolled at Carolina. Some called him the hottest property in the history of football at that time. He had been a standout at Asheville's Lee Edwards High, leading the Maroons to two unbeaten seasons. He was All-Southern two years at Asheville, and as a member of the Shrine Bowl football team in 1942 he scored three touchdowns against South Carolina, a record that still stands.

The Navy became home for Charlie during the war years, and he became a phantom on a pro-studded Bainbridge Navy Squad. After two years of romping for Bainbridge against opponents across the country, he was a target for pro offers from the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington.

Charlie wanted an education, and scouts stayed in pursuit. He chose Chapel Hill after seriously considering South Carolina and Duke. An off-hand remark by Snavely—"I hope he comes out for football"—became a classic understatement.

In the Virginia game his freshman year he gained 170 yards in 17 carries with runs of 18, 40, and 56 yards. He had seen little practice because of a leg injury, but the Cavaliers were certain he carried a spare appendage.

Choo Choo (he acquired the name at Bainbridge when a gob remarked, "He runs along just like a choo choo train.") was excitement. He was all eagerness on the sidelines and all business when he moved into the tailback slot. He thrived on duty, and he was a master of the quick kick, a devastating rusher, a good passer, and a fake artist who could charm a cobra.

Jack Fitch, a thick-legged back who occasionally shared duty with Justice when not playing on the wing, sized up Charlie's style by noting, "Justice has the ability to be running at full speed, stop suddenly, and then be back at full speed almost instantly. He was never regarded as fast in terms of a track man. He had a change of pace that couldn't be matched, and he knew how to follow blockers as well as any back I've ever watched."

The Snavely system called for a spinning fullback, fakes and counter fakes, fullback pass plays and reverses. It was a dashing brand of football made more exciting by players' ability and maturity to accept Snavely's often complicated maneuvers.

A book, "Choo Choo", documents the career of Charlie Justice. He was a folk hero and deserved the special treatment. The great Benny Goodman and the late Johnny Long recorded the Campbell-Beebe song, "All The Way Choo Choo." It sold by the thousands.

Typical of Justice was the Georgia game of 1948. He scored three times against the Bulldogs in a 21-14 triumph, the climax being an 84-yard punt return. At mid-way point that season, the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Justice erased more records than a company of auditors during his four years at UNC. He scored 234 points and passed or ran for

His total offense record of 4,883 yards lasted for 45 years until quarterback Jason Stanicek broke the mark in 1994. Justice, graciously, was on hand to congratulate Stanicek.

Justice seemed to peak when the traditional games were being played. He led the Tar Heels to four straight wins over Duke. He was an All-America mention as a freshman and made many of the major teams as a junior and as a senior. He was runnerup for the Heisman Trophy to Doak Walker of SMU in 1949.

Charlie's finest moment came in the College All-Star Game of 1950 at Chicago's Soldier Field. He was voted the MVP of the game for good reason. The All-Stars walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, led by Steve Van Buren, 17-7. Justice gained 133 yards individually, or 48 more than the Eagles posted as a team. He set up a touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Eddie LeBaron.

CAROLINA'S HONORED JERSEYS

Eighteen former University of North Carolina football players have been honored in a special fashion as their names and jersey numbers have been placed on the facade of Kenan Stadium's upper deck. The most recent – cornerback Dre' Bly – was honored in the fall of 1999.

The men honored include five who have already had their jersey numbers retired. Carolina's consensus first-team All-Americans and any athlete who was named Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year. Consensus All-Americans are those players who made the majority of the first-team selections in any given year.

The players whose names and numbers are honored in Kenan Stadium are:

GEORGE BARCLAY #99

A guard and linebacker from 1932 to 1934, whose number has been retired. He was the school's first football All-America and is a member of the state of North Carolina's Sports Hall of Fame. A guard and linebacker at 5-11, 185 pounds, Barclay was a standout for three seasons under coaches Chuck Collins and Carl Snively. A tremendous blocker and ferocious tackler, he was captain of the 1934 team that went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as UNC's head coach from 1953 until 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK #59

A great two-way end from 1935 to 1937 who was a consensus All-America in 1937. His number has also been retired. Bershak was a brilliant defender and his team's top receiver. He also was a starter on the basketball team and an honor student. Bershak was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

BILL SUTHERLAND #46

A blocking back on the 1946 Sugar Bowl team, whose number has been retired. He died in an auto accident after his freshman year, stunning his teammates and Coach Carl Snively. Sutherland was named one of the Tar Heels' three captains for what would have been his sophomore season and Snively worked to ensure that his number would be retired.

CHARLIE JUSTICE #22

Arguably the most famous and popular athlete in the history of the state. Justice was a consensus All-America and twice runner-up for the Heisman Trophy. During his four seasons, 1946-49, Carolina went to the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. A single-wing tailback, he still holds many of the school's total offense records. In addition, he was a sensational punter and kick returner. He was the 1948 National

ART WEINER #50

An outstanding two-way end from 1946 to 1949, whose number has been retired. Weiner won All-America honors in 1948 and 1949 and was the nation's leading receiver as a senior. He teamed with the legendary Charlie Justice to form perhaps the most potent offensive duo in school history. Voted the top lineman in the Senior Bowl, Weiner is a member of the National Football Hall of Fame. He is still fifth in UNC receptions with 106.

DANNY TALBOTT #10

A star quarterback from 1964 to 1966 and the 1965 ACC Player of the Year under Head Coach Jim Hickey. Talbott led the league in total offense and scoring that season. He had 318 yards of total offense in one game against Georgia, at the time a school record.

DON McCAULEY #23

The ACC Player of the Year as a junior and senior and a consensus All-America in 1970, his final season. McCauley was the first of Carolina's NCAA-record 23 backs to rush for 1,000 yards. He twice led the ACC in rushing with 1,092 yards in 1969 and 1,720 in 1970. That latter total at the time broke O.J.

Simpson's single-season NCAA record. He also led the nation in all-purpose running as a senior and his 126 points that year still is the league record.

RON RUSNAK #62

An offensive guard on three bowl teams from 1970 to 1972 who won unanimous All-America honors in his senior season. At 6-2, 220 pounds, Rusnak wasn't as big as some linemen, but had great technique. He was the cornerstone of the offensive front on the 1972 team, which went 11-1. Rusnak was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. He won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1972 as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF #68

A three-year starter at offensive guard from 1972 to 1974 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Huff was a dynamic blocker at 6-4 and 250 pounds. He was the key figure on the 1974 line which helped Carolina boast a pair of 1,000-yard backs and lead the ACC in total offense, rushing and scoring. Led by Huff, UNC accumulated 4,691 yards, at the time a school record. The Tar Heels were fifth nationally in total offense and ninth in scoring that season. Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference and was the third player selected overall in the 1974 NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

HISTORY

MIKE VOIGHT #44

A hard-running tailback from 1973 to 1976 who was the ACC Player of the Year as both a junior and senior. Voight is second in Carolina history in scoring and rushing with 254 points and 3,971 yards, respectively. He had three 1,000-yard seasons and twice was the top ground-gainer in the ACC. In 1976 he scored 110 points and ran for 1,407 yards, including 261 in his final game — a dramatic 39-38 shootout with Duke.

DEE HARDISON #71

A defensive tackle from 1974 to 1977 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Hardison was the star of one of Carolina's greatest defenses in his final year. He dominated the line of scrimmage all season long as the Tar Heels led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. Carolina also topped the ACC in total, rushing and pass defense that year. No team would lead the league in all four again until Florida State in its 1993 national championship season.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR #98

team three times.

ETHAN HORTON #12

A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Jones led a Tar Heel defense which had the ACC's No. 1 rated total defense in 1995. He finished his career with 222 tackles, including 46 for losses. Jones helped Carolina to four straight bowl invitations and wins in the 1993 Peach and 1995 Carquest Bowls.

BLY

DRE' BLY #31

The Chesapeake, Va., native is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. Bly became the first freshman defensive player in college football history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in 1996. When he repeated consensus honors in 1997, he became the first two-time consensus All-America in UNC football history. In 1998, he set the all-time ACC record for interceptions with 20 and was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly led the nation as a freshman with 11 interceptions in the regular season and added two more pass thefts in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia. Bly was named first-team All-America in 1996 by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, the Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation. In 1997, Bly added five more interceptions and was named All-America by the Associated Press, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers and Football News.

GREG ELLIS #87

A defensive end from 1994 to 1997, Ellis is UNC's all-time leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only three players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

BRIAN SIMMONS #41

An outside linebacker from 1994 to 1997, Simmons was a major contributor in Carolina's rise to the Top 10 in his final two seasons. A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in '97, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team A.P. All-America as a junior. The New Bern, N.C., native finished his career with 36 tackles for losses and 11 sacks.

BRIAN PICCOLO AWARD (ACC's Most Courageous Player)

1971 – Jim Webster, linebacker

James Webster, the Tar Heels' assistant head coach, won the Brian Piccolo Award as the ACC's Most Courageous Player in 1971. Webster injured his neck and his playing days were thought to be over. However, he came back to star in the Tar Heels' final four games and was UNC's Defensive MVP in the 1971 Gator Bowl.

1,000-YARD TRADITION

When Jonathan Linton rushed for 199 yards in Carolina's 50-14 win over Duke in the 1997 regular-season finale, he became the 14th Tar Heel running back to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. Linton finished that 11-1 season with 1,004 yards. UNC players have accomplished the feat 24 times, an NCAA record. The University of Southern California

Johnson and Leon Johnson responded with tandem 1,000-yard seasons in 1993. That was the fourth time in UNC history that not one, but two, players topped the 1,000-yard mark.

Carolina's 24 1,000-yard seasons are more than the next two ACC schools have combined. Virginia is second in number of 1,000-yard seasons with 12 and

Carolina and USC have each had two players rush for 1,000 yards three times—Mike Voight and Kelvin Bryant of the Tar Heels and the Trojans' Charles White and Anthony Davis.

In addition, Carolina's Amos Lawrence had an amazing four 1,000-yard seasons. Lawrence, Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett and New Mexico State's Denvin

NCAA single-season yardage record. McCauley's 1970 season is one of the finest in ACC history. His 1,720 yards, 19 rushing touchdowns, 10 100-yard rushing games, 2,021 all-purpose yards and 126 points all were single-season ACC records. The first UNC back to earn consensus All-America honors since Charlie Justice, McCauley capped his

Those 24 1,000-yard seasons have been achieved in the last 32 years, beginning with Don McCauley, who had back-to-back 1,000-yard campaigns in 1969 and 1970. Linton was the fourth different Tar Heel back to gain 1,000 yards in the 1990s. Natrone Means had 1,030 yards as a sophomore in 1991 and 1,195 yards in leading UNC to nine wins in 1992. In '91, Means topped 1,000 yards on his final carry of the season, a 68-yard touchdown run versus Duke. He vaulted past 1,000 in similar fashion a year later as he reached the magical figure on a wild, 76-yard scoring scamper at Maryland.

Means entered the NFL Draft after his junior year, but Curtis

NC State and Clemson are third with nine. Florida State and Wake Forest each have seven. Georgia Tech and Maryland each have five and Duke has four.

In a 12-year period from 1973 to 1984, Carolina had at least one player break the 1,000-yard mark each season. Three times in that era, the Tar Heels had two tailbacks get 1,000 yards in the same season. It has been rare in college football for a school to produce two 1,000-yard backs in one year. When it has happened it has generally been with option attacks—the veer or the wishbone. But, on all four occasions when Carolina has had a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, the players actually shared the same position—tailback in an I-formation.

Manns are the only major college players ever to hit the 1,000-yard mark four times. Lawrence rushed for a career-high 1,211 yards in 1977 as he earned ACC Rookie of the Year honors. Lawrence didn't even play in the first game that year and still managed to run for over 1,200 yards in just 10 games. He was eighth in the nation in rushing and became the first freshman to ever lead the ACC in a major offensive category.

Lawrence, from Norfolk, Va., added 1,043 yards in 1978, 1,019 yards in 1979 and 1,118 yards and a career-high 11 touchdowns in 1980.

McCauley rushed for 1,720 yards in 1970. At that time it broke O.J. Simpson's all-time brilliant career with a memorable game against Duke as he rushed 47 times for 279 yards and five touchdowns in a 59-36 win over the Blue Devils. One local sportswriter wrote of McCauley's final Kenan Stadium effort, "McCauley's performance against Duke was the greatest one-man show since King Kong climbed the Empire State Building."

Another scribe from the Charlotte Observer wrote, "Don McCauley may be the finest football player the Atlantic Coast Conference has ever seen."

McCauley is one of only two Tar Heel 1,000-yard backs from outside the ACC's geographic area. He is a native of Garden City, N.Y. Linton, from Catasauqua, Pa., added to that short list in 1997.

Bryant, Tyrone Anthony, James Betterson, Ethan Horton, Sammy Johnson, Kennard Martin, Means, Curtis Johnson and Leon Johnson are all North Carolinians. Lawrence and Voight grew up in Virginia, and Derrick Fenner is from Maryland.

Many of Carolina's 1,000-yard rushers went on to successful careers in the professional ranks. McCauley played with the Baltimore Colts for 11 seasons and broke many of the club's rushing and scoring records set by Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore. Bryant was the USFL's Player of the Year in that league's first season. He joined the Washington Redskins in 1986.

Means led the Chargers to the Super Bowl in 1994 and was named to the Pro Bowl. He set the single-season rushing record for the Chargers in just his second season when he compiled 1,350 yards in 1994. Means was second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in rushing yards and he set a Charger record with five consecutive 100-yard games. He was the offensive spark which led Jacksonville to the AFC Championship Game in 1996 in the franchise's second year of existence.

Horton, Sammy Johnson and Leon Johnson were recruited as quarterbacks. All of the others were high school running backs, although McCauley was more highly regarded as a defensive back.

Fenner set the ACC rushing record in 1986 by gaining 328 yards against Virginia, although that mark was surpassed by Wake Forest's John Leach in 1993 against Maryland. Martin had 291 in 1988 against Duke. Lawrence had 286 against Virginia in 1977 and McCauley gained 279 against Duke in 1970. Then comes Voight's 261 against the Blue Devils in 1976. In 1990, Means rushed for 256 yards in the season finale vs. Duke.

The top two single-season efforts ever in the ACC are McCauley's 1,720 yards in 1970 and Voight's 1,407 in 1976.

McCauley and Voight are the only Carolina players to be named ACC Player of the Year in two seasons. McCauley was the top ACC player in 1969 and 1970 and Voight earned that award in 1975 and 1976.

Ethan Horton is the only other UNC player to be named ACC Player of the Year in the same season he rushed for 1,000 yards.

Amos Lawrence is one of only four players in NCAA Division I history to rush for 1,000 yards in each of his four seasons.

Leon Johnson is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to be in the top five in career all-purpose yards, top five in career touchdowns, top five in career scoring, top 10 in career rushing yards and top 10 in career receptions.

He is first in all-purpose yards in league history, second in touchdowns, fourth in scoring, eighth in rushing and tied for 10th in receptions. He scored 50 touchdowns in his career, just one shy of the all-time ACC record held by Ted Brown of N.C. State. He scored 306 points, one of just four players in league history to top the 300-point mark. He and Brown are the only two non-kickers to accomplish that feat.

Linton alternated for much of his career between tailback and fullback. He was a reserve behind Leon Johnson for several years, but then became a standout as a

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

The University of North Carolina has played in 23 postseason bowl games, including seven in the last nine years heading into the 2001 season. The Tar Heels are 11-12 all-time in bowl games and were 5-2 in the 1990s.

UNC is second behind Clemson in bowl appearances among schools that were charter members of the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the Tar Heels have the most appearances of any charter school since the league was formed in 1953.

Carolina's bowl history started with three New Year's Day appearances during the late 1940's when Charlie Justice was the big star of some of the school's greatest teams. Perhaps the most famous of those games was the 1947 Sugar Bowl which matched UNC against Georgia.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced to the UNC 14. Carolina argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score and a 20-10 victory.

Justice was sensational running and punting when the Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl two years later, but Oklahoma won the game, 14-6. Justice also played well in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but Carolina lost to Rice, 27-13.

The Tar Heels' next bowl appearance did not come until 1963, but Ken Willard made the wait worthwhile in sparking a 35-0 win over the Air Force in the Gator Bowl. He ran for 94 yards and scored the opening touchdown to key the runaway victory.

Beginning in 1970 Carolina made 12 bowl trips in 17 years. After dropping a 26-14 decision to Arizona State in the 1970 Peach Bowl, the Tar Heels and Georgia made bowl history in the 1971 Gator Bowl. This is the only time in history brothers have opposed each other as head coaches in a bowl game with Bill Dooley's Tar Heels taking on his brother Vince's Bulldogs. The game was a great defensive struggle with Georgia coming from behind to win, 7-3.

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in 1972 with a dramatic 32-28 win over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic was the big star, completing 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards. It was his 62-yard touchdown pass to Ted Leverenz which gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 halftime lead.

Tech came back to go ahead, 28-24, but

Chris Keldorf was named MVP after Carolina's 42-3 victory over Virginia Tech in the 1998 Gator Bowl.

Vidnovic hit Levcrenz with a 13-yard TD strike with just a minute to play to bring Carolina back. The Tar Heels then sealed the win when tackle Ronnie Robinson dropped Red Raider quarterback Joe Barnes for a safety.

Mike Voight and James Betterson each had big days rushing in the 1974 Sun Bowl, but Carolina couldn't stop the veer attack of Mississippi State. The two teams combined for 901 yards of offense, but the Bulldogs won, 26-24, when the Tar Heels were stopped on a fourth-and-one at their own 43 during a last-minute drive.

Kentucky blanked Carolina, 21-0, in the 1976 Peach Bowl and the following season the Tar Heels dropped a heartbreaking 21-17 decision to Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. Sparked by quarterback Matt Kupec, Carolina had a 17-7 lead in the fourth quarter. But, the Cornhuskers rallied behind the play of reserve quarterback Randy Garcia.

Kupec and Amos Lawrence were the biggest stars in Carolina's 17-15 win over Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl. Lawrence rushed for 118 yards and Kupec hit on 18 of 28 passes.

Lawrence again was the big star in a 16-7 win over Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl. He rushed for 104 yards and had a 59-yard touchdown run. Carolina's other scoring came on a two-yard plunge by Kelvin Bryant and a field goal by Jeff Hayes.

But, the key to this game was a Tar Heel defense which limited the Longhorns to just two first downs and only 36 total yards in the second half. Lawrence Taylor was all over the field making sensational plays, although safety Steve Streater was chosen the game's defensive MVP with an interception, fumble recovery and a 63-yard punt.

In an eerie setting the following year, Carolina defeated Arkansas, 31-27, in the Gator Bowl. The field was shrouded in fog much of the night, making it almost impossible to see the action from the press box. Bryant ran for 148 yards and his backup, Ethan Horton, added 144.

Horton again was the big star in the 1982 Sun Bowl as Carolina came from behind to defeat seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10. Coming off the bench for an injured Bryant, Horton rushed for 119 yards and one touchdown.

The Tar Heel defense was brilliant, making two great goal line stands and shutting down the Texas attack in the second half. Rob Rogers and Brooks Barwick added a pair of field goals despite weather conditions which featured a wind chill factor of 12 degrees and snow throughout the game.

That Sun Bowl game made Carolina the first Atlantic Coast Conference school ever to win four straight bowl games. But, that streak came to an end with a 28-3 loss to Florida State in the 1983 Peach Bowl.

The Tar Heels spotted Arizona a 30-0 lead in the 1986 Aloha Bowl, before putting on a big second-half rally. Torin Dorn finally got Carolina going against a rugged Wildcat defense with an Aloha-record 58-yard touchdown run.

Norris Davis made two big defensive plays, intercepting a pass and blocking a punt. Mark Maye threw to Randy Marriott for a score, but Arizona held on, 30-21.

Following the 1992 season the Tar Heels rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit behind MVPs Natrone Means (128 yards rushing, one TD) and Bracey Walker (two blocked punts, one forced interception) to beat Mississippi State, 21-17, in the Peach Bowl.

Walker picked up his second blocked punt and returned it 41 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 14. Moments later, early in the fourth quarter, Walker broke up a Bulldog pass and Cliff Baskerville intercepted the ball and ran it back 44 yards for the winning score.

The 1993 Tar Heels battled defending national champion Alabama to a 10-10 tie for the first half, but the Tide scored on a pair of 12-play drives of 65 and 66 yards in the second half to record a 24-10 win over Carolina in the Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

UNC quarterback Jason Stanicek set school bowl game records for pass completions (19) and yardage (235) and Corey Holliday established a Tar Heel postseason record for receptions (nine) and receiving yardage (125).

Carolina lost a heartbreaking, 35-31 decision to Texas in the 1994 Sun Bowl despite record-setting performances from several players. The Tar Heels led the Longhorns, 31-21, early in the final quarter but Texas tailback Priest Holmes scored his third and fourth rushing touchdowns of the game in the final six minutes.

UNC quarterback Mike Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two scores, freshman wide receiver Octavus Barnes made nine receptions for 165 yards and wide receiver Marcus Wall added seven catches and returned a fourth quarter punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Thomas established UNC bowl game records for most pass completions and yards and tied bowl game marks for pass attempts and touchdown throws. Barnes set Sun Bowl and Tar Heel records for catches and yards receiving.

Wall set an ACC bowl game record with 227 all-purpose yards. The 82-yard punt return was the third-longest ever in a bowl game.

Leon Johnson established a Tar Heel bowl game record as he rushed for 195 yards in Carolina's 20-10 win over Arkansas in the 1995 Carquest Bowl. The Razorbacks had won the SEC Western Division title. Johnson rushed for 172 yards in the second half, including a 28-yard touchdown run which gave the Tar Heels the lead for good in the third quarter.

Mike Thomas, starting his third career bowl game, iced the win with an 87-yard scoring pass to freshman L.C. Stevens. The reception was the longest in UNC bowl history and the second-longest in Carolina history. It also tied the mark for the fifth-longest passing play in college football bowl history.

Carolina secured a Top 10 national finish following the 1997 season with a 20-13 win over 25th-ranked West Virginia in the Toyota Gator Bowl. Sophomore quarterback Oscar Davenport made his first collegiate start a memorable one as he earned MVP honors by passing for 175 yards and rushing for a touchdown. Davenport was in the lineup because All-ACC quarterback Chris Keldorf had been injured in the regular-season finale.

Carolina compiled 289 yards of total offense against the Mountaineers, who had led the nation in fewest yards allowed per game. Davenport threw an 18-yard touchdown pass to Octavus Barnes in the first quarter and capped a five-play scoring drive late in the second quarter with a 5-yard scoring run.

Freshman cornerback Dre' Bly, the nation's interception leader, picked off a pair of passes in the second half and safety Greg Williams recovered a fumble to thwart another West Virginia drive, as UNC held on for the victory.

The Tar Heels returned to the Gator Bowl following a brilliant 1997 season and thrashed Virginia Tech, 42-3. Keldorf earned Most Valuable Player honors as he threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns. Barnes caught a pair of touchdown passes (62 and 14 yards). Jonathan Linton rushed for 68 yards and a score and caught six passes for 81 yards despite a knee injury he suffered two days before the game and Bly recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown.

The Tar Heels scored 19 points in a 7:14 span midway through the opening half and were never seriously challenged. Carolina's No. 2 nationally-ranked defense held the Hokies to 185 total yards.

The win secured an 11-win season and placed the Tar Heels No. 4 in the final coaches poll and No. 6 in the final Associated Press poll. Defensive coordinator Carl Torbush was in his first game as Carolina's head coach. The longtime assistant coach had taken over as head coach on December 8 after Mack Brown had resigned.

In 1998, the Tar Heels overcame an 0-3 start to the season and rallied for a berth in the Las Vegas Bowl against San Diego State. Despite blustery conditions and near freezing temperatures, the Tar Heels triumphed, 20-13. Freshman quarterback Ronald Curry was the game's Offensive MVP with a game-high 93 rushing yards. He ended the first quarter with a 48-yard touchdown run.

Early in the second quarter, Quinton Savage blocked a punt that David Bomar recovered in the end zone for a touchdown. Savage also blocked a punt in the 1998 Gator Bowl that Bly scooped up and returned for a score.

Punter Brian Schmitz was another standout in the Las Vegas Bowl. Schmitz averaged 44.0 yards on five punts, including a 66-yard howitzer into the wind late in the first half.

The Aztecs threatened to tie after a UNC turnover deep in its own territory in the final two minutes, but linebacker Keith Newman sealed the victory with an interception at the goalline.

It was the fourth consecutive year the Tar Heels held a bowl opponent to 13 or fewer points.

The 1947 Sugar Bowl, which matched Carolina against Georgia, is one of the most famous Tar Heel games of the Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice years and produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive right end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass at the Georgia 24-yard line. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced 52 yards to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score the tying touchdown on a quarterback sneak by Johnny Rauch.

Carolina's lone touchdown came on a Walt Pupa two-yard run following an interception by Tar Heel guard Bob Mitten.

The Tar Heels' last lead at 10-7 came on a Bob Cox field goal.

The Georgia game-winner came on a 67-yard touchdown pass from Trippi to Dan Edwards less than three minutes after the UNC field goal.

The Dawgs' Charley Trippi rushed for 77 yards, while Justice carried 18 times for 37 yards.

Jan. 1, 1949

The Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and were defeated 14-6 by the University of Oklahoma, representing the Big Seven Conference. A record crowd of 85,000 turned out to see the Charlie Justice-led Tar Heels battle Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

Carolina threatened early, advancing via a Justice to Art Weiner 23-yard pass play to the OU 15. Justice's next pass, however, was intercepted by line-backer Myrle Greathouse who rumbled 59 yards to the Carolina 13. Sooners' quarterback Jack Mitchell scored the first points of the day on a two-yard run.

The Heels capitalized on an OU fumble later in the first quarter and Justice marched the team down to the two, from where Hosea Rodgers scored. The conversion was wide right.

Carolina advanced to the OU eight late in the first half, but could not score.

The Sooners regained the lead for good in the third quarter. Quarterback Darrell Royal connected for 37 yards with Frankie Anderson and two plays later, Lindell Pearson ran it in from eight yards out.

Justice was brilliant, rushing for 84 yards and passing for another 57.

1950 COTTON BOWL

Dallas, Texas
Rice 27, Carolina 13
Jan. 1, 1950

Charlie Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but it just wasn't enough as the Tar Heels fell to fifth-ranked Rice, 27-13. The Owls had a 9-1-0 record, while Carolina came in at 7-3 and was ranked 16th.

Rice and Carolina played to a scoreless draw in the opening quarter, but Rice opened the scoring in the second quarter when quarterback Tobin Rote hooked up with Billy Burkhalter for a 44-yard touchdown. Bobby Lantrip's three-yard run built a 14-0 halftime lead, and the Owls kept right on rolling in the third quarter.

On its second possession of the second half, Rice traveled 77 yards in six plays, capped by Rote's 17-yard scoring pass to "Froggie" Williams. Burkhalter made it 27-0 with a 12-yard fourth quarter score.

The Tar Heels got two touchdowns in the final eight minutes. Justice hit Paul Rizzo for a two-yard touchdown pass and then Rizzo ran it in from two yards.

Justice managed 59 yards rushing and another 63 in the air, while Art Weiner led the Tar Heels with five receptions for 41 yards. Billy Hayes topped the UNC rushing attack with 107 yards on 19 carries.

The 1950 Cotton Bowl marked the end of the "Choo-Choo" Justice era that began in 1946. The Tar Heels went 32-9-2 in that time and played in three major bowl games.

1963 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 35, Air Force 0
Dec. 28, 1963

It had been 13 years since Charlie Justice had led Carolina to the 1950 Cotton Bowl, so when the Tar Heels got a chance to play in the 1963 Gator Bowl, they made the most of it. The Tar Heels walloped the Air Force, 35-0.

Ken Willard was the hero of the day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the run-away victory. When Willard wasn't running in this rout, he did his share of the offensive blocking.

Joe Robinson scored on a five-yard pass and also caught a two-yard conversion to give the Tar Heels a 20-0 lead at intermission.

Coach Jim Hickey's Tar Heels had 23 first downs to the Academy's 14, and piled up 370 yards in total offense compared to 260 for the Falcons.

Gary Black completed all six of his passes for 71 yards and one touchdown and he rushed for another score. Junior Edge was good on five of his nine throws for 42 yards.

Carolina finished the season 9-2, its best record in Hickey's eight years at the helm.

Third Annual Peach Bowl

1970 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.
Arizona State 48, Carolina 26
Dec. 30, 1970

The Tar Heels exploded for 26 second quarter points but couldn't hold off Arizona State in the final two quarters as the Sun Devils rallied for an exciting 48-26 victory before 52,126 fans at Grant Field.

Carolina spotted unbeaten ASU 14 points on a pair of touchdowns runs, from eight and 33 yards, by Bob Thomas.

Don McCauley got the Tar Heels on the scoreboard with a one-yard plunge set up by a long pass from Paul Miller to Ricky Lanier. ASU scored on its next series, though, on a 67-yard TD catch by J.D. Hill.

Carolina then scored the final three touchdowns of the first half to go into the intermission with a 26-21 lead. First, Miller passed 37 yards for a score to Tony Blanchard. Then McCauley rushed in from 17 yards out. And finally, the All-America McCauley scored again from four yards.

Arizona State dominated a second half which was played in a heavy Atlanta snowstorm and without Miller, who left with an injury.

Monroe Ely scored twice and Thomas reached the end zone for the third time in the Sun Devils' 27-point second half.

1971 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Georgia 7, Carolina 3
Dec. 31, 1971

For the first time since 1950, the Tar Heels were playing in a bowl game for the second consecutive season. This time, the Tar Heels would fall, 7-3, to the Georgia Bulldogs.

The game produced a bowl first — brothers coaching against each other. Bill Dooley led the Tar Heels and older brother Vince coached the 'Dawgs.

The game was a defensive struggle with all the points coming in the third quarter.

In the opening half, Carolina had the best chance as linebacker Jimmy Webster, voted the Tar Heels' MVP this day, blocked a punt out of bounds at the Georgia 24. A fumble, though, denied Carolina any points.

A pair of long runs by Lewis Jolley brought the Tar Heels down to the Georgia 16 on UNC's first possession of the second half. But a procedure penalty forced the Heels to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Ken Craven.

A 31-yard pass play from Andy Johnson to Roy Hunnicutt set up the Georgia touchdown. Jimmy Poulos, on the very next play following Hunnicutt's catch, took it in for a score from 25 yards. Poulos rushed for 161 yards on the afternoon and was named the Georgia MVP.

1972 SUN BOWL

El Paso, Texas
Carolina 32, Texas Tech 28
Dec. 30, 1972

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic brought the Tar Heels from behind with a late scoring drive which he capped by tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to wingback Ted Leverenz.

That play, with a minute to go in the game, gave UNC a 30-28 lead. Carolina added two points moments later as Ronnie Robinson sacked quarterback Joe Barnes in the end zone.

The Tar Heels led 9-0 in the second quarter on a field goal by Ellis Alexander and touchdown run by Dick Oliver. The Red Raiders rallied, however, for the next 21 points and a 21-9 lead. Vidnovic hit Leverenz for a 62-yard touchdown and Billy Hite carried it in from three yards to reestablish a 24-21 Carolina lead. Tech gained the advantage, 28-24, with 7:41 to play in the game.

Vidnovic completed 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns. Ike Oglesby rushed for 71 yards and Sammy Johnson added 52.

The Red Raiders had a touchdown called back in the second quarter. All-America guard Donald Rives ran a blocked punt back for an apparent score, but Tech was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct and the points were nullified.

1974 SUN BOWL

Mississippi State 26, Carolina 24
Dec. 28, 1974

Despite mounting 402 yards in total offense, the Tar Heels dropped a 26-24 decision to Mississippi State in a record-setting Sun Bowl.

Terry Vitrano's two-yard touchdown with 3:41 remaining was the game-winner. That capped a 16-play, 80-yard drive which lasted nearly seven minutes.

Carolina had taken a 24-20 lead with 10:26 to play on an Ellis Alexander field goal.

The Bulldogs totaled a Sun Bowl record 499 yards in total offense — 455 of those yards came on the ground via the veer offense. Walter Packer rushed for 189 yards, Vitrano added 164 and quarterback Rocky Felker gained another 69.

The Tar Heels also got big ground gains from Mike Voight and James Betterson. Voight picked up 90 yards on 19 carries and Betterson chipped in with 84 on 17 rushes. But Voight was stopped a yard shy of a first down on Carolina's last offensive play of the game. Chris Kupec, who led the nation in pass completion percentage, connected with Jimmy Jerome for 29 yards and a touchdown.

1976 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.

Kentucky 21, Carolina 0

Dec. 31, 1976

Playing without an injured Mike Voight, the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year, the Tar Heels managed just five first downs and 108 yards total offense in a 21-0 loss to Kentucky.

Voight, who had rushed for 1,407 yards, injured his ankle in practice two days before the game when he stepped in a hole going out on a pass play. Ironically, Voight had caught just four passes the entire season.

The teams battled to a tie at the half, but Carolina thought it had put up points in the first quarter. On the Tar Heels' opening drive, Matt Kupec hit split end Walker Lee with a 50-yard touchdown pass, but officials ruled the Tar Heels offside and the play came back.

Early in the third quarter, Kentucky defensive end Bud Diehl knocked the ball from Kupec's grasp and the 'Cats recovered at the UNC 21. That set up the first of three rushing touchdowns by fullback Rod Stewart.

Stewart, who finished with 104 yards and the game's MVP trophy, added fourth quarter scores from 13 and three yards.

Subbing for Voight, freshman Doug Paschal led the Tar Heels with 41 yards rushing.

Nebraska 21, Carolina 17

Dec. 19, 1977

Thirteenth-ranked Nebraska scored two fourth quarter touchdowns and rallied for a 21-17 victory over 13th-rated North Carolina.

Reserve quarterback Randy Garcia came off the Cornhuskers' bench in the final period to toss a pair of touchdown passes, including a 33-yard game-winner to Tim Smith with 3:16 left in the game. That came six plays after Nebraska recovered a fumble at the UNC 43.

Tar Heel quarterback Matt Kupec, voted the game's Most Valuable Player despite the loss, had led the Tar Heels to a 17-7 lead in the third quarter. Kupec, who connected on seven of his 11 passes, threw touchdown passes to Brooks Williams and Bob Loomis. Tom Biddle added Carolina's final points with 4:17 left in the third on a Liberty Bowl record 47-yard field goal.

Carolina led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, allowing just 7.4 points per game through the regular season. Nebraska was the only team to score more than 14 points against UNC all season.

Bill Dooley resigned in January 1978 to accept the dual position of head football coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech.

1979 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 17, Michigan 15
Dec. 28, 1979

Matt Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown and Amos Lawrence rushed for 118 yards to lead North Carolina to a 17-15 win over Michigan.

Trailing 9-0, the Tar Heels rallied for the next 17 points and then held off a Michigan threat late in the game to post the first of Dick Crum's four consecutive bowl wins.

Carolina had two chances early on to score first, but high winds knocked down a pair of Jeff Hayes field goal attempts. Michigan did score first following a turnover and added a 53-yard touchdown reception by Anthony Carter to move ahead 9-0.

Doug Paschal put the Heels on the board with a two-yard touchdown. Early in the third, Kupec engineered a 16-play, 97-yard touchdown drive which culminated in a 12-yard pass to Phil Farris. Hayes added a 32-yard field goal in the fourth for a 17-9 UNC lead.

Michigan, thwarted once already in the fourth when Lawrence Taylor scooped up a loose ball, did manage another Carter touchdown with 1:28 left, but the two-point conversion pass to Carter fell short.

Kupec and Lawrence were named co-Most Valuable Players.

Dec. 31, 1980

Amos Lawrence rushed for 104 yards and one touchdown and the Tar Heel defense allowed just two first downs and 36 total yards in the second half as Carolina played error-free football to defeat Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lawrence, the game's Most Valuable Player, scampered 59 yards for a touchdown on the Tar Heels' fourth play from scrimmage for a 7-0 lead. Following a Texas touchdown in the second quarter by Mike Luck, Carolina regained the advantage for good on a one-yard run by Kelvin Bryant.

Jeff Hayes converted a fumbled punt snap by the Longhorns into a 31-yard field goal with 2:03 to play in the third quarter.

The defense, which allowed 224 yards and 11 Texas first downs in the opening half, dominated the second 30 minutes. UNC safety Steve Streater was named the defensive MVP as he had an interception, recovered a fumble and also boomed a 63-yard punt, longest in Bluebonnet Bowl history.

Carolina's 11-1 record matched the best season in UNC history. The Tar Heels finished ranked eighth by the Associated Press and ninth by UPI.

1981 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 31, Arkansas 27
Dec. 28, 1981

Kelvin Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Ethan Horton added 144 to lead the Tar Heels to a 31-27 victory over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

Bryant and Horton shared Most Valuable Player honors, but it was a key defensive stop by seldom-used freshman Ronnie Snipes which saved the night for Carolina.

After building a 31-10 lead midway through the fourth quarter, Carolina watched as Arkansas rallied for two touchdowns and had the ball again inside Tar Heel territory with less than a minute to play. But on third down, Snipes, who had played just two previous downs in the contest, sacked quarterback Brad Taylor for a 17-yard loss.

The game was deadlocked at 10-10 at the half, but Carolina came right out to open the third quarter and put together a 13-play, 85-yard drive which was capped by Horton's one-yard scoring run.

UNC quarterback Rod Elkins scored on a one-yard sneak on the Tar Heels' next drive. He was set up by a 21-yard run by Horton and a 13-yard scamper by Bryant.

Horton then churned out 42 yards on six plays and went in from four yards out to give the Heels a 31-10 lead with 7:29 to play in the game.

The Razorbacks scored with 5:05 to play, recovered an onside kick and scored again with 2:44 left. UNC punter Jeff Hayes took an intentional safety with 1:44 to play. That gave the ball back to Arkansas and set up Snipes' defensive gem.

1982 SUN BOWL

El Paso, Texas
Carolina 26, Texas 10
Dec. 25, 1982

North Carolina scored the final 23 points of the game in the final quarter and held seventh-ranked Texas to 48 total yards in the second half as the Tar Heels became the first ACC team to win four consecutive bowl games.

Ethan Horton was the offensive star of the game, rushing for 119 yards in the second half as Carolina won 26-10. He replaced injured starter Kelvin Bryant, who totaled 45 yards before leaving the game with an injured ankle.

Trailing 10-3 after three quarters, the Tar Heels vaulted into the lead via three consecutive field goals. Sophomore walk-on Rob Rogers, who had connected from 53 yards in the second quarter, hit a 47-yard field goal with 14:51 to play to narrow the Texas lead to 10-6. Brooks Barwick was then successful from 24 and 42 yards, the latter putting the Heels into the lead at 12-10 with 4:56 left.

Horton tacked on a three-yard touchdown with 2:17 remaining and Mike Wilcher fell on a loose ball in the end zone for another touchdown with 1:35 to play.

The defensive series of the game came five minutes into the third quarter with Texas leading 10-3 and with the ball, third-and-goal at the Carolina one. Two times, Texas fullback Ervin Davis tried to find the end zone, but twice he was hurled back. First, it was Wilcher who made the hit and then on 4th-and-goal, Greg Poole made the stop which changed the game.

The Christmas Day affair was played with intermittent snow flurries and a wind-chill reading that hovered around 12 degrees.

1983 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.
Florida State 28, Carolina 3
Dec. 30, 1983

Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and penalties and turnovers cost the Tar Heels dearly, as the Seminoles whipped Carolina 28-3 in a miserably cold and half-empty Peach Bowl.

Played before only 25,648 fans in low-20 degree temperatures, the Peach Bowl loss snapped the Tar Heels' consecutive bowl-game winning streak at four.

The Seminoles held the Tar Heels' running game to just 32 yards and three first downs. One thousand-yard rushers Ethan Horton and Tyrone Anthony were held to 30 and 27 yards, respectively.

Florida State quarterback Eric Thomas, making his first start, connected with Weegie Thompson on touchdown passes on the 'Noles first two series.

Midway through the second quarter, the Tar Heels fumbled away a punt at their own 16 and FSU converted via a 1-yard touchdown run.

Carolina put up its only points of the day on Brooks Barwick's 36-yard field goal.

The loss was the fourth in the final five games of the season and ended a season in which Carolina had been ranked third in the nation.

1986 ALOHA BOWL

Honolulu, Hawaii
Arizona 30, Carolina 21
Dec. 27, 1986

Arizona converted four North Carolina fumbles into 20 points and then held off a furious Tar Heel rally in the fourth quarter to win the 1986 Aloha Bowl, 30-21.

Carolina dug itself a 30-0 hole and did not put points on the board until freshman tailback Torin Dorn broke a 58-yard touchdown run with 2:19 left in the third quarter.

The Tar Heels fumbled five times in the first three periods and the Wildcats turned them into two touchdowns and two field goals.

Following Dorn's electrifying run, the Tar Heels quickly moved back within striking distance with two more touchdowns in the next seven minutes.

Mark Maye hit Randy Marriott with a six-yard touchdown pass after a Norris Davis interception and then followed a Davis punt block with a two-yard scoring run of his own to narrow the margin to 30-21 with 9:10 to play.

That, however, was as close as Carolina could challenge. A couple of dropped passes thwarted two more Carolina drives.

Dorn was the game's leading ground-gainer, rushing for 101 yards on only seven carries. Maye completed 17 of 34 passes for 171 yards; he hooked up with Eric Starr a game-high seven times for 53 yards.

1993 PEACH BOWL

Atlanta, Ga.

Carolina 21, Mississippi State 17

Jan. 2, 1993

Defensive MVP Bracey Walker blocked consecutive third-quarter punts, returning one of them for the tying touchdown, and forced a fourth quarter interception which Cliff Baskerville returned 44 yards for a touchdown to lead Carolina to a 21-17 Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State.

Walker's heroics capped a fierce second-half comeback in which the Tar Heels came from 14 points behind to score three times, although just once on an offensive possession.

MSU took a two-touchdown lead in the first quarter and had two more scores in the second quarter called back due to holding penalties.

Carolina regrouped at halftime, however, and cut the lead to 14-7 just six plays into the third quarter. Mike Thomas connected with Bucky Brooks for a 53-yard completion on the fourth play of the half and Natrone Means scored from a yard out two snaps later.

Means led the Tar Heel offense with 128 yards rushing and was named the game's Offensive MVP.

Later in the third quarter, Walker blocked a punt but Carolina's field goal try was unsuccessful. On the next series UNC again forced the Bulldogs to punt and this time Walker blocked the kick, picked up the loose ball and raced 24 yards untouched for the tying score.

Early in the final quarter Walker forced a midair loose ball with a jarring hit and Baskerville plucked the ball out of the air and sprinted 44 yards down the left sideline for what proved to be the winning score.

Carolina held off two late MSU rallies to hang on to the lead. Linebacker Kerry Mock's interception stopped one threat at the UNC 17 with 2:32 to play and a fourth-down incompletion with just six seconds left halted the Bulldogs at the Carolina 21-yard line.

1977 LIBERTY BOWL

Dec. 19, 1977

Quarterback Brian Burgdorf threw for two touchdowns and ran for another to lead 18th-ranked and defending national champion Alabama to a 24-10 victory over 11th-ranked Carolina in Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

Corey Holliday caught nine passes for 125 yards and was UNC's MVP.

After a scoreless first period, Alabama took the lead on a 22-yard field goal by Michael Proctor. Carolina quarterback Jason Stanicek then led a seven-play, 80-yard touchdown drive in just 1:36 to take the lead, 7-3, on the ensuing possession. Stanicek hit Holliday with completions of 29 and 22 yards and executed one of his trademark option pitches to freshman tailback Leon Johnson for an 18-yard gain. William Henderson plunged in from a yard out for the lead.

The Crimson Tide went up 10-7 Burgdorf scored from 33 yards out on a quarterback draw.

With 1:44 left before intermission, Stanicek led what would be the final Tar Heel scoring drive. He hit Holliday with passes of 12 and nine yards and Curtis Johnson ran twice for 20 yards before the drive stalled and Tripp Pignetti hit a 23-yard field goal to tie the game at 10.

The Alabama defense was the key to the game, holding UNC to a season-low 42 net yards rushing on 25 carries. Carolina could only muster 40 total yards and four first downs in the second half.

1994 SUN BOWL

El Paso, Texas

Dec. 30, 1994

Priest Holmes rushed for 161 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:17 to play, to lead Texas to a 35-31 win over the Tar Heels before a Sun Bowl record crowd of 50,612.

Holmes' four-touchdown performance wrestled away MVP honors from UNC quarterback Mike Thomas, who had the finest passing day of his career. Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two touchdowns. He set UNC bowl game records for completions and yards and tied the mark with two scoring tosses. He was 15 for 19 in the first half and completed 20 of 29 before a final desperation drive.

Wide receivers Marcus Wall and Octavus Barnes were two more standouts for the Tar Heels. Wall was selected the game's Most Valuable Special Teams Player. He gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 lead in the fourth quarter when he returned a punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Barnes set UNC bowl game records for most catches and yards with nine receptions for 165 yards and one score. The 165 yards were also the most in Sun Bowl history.

With Carolina up, 31-21, Texas quickly went on a 68-yard touchdown drive in only 2:38. On the next series, Texas took over at its own 32 and drove 68 yards in 10 plays for the winning score. Holmes carried the last three plays on the drive for nine, two and finally the five yard touchdown run.

1995 CARQUEST BOWL

Miami, Fla.
Carolina 20, Arkansas 10
Dec. 30, 1995

Leon Johnson rushed for a Carolina bowl record 195 yards and Mike Thomas threw for two scores as the Tar Heels knocked off Arkansas, 20-10, in the Carquest Bowl.

Johnson's 195-yard effort topped the previous high of 148 yards by Kelvin Bryant, also against Arkansas, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Johnson had just 23 yards on eight carries in the first half, but exploded for 172 yards in the second half.

All-America tackle Marcus Jones capped his career with four tackles for losses, including a quarterback sack on Arkansas' last play from scrimmage - his final collegiate play.

Trailing by a touchdown the Tar Heels quickly moved into position to tie the game. On third-and-long quarterback Mike Thomas rolled right, threw back across the field to Ashford, who sprinted around the left flank into the end zone.

The Razorbacks managed to take a 10-7 lead in the third quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Latourette. Two series later Carolina went into the lead for good. On third-and-eight from the 28, Thomas ran the option around the right corner, turned upfield and then pitched the ball to Johnson, who was trailing the play perfectly. Johnson ran untouched for a 28-yard, go-ahead score.

Carolina 20, West Virginia 13
Jan. 1, 1997

Oscar Davenport, starting in place of injured first-team all-conference quarterback Chris Keldorf, completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and one touchdown as Carolina defeated West Virginia 20-13 in the 52nd annual Toyota Gator Bowl. Davenport, who also rushed for one touchdown, was named the game's MVP.

Carolina broke the scoring drought early in the second quarter when Davenport found Octavus Barnes in the back corner of the end zone on an 18-yard pass. As time was running down in the first half, Davenport and Leon Johnson led the Tar Heels on a five-play touchdown drive. Johnson caught a pass for 13 yards and rushed twice for 19 yards in the drive. Davenport scored on a 5-yard option keeper for a 17-3 lead.

West Virginia opened the second-half scoring with a 34-yard touchdown pass to close within seven points. A fumble recovery by Greg Williams ended one WVU threat, but West Virginia had one last chance to tie the game late in the fourth quarter. Carolina stopped the Mountaineers on 4th-and-6 at the UNC 24 with just under two minutes remaining.

Dre' Bly, Carolina's consensus first-team All-America, picked off two second-half passes. Carolina's defense forced four West Virginia turnovers; the Mountaineers had 10 in 11 regular-season games.

1998 GATOR BOWL

Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 42, Virginia Tech 3
Jan. 1, 1998

Chris Keldorf threw for 290 yards and three scores and Carolina's defense and special teams added touchdowns as the Tar Heels pounded Virginia Tech, 42-3, in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

The victory, UNC's most lopsided in a bowl game, secured a No. 4 final ranking in the coaches' poll for the 11-1 Tar Heels. The game was Carl Torbush's first as Carolina's head coach. Torbush, UNC's defensive coordinator the past 10 years, was elevated to head coach on December 8th after Mack Brown accepted the same position at the University of Texas.

Keldorf completed 17 of 28 passes, including touchdown throws of 62 and 14 yards to wide receiver Octavus Barnes and four yards to fullback Jamie Carrick.

Later in the first quarter, Carolina forced Virginia Tech to punt deep in Hokie territory. Quinton Savage blocked the punt and Dre' Bly scooped it up at the 6-yard line and scored for a 16-0 UNC advantage.

One minute and 10 seconds after Bly's touchdown, Ellis fell on a loose ball in the Tech end zone for another touchdown. Carolina scored 16 first-quarter points in the entire regular season, but scored 16 in the first quarter of the Gator Bowl and six more just seven seconds into the second quarter.

TAR HEEL TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'n's heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a hulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalia and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and hall managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.
